Remember

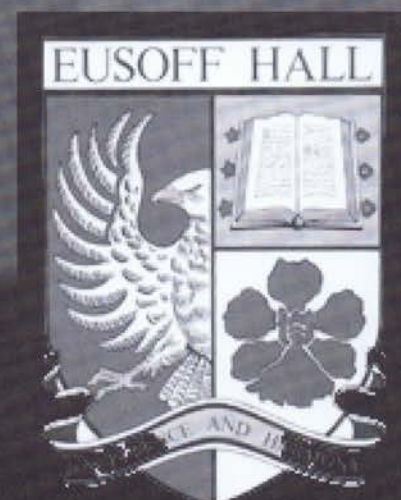

Good memories are for keeping,
where Home my treasures stored.
Who knows what thoughts one may have had
The moment you began to board?

Yet Time speeds by so quickly, and Friends I make so new.
Though each one is so different
I've found that they are true.

So let me take you through the smiles, our cheers their jeers,
The blood, sweat, tears now
Fashioned in this year.

Discover, in your own time
And live my journey,
For this is what makes me
Eusoffian

I'm proud to be.

Eusoff our great hall thee we praise

Swelling forth our proud traditions

We will strive through all our days

Fight to keep the torch ablaze

Lit by those who have gone before us

Now we know thou art deserving

As our seniors knew of yore

Of our loyalty unswerving

Eusoff to the fore

The orchid

A Vanda Miss Joaquim and the national flower of Singapore, is a hardy but delicate flower symbolising stalwart Eusoffian traditions of loyalty, dignity, integrity and honour to hall and nation, balanced with harmony, beauty and grace. The retention of the orchid reminds Eusoffians of the origins of the hall's traditions in Eusoff College.

The eagle

This symbolises the indomitable spirit of all Eusoffians as well as an infatigable desire to attain honour and excellence in all their pursuits.

The open book

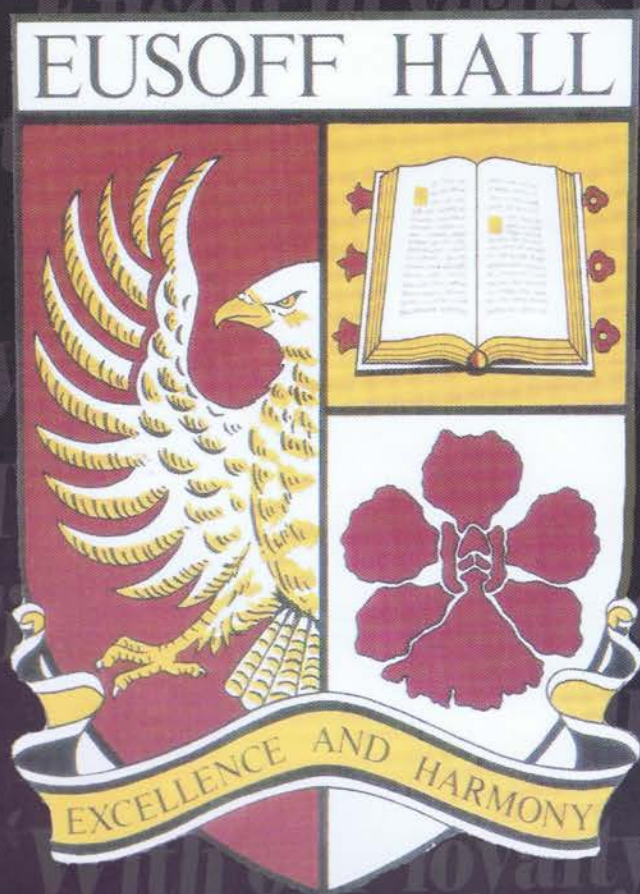

This stands for the unquenchable thirst for knowledge and academic achievement which all Eusoffians seek, a conviction in keeping with the aims of the University.

The colors

Maroon - For courage
Yellow - For magnificence
White - For sincerity

The motto

"Excellence and Harmony" describes the Eusoffians' aspiration to achieve excellence in all their endeavours, be it academic pursuits, community work, or cultural and sporting activities. Yet, the motto is also a reminder that these aspirations are to be accomplished in harmony with the people we work and live with, in harmony with nature and the world we live in.

MASTER'S MESSAGE

This is our 15th year on campus. For the hall and for me personally it is a watershed year as I will be stepping down as Master of our beloved Hall at the end of the tenure of my appointment this academic year. The reason for my stepping down is the university's recent policy to limit the tenure of Masters of Halls to a maximum of 10 years. I have been serving as Master of Eusoff Hall for 15 years now, since its inception in June 1988. Having nurtured the Hall since its birth, it is understandably difficult for me to step down. However, I fully understand the rationale of the university administration in limiting tenures of Masters and resident fellows. I also warmly welcome my worthy successor, A/Prof Tan Wee Tin who has many years of experience as a hall resident fellow and Deputy Master. During the transition months of the handover, I am really impressed with his dedication, personableness, industry and generosity. I have no doubt that the Hall is in very good hands. I call upon all Eusoffians and alumni to fully render your support to our new Master and to the next chapter of our beloved Hall.

As is my usual custom, let me first give an overview of the achievements of the Hall over this academic year. We started off extremely well by winning the Chancellor's Shield for Overall Best Performance in Rag and Flag 2002. Among the halls of residence, this is the most coveted challenge trophy. We also won the Best Flag Collection Shield for collecting the highest collection of $79,000, an outstanding effort given the poor economic climate. As anticipated, our dancers and presenters also won the Best Float Presentation Shield for the Hall. During the year, we staged yet another outstanding dance-drama production called Evermore to a packed-to-capacity audience at the University Cultural Centre. It was an adaptation of Alice in Wonderland featuring original songs, music and choreography by our own Eusoffians. The exquisite costumes and stage props were also hand-crafted by Eusoffians. At the same time, all the proceeds of the production were given to charity.

Eusoff Hall also performed well in the sports arena. Both our sportsmen and women came in a very close first runner-up in the annual Inter Hall Games. Our EH Band (Peroxide) came in 2nd Runner Up in the JamX 02/03 annual band competition. While the above are the more visible acknowledgements of our achievements, there are also the unsung heroes who have contributed just as significantly in community services in the Eusoff Voluntary Corps. To all of you who have contributed to the achievements of the hall this year, I would like to express my deepest appreciation.

As this will be my last message in the EH Yearbook, I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the university for giving me this great opportunity to serve as Master of Eusoff Hall. Even though the buildings were new in 1988, in terms of traditions, Eusoff Hall was not new but a continuation of Eusoff College which was founded in 1958 in the old Bukit Timah campus. Yet, on the new Kent Ridge campus, the new Eusoffians have to blaze a pioneering trail and forge a new reputation for themselves. Generation after generation of Eusoffians have given of their best in leadership, creativity, cultural talents, sports prowess, enterprise and adventuring spirit. This has culminated in the string of achievements and firsts which all Eusoffians can be justifiably proud of. There is no space in this short message to adequately describe these achievements but thankfully they are all recorded for us in this and past EH Yearbooks and Eusoff archives. I would like to thank the Editors and the Yearbook Committees of this and past yearbooks and every member of the archives, photographic and video committees for your fine efforts in faithfully and creatively recording the history of Eusoff Hall as it unfolded. Even though the task of writing articles, taking photographs and videos, and archiving them is so behind-the-scenes, yet it is of paramount importance in preserving for us the legacy that our forerunners have left for us year after year.

I wish to express my deepest gratitude to the present and past members of the JCRC, hall leaders, resident fellows and members of the SCRC for your partnership, unfailing support and wonderful contributions over the past 15 years. I also wish to thank all the present and past hall office staff for their invaluable support. It is my honour to be associated with all of you and with this my hall, my Eusoff

Professor Andrew Tay
Master, Eusoff Hall

A TRIBUTE TO PROFESSOR ANDREW TAY...

This afternoon is definitely an eventful day for Eusoff Hall. We have gathered here to pay tribute to a special man who has devoted and given so much of his life to Eusoff Hall. This extraordinary figure is none other than Professor Andrew Tay. He has been closely associated with many cohorts of hall residents, beginning as a Resident Fellow of Dunearn Road Hostel back in 1976. He was subsequently Resident Fellow of Kent Ridge Hall and Vice-Principal of Eusoff College before assuming the responsibility of Master of Eusoff Hall since the hall's inception in 1988.

Over the years, many students and resident fellows have come and gone through the corridors of this our great beloved hall. Yet, Professor Andrew Tay has been around and had seen them all. From the Eusoff College days at the Bukit Timah campus, to its relocation to the Kent Ridge campus, and finally, evolving to become the excellent Hall that it is today. Indeed, under the mastership of Professor Andrew Tay, Eusoff Hall has excelled in so many ways – be it in committee, voluntary & charity, sports, or cultural activities. The “can do” and entrepreneurial spirit is still very much alive and synonymous with Eusoff Hall. No mountain and I dare say, even Mt. Everest, is too high for us to climb and conquer.

As a resident fellow, I am proud to be associated with Eusoff Hall. I am sure all of us in this room can say the same – we are proud to be Eusoffians. Eusoff Hall, as a community, is great not because of physical facilities, but rather, because of its people, its residents. Over the years, I have seen waves of students coming into the hall as freshman, grown to embrace all that is symbolic of the Eusoff spirit and eventually being recognized for their significant contributions each year at the Merit Award Board dinner. I can see quite a number of you, past winners, present leaders, here with us today. Yet, I dare say that none of us can match the level and consistency of Professor Andrew Tay's devotion and service to the Hall. Indeed, he literally embraced the Hall motto, “Excellence and Harmony” to the extent of naming his first son who was born in 1989, Jin-An, after the hall motto.

Working with him in the SCRC, I have known him to be a man of details - he seems to know every nook and corner of this hall. I have never failed to be amazed by his level of enthusiasm and support for the students. He has also shown tremendous patience and belief in the residents. In my five years of working with him, I have never seen him losing his temper or getting angry with the students. He always places the students' interests first. I had gathered this from first-hand experience. In the past few years, I have been involved in several upgrading projects in the Hall – the common areas, the toilets and the coming massive upgrading of the students' rooms. In all the discussions concerning the work plans, Professor Andrew Tay's priority is very clear – the students! The resident fellows' flat and the master flat will only be renovated only if there are surplus funds.

As a boss, I am sure staff members in the Hall office have a lot of good things to say of Professor Andrew Tay. One thing I have observed is that he is a very caring and compassionate superior. Throughout his term, he has never imposed his authority on us. He looks after the interest, welfare and personal development of his staff. I remember when I first joined the university and the Hall, his advice to me then as a young academic was not to neglect my research. Indeed, as an academic, he has been a fantastic role model for me – the ability to devote so much of his time for the students and yet excel as a researcher and teacher.

He is also a good judge of character, a good leader, and a team builder. One thing that has not been obvious, according to an ex-Resident Fellow, but I believe is true is that Eusoff Hall has always been blessed with a committed and cohesive team of Resident Fellows – both in the past and present. They, together with their family members, shared Professor Andrew Tay's commitment with regards to the students' welfare and passion for the Hall. In no small way, I attribute this to the meticulous and careful selection of the Resident Fellows by Professor Andrew Tay.

Even when he steps down from the mastership of Eusoff Hall this coming May, we will always remember his passion and devotion to the Hall. Professor Andrew Tay, you will always have an honorable place in the memory and history of Eusoff Hall. And we are also confident of one thing – you will not forget us. As the saying goes, "Once an Eusoffian, always an Eusoffian!" As a contestant aptly puts it in the recent D&D pageant, "you can take an Eusoffian out of Eusoff Hall, but you can never take Eusoff Hall out of an Eusoffian".

Professor Andrew Tay, words alone cannot represent and express our sincere gratitude to you. On behalf of the staff members of the hall, the SCRC members, current and past residents, we would like to say a big thank you for sharing your life. Your leadership has made a significant impact to the Eusoff Hall community and to us as individuals. Master, we salute you and wish you success in everything that you put your hands and mind to. Just as you have given your time and life so freely to the Hall, may your God in heaven, who sees all the good works and sacrifices that you have done both in public and in private, richly bless you and your family in all ways.

At the beginning...

2002/03

To many, the period of orientation is too often recollected as one big fuzzy memory. With so many things happening, and even more new faces charging your way within such a short time, the whole experience is over before anything sets in distinctly.

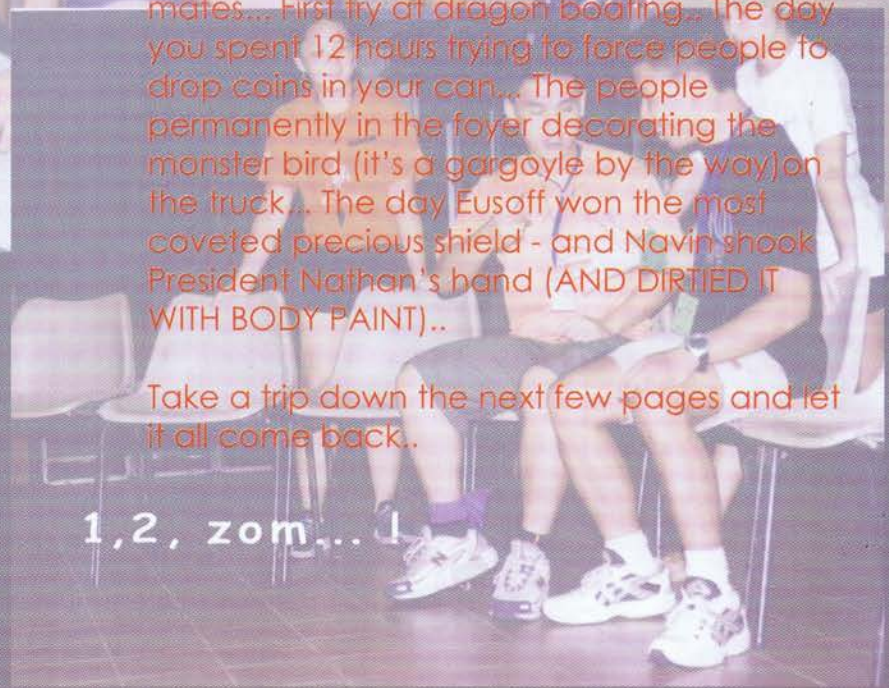

Not too long ago, hall orientations had a reputation for being horribly intensive. "R*ggg" (now a taboo) was a much feared tradition which worked on the concept of bonding freshmen through, erm, adversity. The best part? Orientation was COMPULSORY.

These days, balance has to be made between the xiong-ness and the nuah-ness. Every programme underwent three months of stringent vetting so that they're fun, not too tough - yet challenging (physically and mentally) enough to keep people coming back for more. On top of that, traditional programmes had to maintain the significance of their origins. Freshmen now, not easy to satisfy.

How much of D-Den do you remember - The irritating GIC who would persistently call everyday to bug you... Multinational OG mates... First try at dragon boating... The day you spent 12 hours trying to force people to drop coins in your car... The people permanently in the foyer decorating the monster bird (it's a gargoyle by the way) on the truck... The day Eusoff won the most coveted precious shield - and Navin shook President Nathan's hand (AND DIRTIED IT WITH BODY PAINT)..

Take a trip down the next few pages and let it all come back..

1,2, zom...!

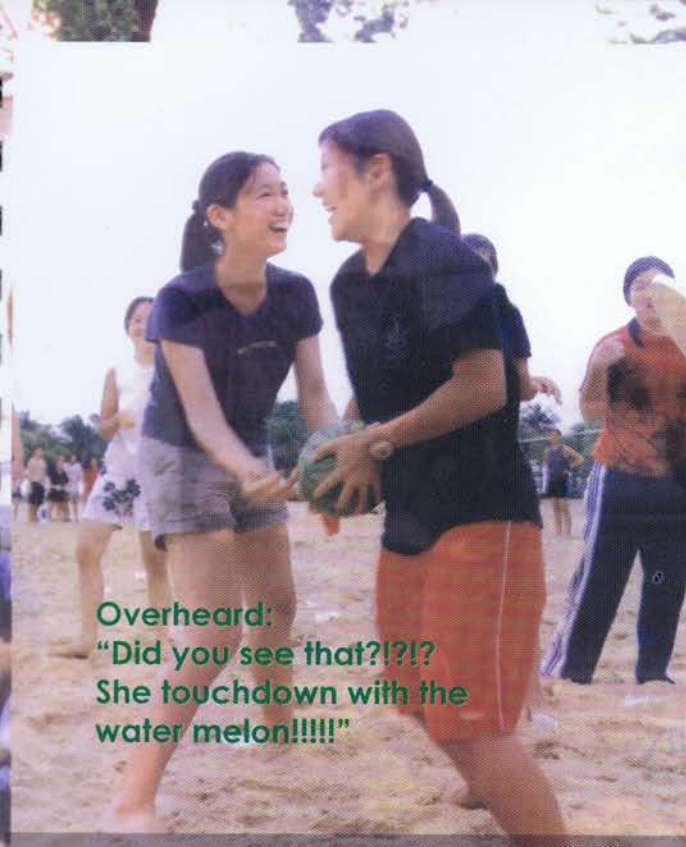

My 'baby' is still here!!

Have you ever stopped wondering how you could possibly lose the egg you hid ever so carefully.. Wrapped in layers of tissue, newspaper, and stashed in a so-obscure-no-one-would-ever-guess corner of your bag.

Behold!! The Immunity Idol!

"My Favourite Senior Girl" - Lila

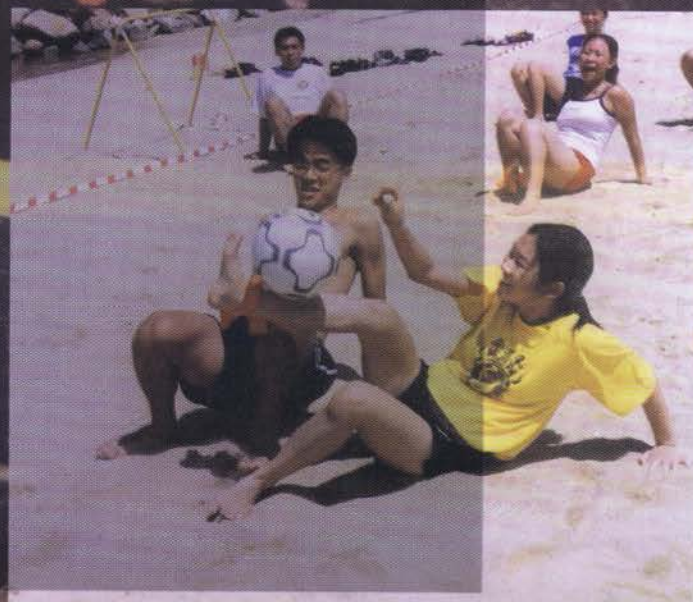

Overheard:
"Did you see that?!?!?
She touchdown with the water melon!!!!!"

SUFFERING (the orange OG) - wins hands down for their enthusiasm...

Useless fact for the day:
The average number of chat time stickers per person in suffering - was more than the cumulated strength of other groups...

If hygiene were a judging criteria for the cooking competition - the group that used the same pair of thongs for charcoal and food wouldn't have stood a chance.. Stop denying it - I saw!!

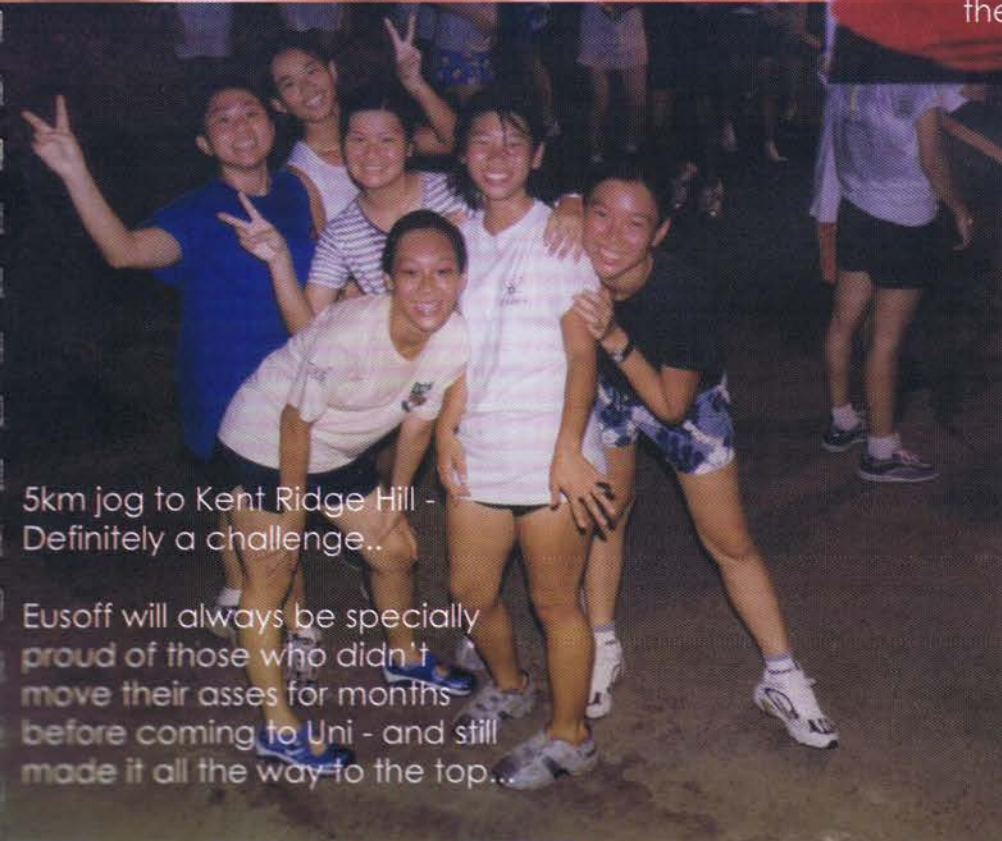

Do you feel strangely emotional to this...

public display of EUSOFFIAN pride...

Them EHOC-ers may look a little too dao sometimes - but yes, they do have their unglam moments.

5km jog to Kent Ridge Hill - Definitely a challenge..

Eusoff will always be specially proud of those who didn't move their asses for months before coming to Uni - and still made it all the way to the top..

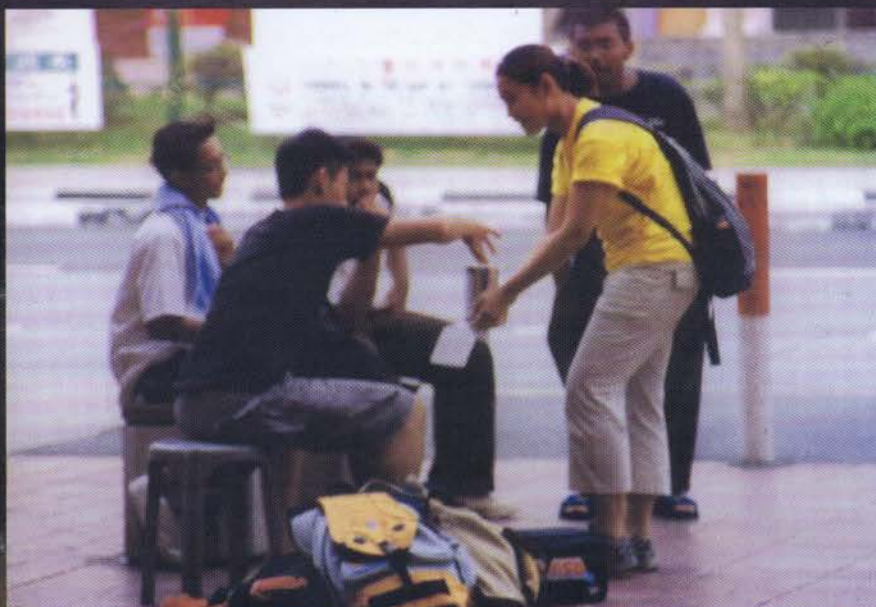

Something ain't looking too correct about this..

Looking at the float on rag day, it's hard to not feel disbelief at how something this massive can be built from scratch - with almost nothing but scrap material. Squeezing all the brain juice dry thinking of a radical new design.. And changing it time and again because in the real world, some of the proportions are impractical... Structuring the mechanisms (how else would those wings flap?!) through time and again of fc*ktreating trial and error. Making the framework of the creature.. Covering it to make it look pretty..

After cutting and folding all that cans and tetrapack for the details on the float - there's no way you'll ever look at a packet/can drink the same way again.

RAG '02

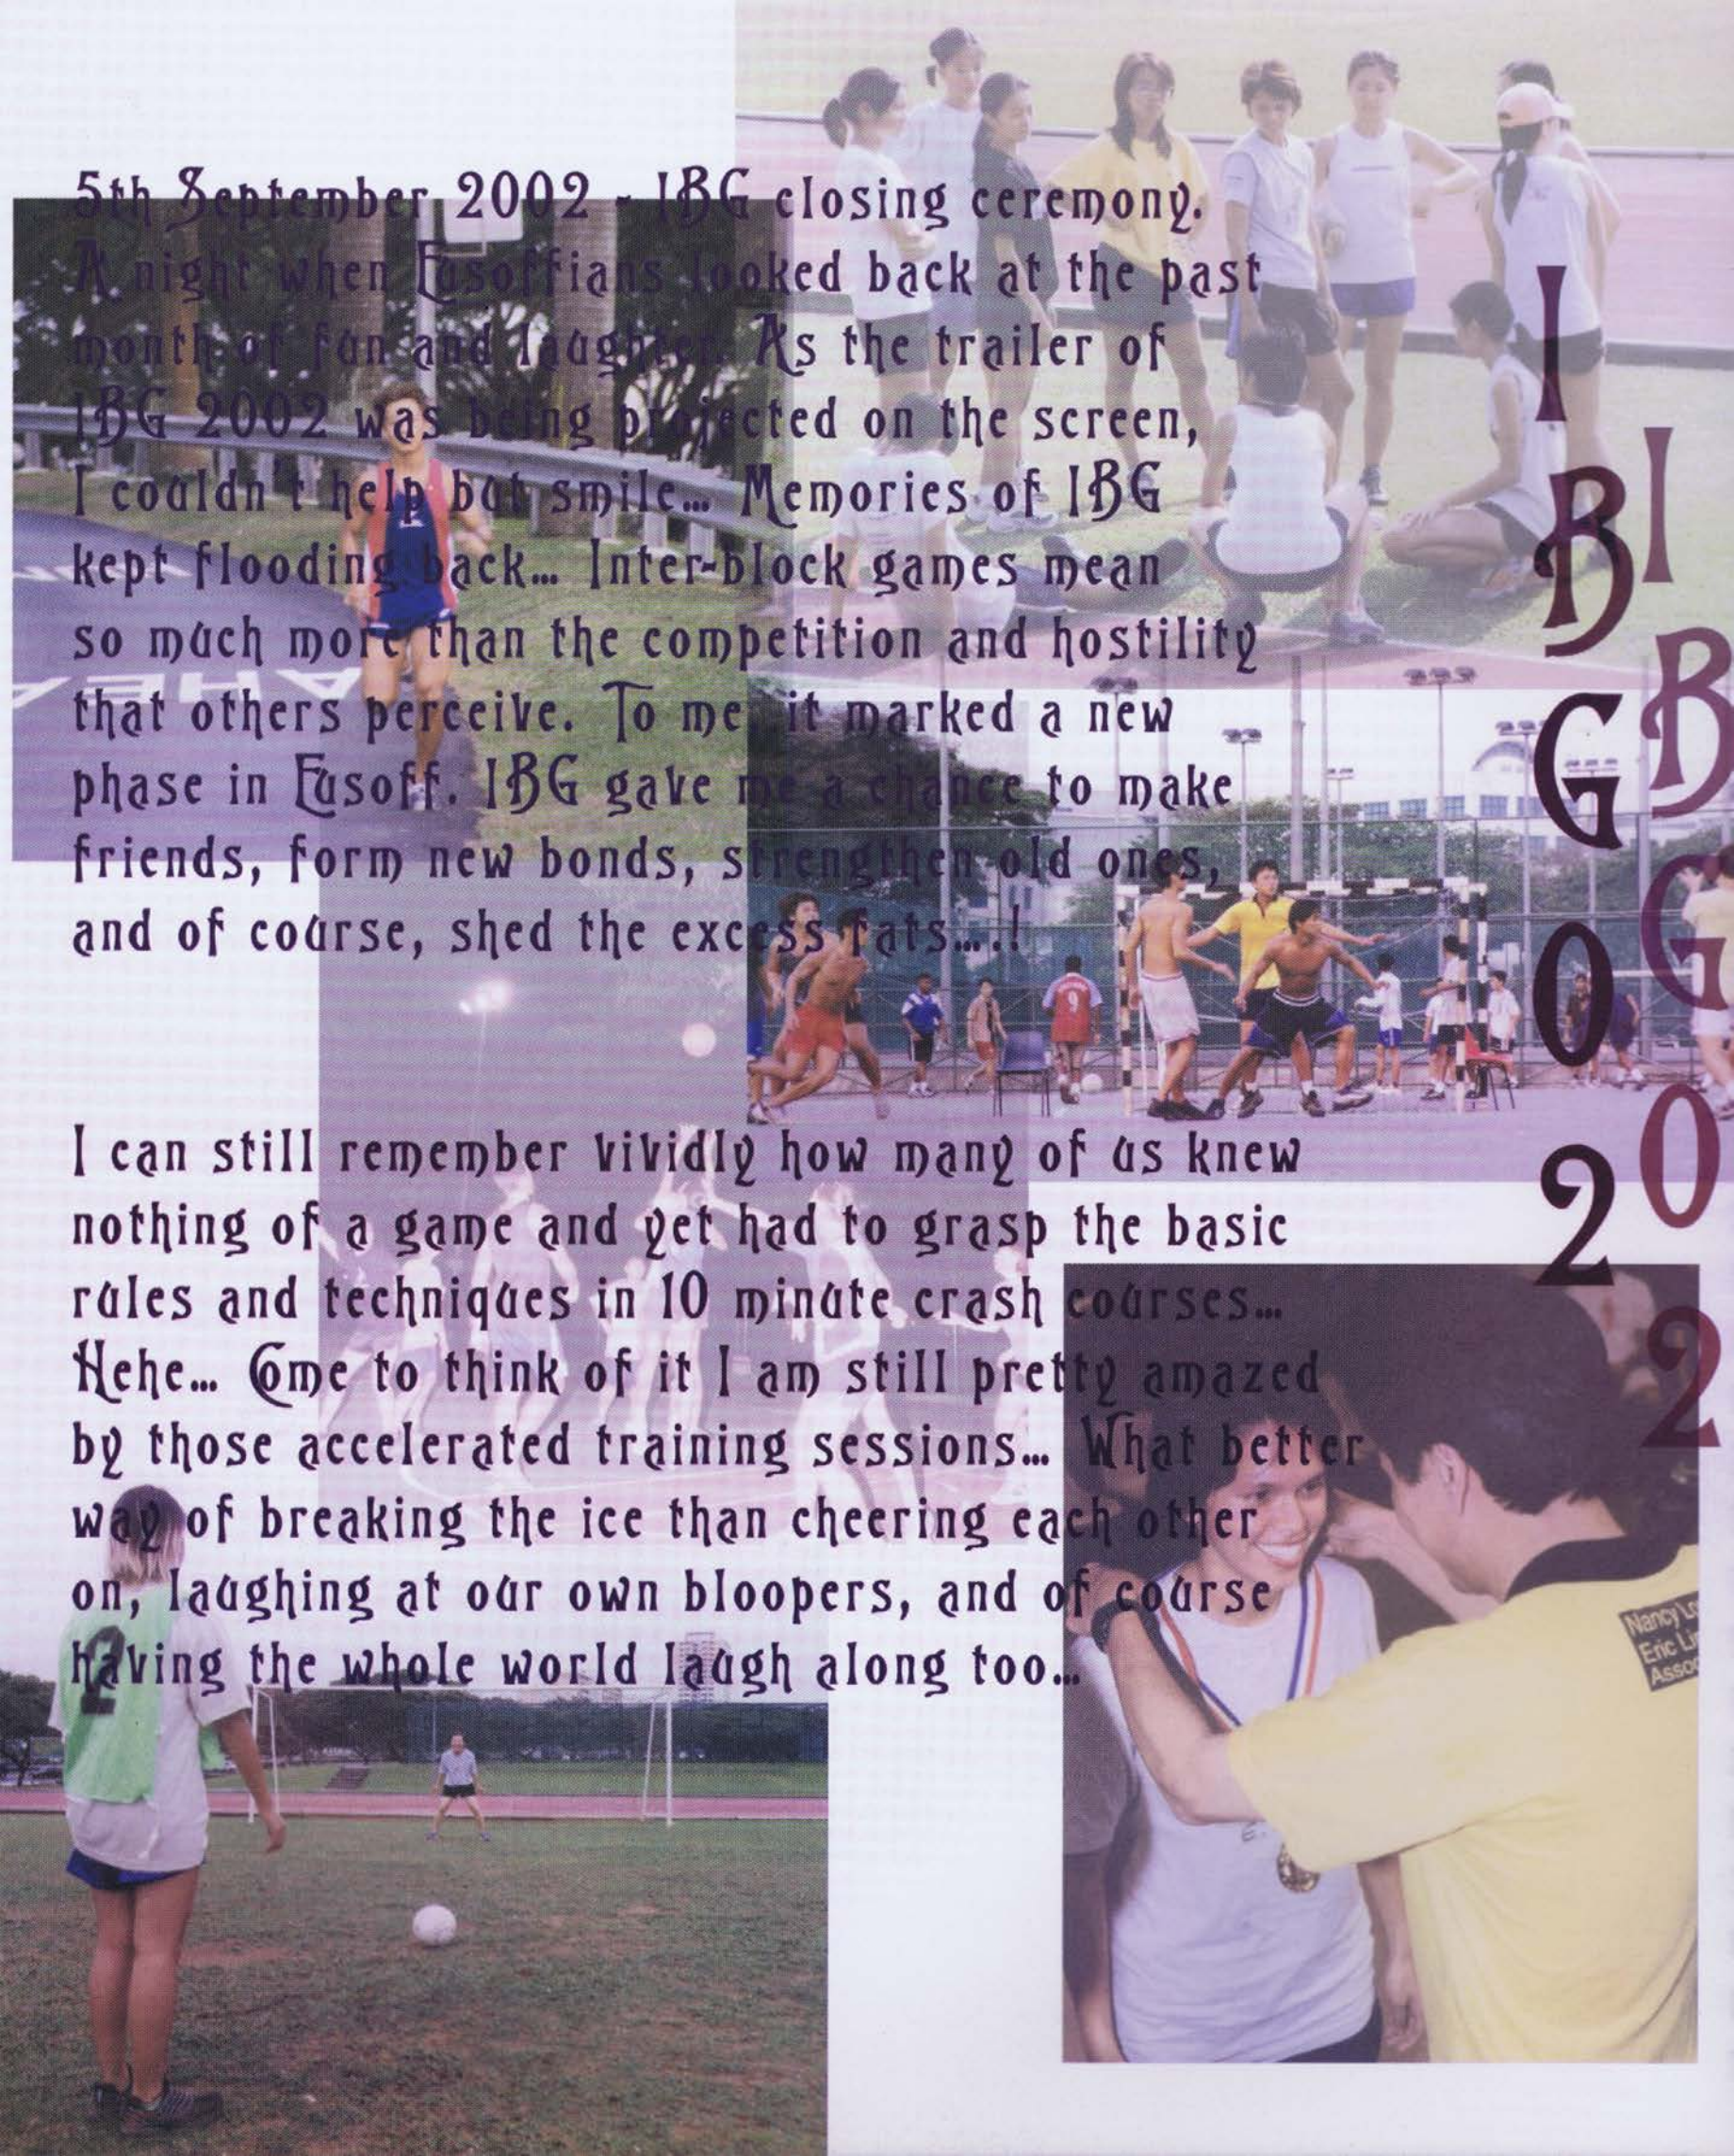

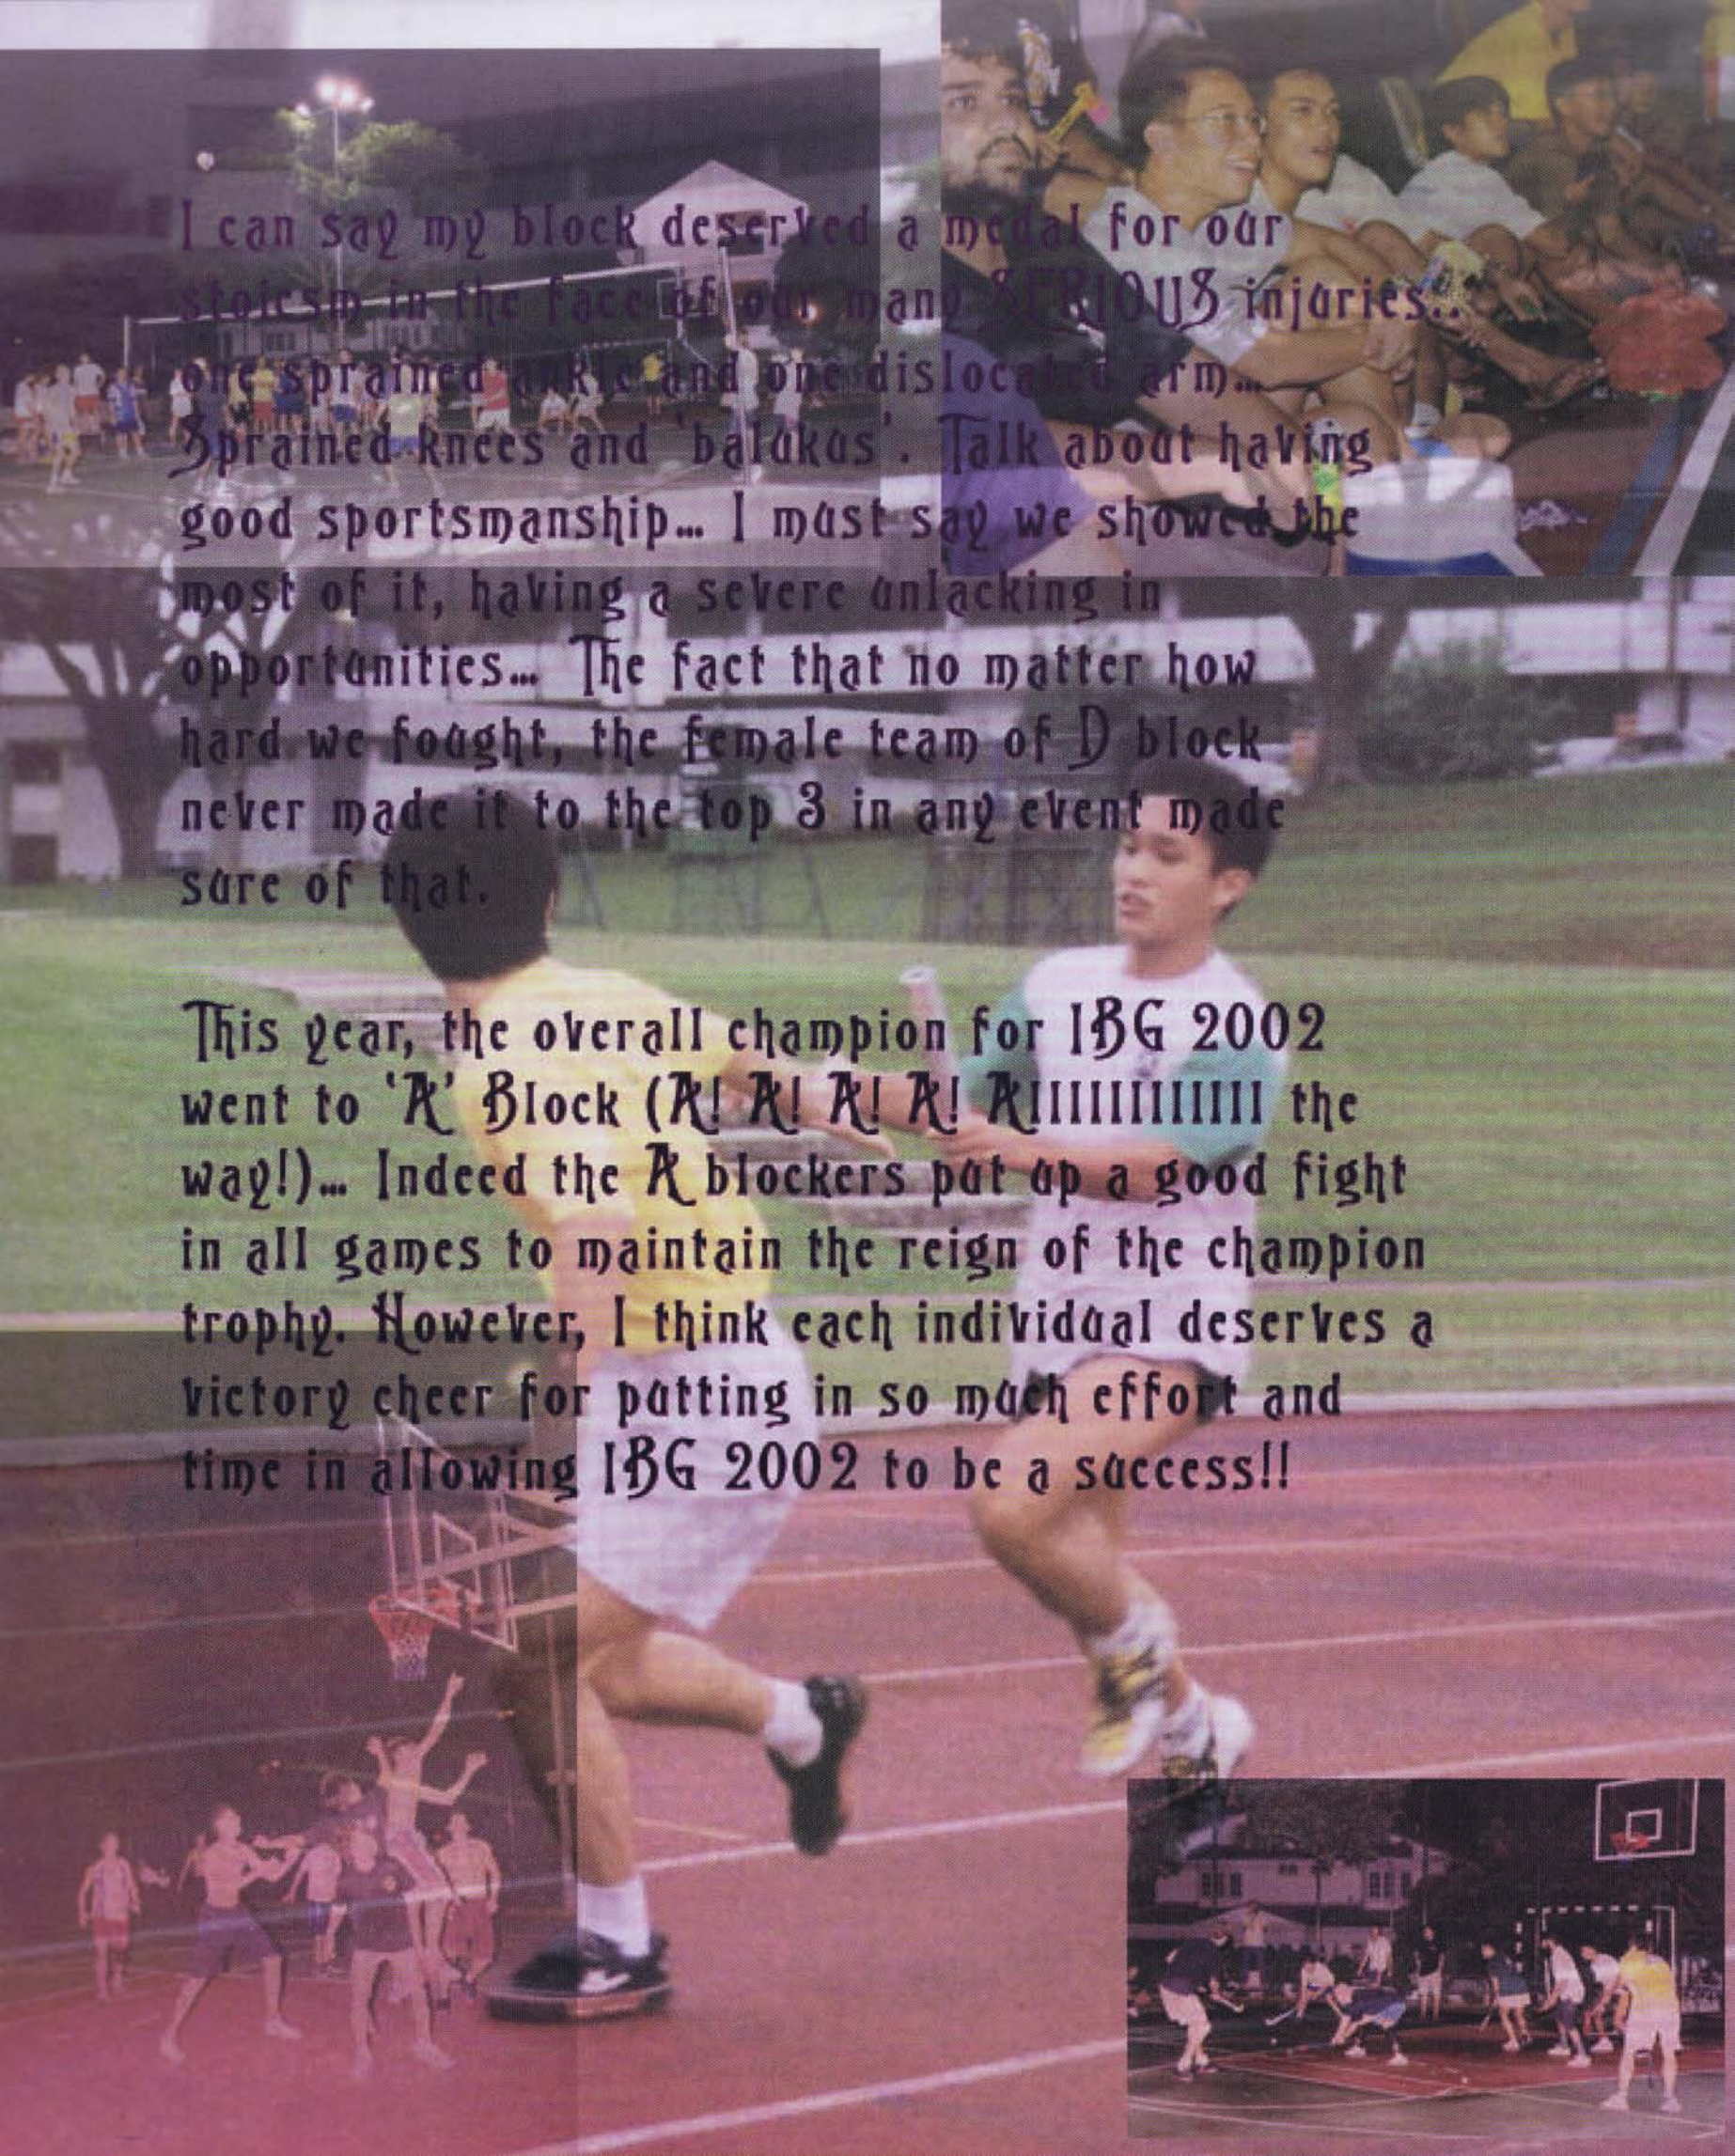

30 odd of us put forth our feet (even those who had both the left ones) to do the swanlake for rag day. The beginning phases of "Wah lau, this is damn gay!" complaints turned to a deeper appreciation for the fancy and bloody brilliant masterpieces of the choreographers as the dance started taking shape. Then, woes about looking decent in the skimpy outfits started setting in (them costumers sure believe in the "less is more" theory). Coordinating and training so many dancers in just a week is no easy task - here's a shoutout to Solyan and Junie - whose wonky indon accent and prettiness respectively made the intensive dance practices an experience worth lots of pride.

5th September 2002 - IBG closing ceremony.
A night when Fusoffians looked back at the past month of fun and laughter. As the trailer of IBG 2002 was being projected on the screen,
I couldn't help but smile... Memories of IBG kept flooding back... Inter-block games mean so much more than the competition and hostility that others perceive. To me, it marked a new phase in Fusoff. IBG gave me a chance to make friends, form new bonds, strengthen old ones, and of course, shed the excess fats...!

I can still remember vividly how many of us knew nothing of a game and yet had to grasp the basic rules and techniques in 10 minute crash courses...
Hehe... Come to think of it I am still pretty amazed by those accelerated training sessions... What better way of breaking the ice than cheering each other on, laughing at our own bloopers, and of course having the whole world laugh along too...

The background of the page is a collage of various sports-related photographs. At the top right, there's a photo of a group of young men sitting together, possibly on a bench, looking towards the camera. Below that, on the right side, is a photo of a basketball game in progress, with players in white and blue uniforms. On the left side, there's a photo of a basketball court with several players. The main text is overlaid on these images.

I can say my block deserved a medal for our stoicism in the face of our many SERIOUS injuries... one sprained ankle and one dislocated arm... Sprained knees and 'balokos'. Talk about having good sportsmanship... I must say we showed the most of it, having a severe unlacking in opportunities... The fact that no matter how hard we fought, the female team of D block never made it to the top 3 in any event made sure of that.

This year, the overall champion for IBG 2002 went to 'K' Block (K! K! K! K! KIIIIIIIIIIII the way!)... Indeed the K blockers put up a good fight in all games to maintain the reign of the champion trophy. However, I think each individual deserves a victory cheer for putting in so much effort and time in allowing IBG 2002 to be a success!!

EUSOFF BAZAAR AT THE FORUM
8th - 10th Sept 2002

"Full-time hostelite, part-time student ...

what do your cards show?"

As the saying goes,

"all good things must come to an end",

with Eusoff Hall's Commencement Dinner, which took place on the 19th of September 2002, marking the end of the stay of some of the graduating seniors here at Eusoff and the beginning of a new year in hall filled with unbeknownst opportunities

Indeed, none of us know what the cards

(what many horoscopic fanatics would moon over) have in store for us.

Watching the seniors in their flowing robes,

listening to their speeches about late night suppers,

Counterstrike games, managing both work and play,

how much they miss Eusoff and want to come back;

I thought of the day I stepped into Eusoff as a freshman, naïve and unaware of the 'dangers' lurking before me, down Eusoff's shady corridors littered with vibrantly-coloured Trail slippers.

Reminiscences and nostalgia aside,

the night began with entertainment from the band, serenading us with their catchy jazz and R&B tunes.

Eager as many were to forge towards the munchies, this was not to be as we sat through the formalities of a Eusoff "formal dinner".

Speeches from our distinguished beings and swearing in of the 15th JCRC added significance to the event.

Our very own hall master, Professor Andrew Tay, summed up much of our lives as hostelites with the commonly used but no doubt apt phrase of "full-time hostelite, part-time student", commending the ongoing excellence of Eusoffians in the academic fields with the many activities they take upon themselves in hall.

A prime example was our Valedictorian for the night, Mr. Kelvin Kee.

Not only did Kelvin manage a first class honours

he topped it off by having been both the 11th JCRC Culture Secretary and the 12th JCRC president.

So, who says hostelites walk around with

"full-time hostelite, part-time student"

stuck on their foreheads, achieving nought in their academic careers here at NUS

but "spend long nights doing a lot of crazy things", as our Valedictorian for the night quipped.

Commencement '03

Still, the honour of the night should go to the lot of people who worked hard and played hard for Eusoff Hall, the lot of people who slogged and triumphed against the harsh 30% senior's comeback ruling. The same lot of people who put a good show, fought the good fight and finished the race – our graduating seniors. Indeed, Eusoff salutes them and together with our 15th JCRC President, Janus Lim, we thank them “for being there when we needed you most”.

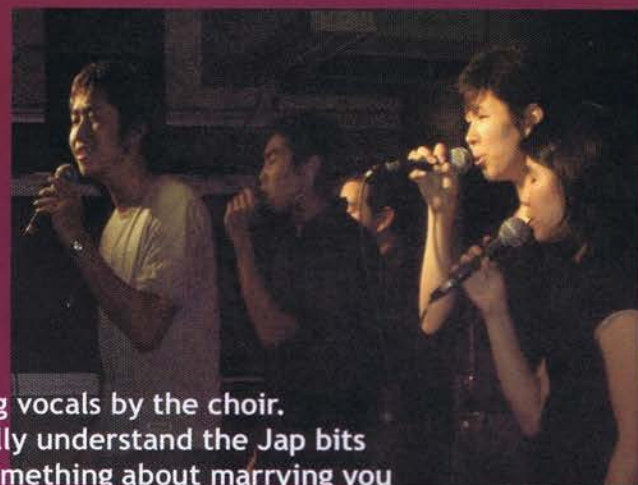

Talentime

There can be no better name for the event organised by the Culture Committee - A night where us Eusoffians were thoroughly entertained by the many hidden (and unexpected) talents of our fellow hall-ies. From melodious crooning, jaw breakingly hilarious comedy, to eye popping dance moves. Only one thing is left to be said about all the presentations that left the audience cheering and wanting more. You guys are damn good.

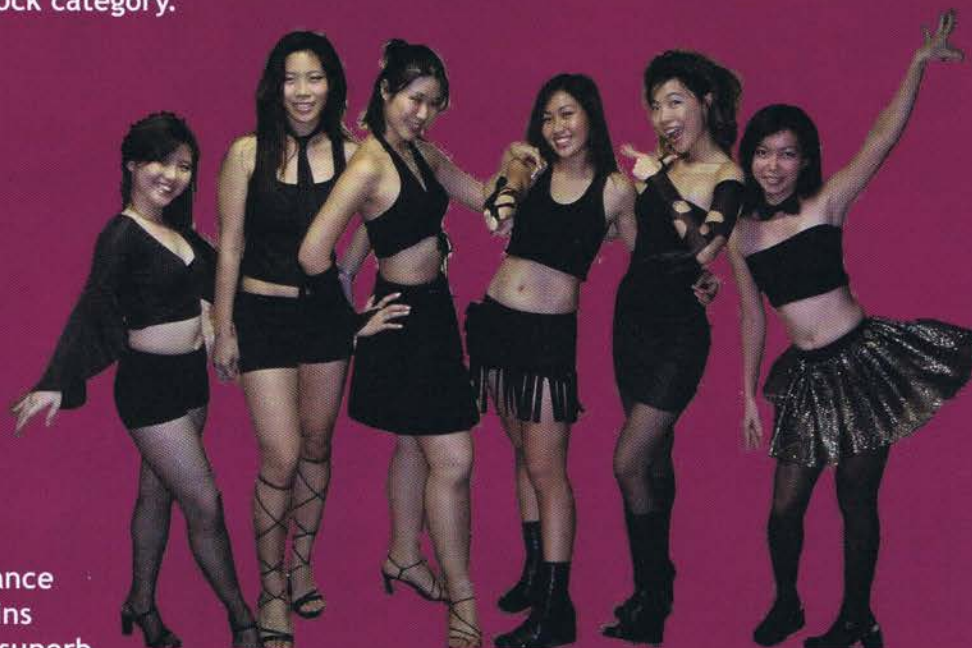

Touching the hearts of many with their forthCOMING act depicting a typical day in B4, B block gains top honours in the inter block category.

Enchanting vocals by the choir. Didn't really understand the Jap bits though (something about marrying you tomorrow?!?!).. But as long as it sounded good.

After the wow-ing performance during DP, Serene once again shows her lung power (and superb keyboarding) with her rendition of Jewel's "Foolish Games". Overheard: "What else can you do? Build a chair...?!"

One major highlight of the night was undoubtedly Cellblock Tango brought to us by the Eusoff Hall Dance Corps - EhDCs, who walked away winners of the open category. They had it coming all along.

Kok Siew and Kenneth with Leslie Cheung's "Zhui". Once again overheard: "But he really sounds more like Andy Lau."

Judges for the night, Dr John Sequira, Sofyan and Betty.

Xinghui with his guitar.

Joe and Alice's journey to Wonderland occurred after the couple met with an accident that plunged them into different regions of wonderland. Lost and separated, they sought each other out, meanwhile rediscovering the love between them.

The tapestry of dance and drama brought through the irreverence of wonderland as much as it defined the emotions one goes through in the real world. The incorporation of familiar wonderland characters like the white rabbit, queen of hearts, caterpillar, each with their alternative human (and rather devious) characteristics weave the surreal into the real, bringing the audience to a fantasy reality at the UCC on 14th February 2003.

Most-Remembered-Will-Go-Down-In-History Quotes

"I said I love men in uniform.
Oh and I do.
Often."

"How dare you!
How dare you
You bitch!
Guards!
Guards!"

"I' m late...
I' m late..
No.
Points to stomach
I' m LATE."

"Joe where are you!
" Alice! I' m here!"
"I can' t see you Joe... This is not funny!"

"I was standing near them at the time."

"Being in wonderland will drive you mad!"

"Yes dear.. Love you!"

Facts that many don't but should know...

The song "Fly Away Girl" is an original composition by the music and sound director Adrian (left).

10 wardrobe "sew-ers" had to make from scratch costumes for 55 dancers with an average of 3 dancers each. That's 165. Not including the costumes for the acting cast.

This 3 stage managers had to manage 40 individual and stage props on either side of the stage, as well as ensure that all 65 cast were curtain-called at the correct times.

To replace an injured dancer, Sofyan had one day to learn all the steps for The Caucus Race. He needed only 20 minutes.

Kersley can do this.

Under the strict discipline of dance directors Ben and Wanqing, 11 cast members emerged unscathed from the be-late-get-fined system. The highest fine was charged $22.

Sarah Anne (the exchange student choreographer + dancer) was dancing with a freshly sprained ankle on D-Day.

This car is real

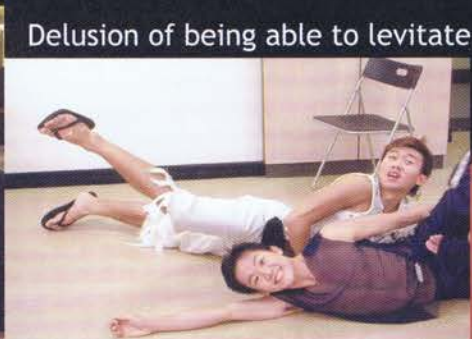

The castle wall backdrop was built brick by brick. Over more than a month. It had to be rebuilt at the UCC for improved aesthetic impact. Within a week.

HARMFUL EFFECTS OF STRESS

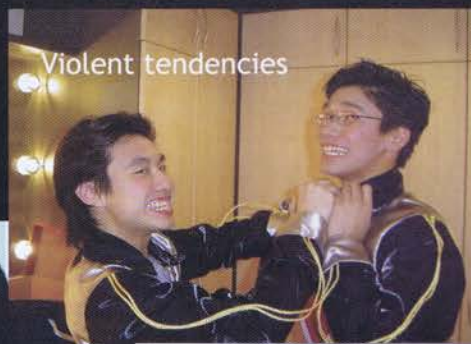

Self mutilation.. And identity crisis

Delusion of being able to levitate

Unexplainable desire to expose oneself

Violent tendencies

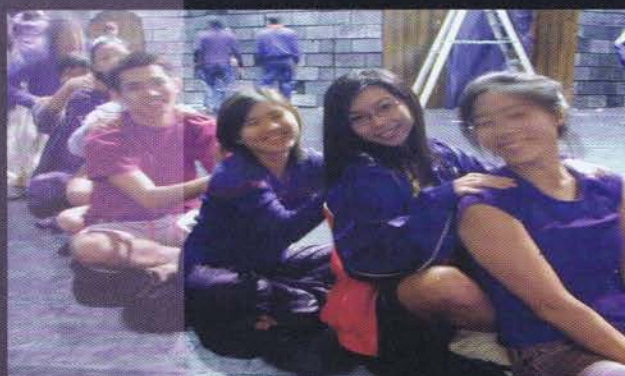

Glazed, detached look.. Sure sign of impending insanity...

Irrational fear

Elliot spurning Betty Kang... Definitely not normal behaviour by human standards..

No green man at the UCC.. But there's still the GREEN ROOM for hanging out... of all colours?!?!

And UCC Dome..

No easy feat manually inflating all these balloons!

Guess how many trips it took moving the whole horde to the UCC?

Every year, doing DP has always left deep impressions on us and this time is definitely no exception. We were very blessed to have an incredibly dedicated and experienced team of people who from the very beginning expected nothing short of the best for the production. For this, we sincerely thank those involved.

This year, in emulating the successes and high standards of previous Dance Productions, Evermore has kept with the similar formula as before. An adaptation of a children's classic, Alice In Wonderland, was told in an eclectic mix of dance and drama. To bring it to greater heights, original compositions were added and sung live on stage by our leads. The delivery of our budding actors and actresses as well as the grace of our dancers left the audience enthralled and wanting more. During the interval, VIPs were overheard commenting that they couldn't wait for the commencement of the second half of this refreshing and high quality performance.

Of course all this would not have been possible without the support of those in the background. Long hours were spent in the design and making of the sets as well as wardrobe. Our marketing campaign was a resounding success, providing us with the much needed funding. The publicity and publications were nothing short of outstanding in producing works of art and hype materials. The technical and video support was superb and all that we could ask for. When all's said and done, Evermore was a remarkable success and everyone who played a part in it performed very well indeed.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Master, Professor Andrew Tay for all the support he has given to this effort and previous dance productions, as well as wish him all the best after retiring from his last year in Euosff. Our heartfelt gratitude also to Dr Ho, our RF advisor, for his valuable advice and guidance. A big thank you also goes out to Janus, our ex-officio, for his neverending assistance. Last but not least, to all our fellow members of the committee, especially the ex-committee, for embarking on this project and sticking by us right through till the end. You people are really more than we could ever ask for.

For the next committee to ponder and reflect upon...

"Dream lofty dreams, and as you dream, so shall you become.
 Your vision is the promise of what you shall one day be;
 your ideal is the prophecy of what you shall at last unveil..."

- James Allen (1864-1912)

yEH Shanghai

Dinner and Dance 2003

Dinner and Dance this year was held at the Grand Copthorne Hotel on 26th March 2003. Themed "yEH Shanghai", many a sporting Eussofian turned up in traditional mandarin garb. Spotted too were the kimono clad, cowboys, Singhs and Kaurs, goth, and even pajamas -- none lacking the glam factor. It was refreshing indeed to see one another so immaculately clothed instead of donning the usual hall yellow singlet with Trail slippers and unkempt hair.

It was a night of immense fun and entertainment. Emcee Justin Missen once again proved to be wonderfully merciless, sending the audience roaring with laughter in our seats. The 'devils' advocate indeed, when Mr and Mr Eusoff Contenders presented their respective versions of the famous kissing scene from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet".

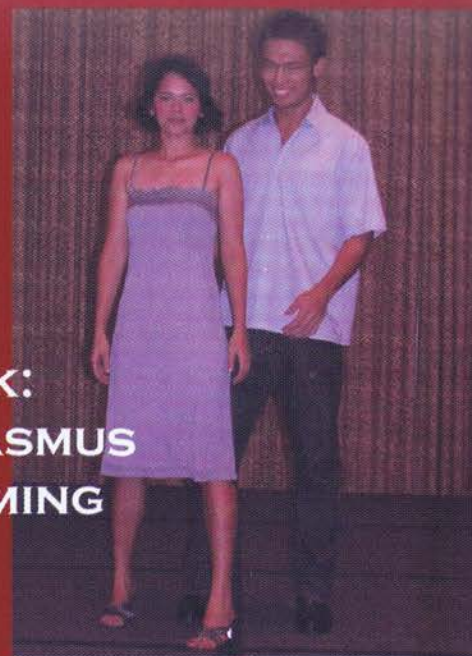

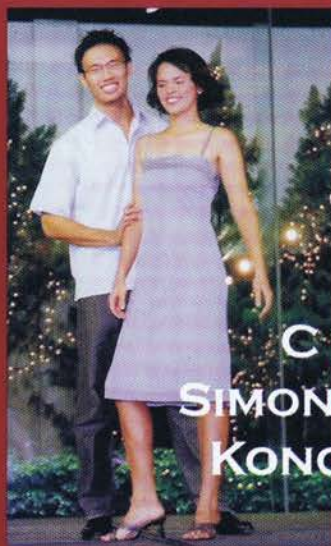

For the record, most deserving Crystin Chiam with every bit of Eusoff in her was crowned Miss Eusoff while Aaron "big brown..." Yang clinched the title of Mr Eusoff. Cheers to the other contestants as well for their splendid acts.

But as we all know, DnD isn't all about the pageant...
Also spotted that night...

The fairy princess..
Complete with dress and wand...

The Shangri-la doormen from A4...
And their businessmen friends from Shanghai of yesteryears...

The cowboy

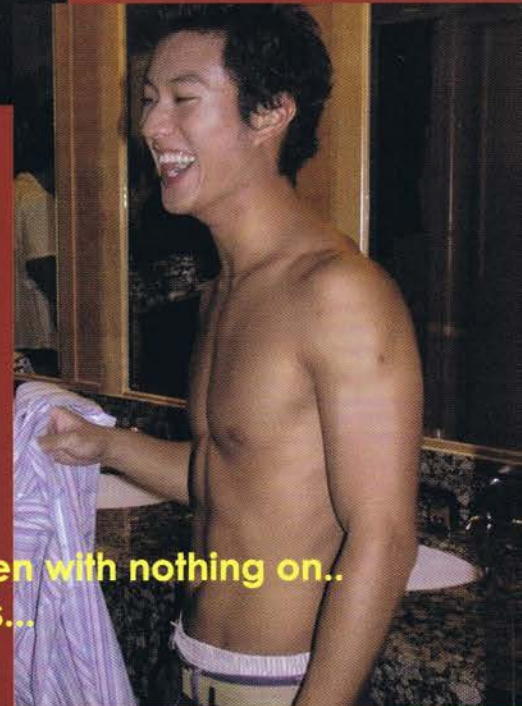

The family to be..
Ok, maybe this isn't relevant.

Our votes for best dressed of the night but i must say we're curious why anyone would own garb like that...

People who look even with nothing on..
Check out those abs...

Pugilistic master from Shaolin and his Chinese mafia friend..
Or is it Indian...?

SO-TO-DAY

For the second time, I write a valedictory article but for the last time this time surely. Hopefully, it will make interesting and insightful reading for those who have graciously chosen to read this piece. Many seniors dispense with this opportunity to put their thoughts into words but I think it's a valuable chance and a recognition of the work put in by the Yearbook committee, hence I hope those who may find the time to peruse my literary piece benefit from the wisdom of past experience. After all, "the word is half his that speaks and half his that hears it."

Despite this being my last year in Eusoff, it has also been my most memorable and wonderful one. Frankly, it has been quite unexpected, I thought my final year would pass quite quietly and uneventfully but it has turned out to be a climax of sorts. And a large part of that is due to the soccer team and my B4 brethren.

In both, I have found unique and fulfilling experiences that have added to my life experience most positively. In many ways, they also encapsulate the beauty of hall life. In the soccer team, I found fire, desire and team spirit - a genuine desire to want to do well and give it our all. Although we lost the Final; training, fooling around and fighting alongside my team mates was one of the most enjoyable and heartfelt experiences I have had. Undoubtedly, I will miss playing soccer with such a nice team of chums.

In my B4 brothers, I finally found THE best gang of neighbours! For three years, I had good neighbours but they were nothing like the B4 short wing! We were zany, nice, daring, dumb and ingenious all at the same time! Absolutely nuts at times but totally enjoyable all the time! Words cannot describe the beauty of living each day and sharing so much with them. We "decorated" our wing to truly asounding standards and I will really miss the corridor. Not to mention our unforgettable performance of "Come What May" at the Talentime this year - that was a real howler! My neighbours always advised me or helped me readily when asked. It was such a joy living with them, having supper together and making fools of ourselves for the fun of it! I will undoubtedly miss those blokes, but we will treasure our memories and try to relive them every once in a while.

Why stay in hall when one can stay at home? Well, those are the reasons why! Because you will experience so much more life and fun when you live in a hall. You meet sweet, pretty maidens, chummy guy friends and have a real ball of a time! Living in hall allows you to live your life and spend your time as you like, constantly surrounded by friends. What more could one ask for in an undergraduate experience?

Each Day Is A Scholar Of Tomorrow

To Be A Hedonist

Seek not just glory or victory,
For higher ideals do exist.
Though at times contradictory,
For what is right - persist.
While still in this dormitory,
Be life's alchemist.
For he who is exploratory,
Sees through fog and mist.
Embrace the life not perfunctory,
And your life with joys consist.
Be not just a fragment of history,
Aim to be a hedonist!

After 4 eventful years in Eusoff, I will graduate a wiser, better, more complete person. I will miss my friends - people who I see everyday for meals to those I see once in a while but who bring such joy. Without them and my experience in Eusoff, I would have been a far poorer person in many ways. If there is one advice I could give, it would be this. Be aware of who and what and where you are, and make the most out of every moment you have, because once over, some things can never be bought. It is essential to treasure the fact that you live in Eusoff and have at your disposal a plethora of life choices and resources to make yourself a better person. Make the most out of it and emerge a better person in the way you deem fit. For me, I can but console myself with the following, "Joys too exquisite to last, and yet more exquisite when past".

I had the privilege of knowing how lucky I was and squeezed every last drop out of my 4 years here, do the same for yourself. Thank you for everything Eusoff! I truly love this hall!!

It's funny how I ended up in Ensoff.... never intended to reside in hall since I live 15 minutes from NUS and had a wide circle of friends outside school.

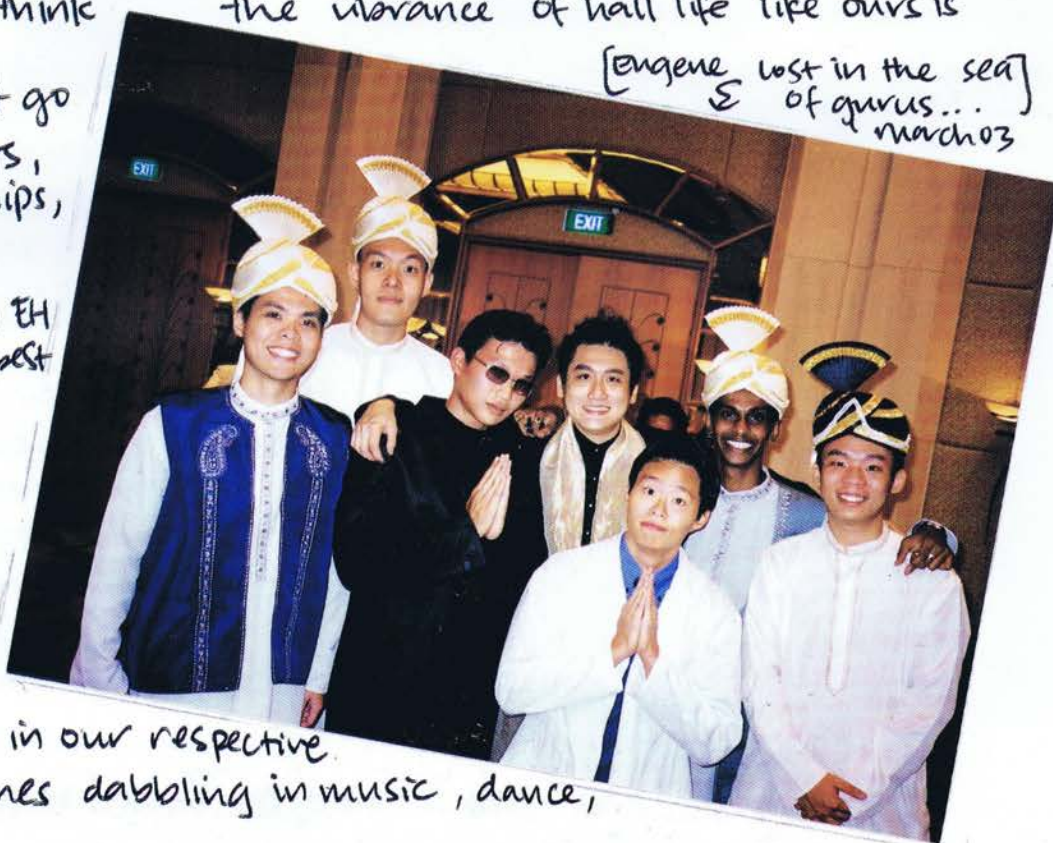

It all happened when a former teammate of mine asked me to stay in Ensoff and play softball, which used to be an IHG sport.... interested in having a bunk to chuck my books and nap during the long breaks of my Arts & Soc. Course, I agreed.

Did the standard routine of skipping orientation, and to my dismay found that by the time I moved-in in August that everyone knew each other already. Thankfully, I clicked readily with my neighbors and had a few college friends that brought me into the fold.

I can only describe me taking to EH life like how kinder is set on fire. I think the tolerance of hall life like ours is something every undergrad must go through. The sports, culture, friendships, and avarice!

It is only in EH that we see the best of young adults maximizing and exploring their abilities in realms that would otherwise remain only in our dreams.

All of us, training in our respective academic disciplines dabbling in music, dance, drama, marketing and sports.

I find writing this much belated, having moved out ~~at~~ ¹ semester ago, and gradually weaning myself out of hall life already in my last sem.... hoping that might make the pain of acclimatization that much easier. Much of the passion can no longer put in words but is still felt deeply within.... along with the silent wish that I could relive my Ensoff days and do what I did, and more.

And it is a part of Ensoff etched in me that I hand the torch to those more young and vigorous to carry.

I will forever treasure the victory and defeat, comradeship and love felt as a member of the yellow tide, within the walls of Ensoff.

CURRENTLY: Trying to graduate in one piece.

As some might know, I came even later, as a new senior in my third year. By then, some of my friends had moved on, while some remained in Ensoff. My neighbors were new too and we got on well. What really made it all matter was when I was given the chance to take part in the committees and teams that I applied for. Despite being in my third year, I didn't want to just relax in school, go for classes and then go back to hall to sleep.

The whirlwind began and the whole Ensoff adventure unfolded.

I did write an entry in last year's yearbook, expecting to graduate. I've continued my studies for another year and this time, I'm leaving school for good. I do not believe that I'm 'leaving' Ensoff for good too.

It's only been ~~two~~ two years compared to those who knew Ensoff all their undergraduate life. But I've met many intelligent friends, great and talented people, sincere and fun-loving neighbors. Great bonds of friendship and admiration for the people that have crossed my path. I can't imagine any instance in my life where such a great concentration of strong people will come together again, so I know that I'll cherish what I've come to love and believe in this hall.

Ensoff has given great opportunities, pushed me to my limits at times, all to show that it is such strength and passion for life, fun and work that has led every Ensoffian to hold their head high when they say they are from Ensoff. That will be the case for me too.

The future holds much excitement + challenges and I'm not reluctant to leave hall. For I hold on to all those memories and lessons, tears and joy. I encourage all who truly want the experience of your life to contribute and participate wholeheartedly. There's much to be enjoyed, experienced, learnt, cry for and fight for in this home we call Ensoff.

I still can't believe it sometimes that I have actually stayed in hall for whole 3 years! I remember how competitive it used to be when I was a freshie then. And the fact that you are an international student make matters worst as there are only limited rooms for us. I was so sure to pack up and leave after my 1st year but hey, I stayed for a good 3 years (in the same block, same room!). I've seen so many people on my floor come and go. But I am really fortunate to have a bunch of really good friends that have stayed with me through out these years. Therefore, I would like to take this opportunity to thank a few people that have, in one way or another, helped me get through my uni days.

To Whai Fung, Ooi Yoke, Meng Hong and Morgan

A very big thank you for always being there for me, taking care and supporting me, listening to my endless craps and complaints and mostly, THANK YOU for all the words of encouragement and such wonderful friendship! I will never forget our JB trips on weekends, Teluk Intan, Genting, IPoh and KL trips (together with Tze kern & Chen way) 😊 Love you all!!

To Xiaoli, Tze kern, Wei seng, Chen way, Shen Li, Gail, Shwu Ying, Wendy Khong, Carolyn, Melissa Surya, Catherine Hostiani, Valerie

Although the time that we spent together in hall was short, I still wanna thank you for all the wonderful "freshie" memories and the great time spent together.

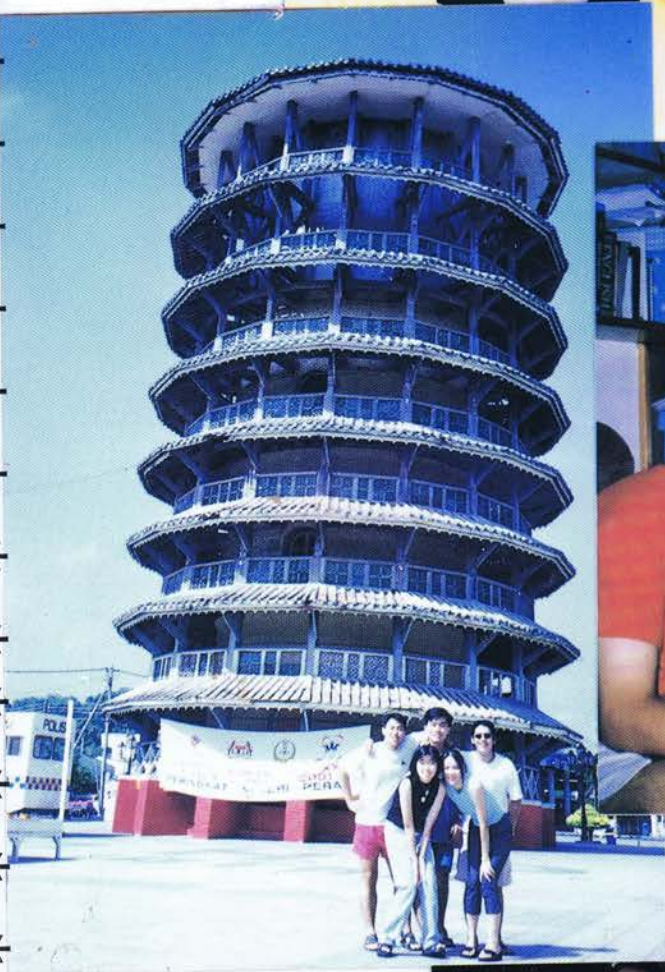

To my cousin (Euyen), Harn Ni, Siew Min, Fui Ling, Mei Peng, Cat Hui & Alvin, Sharon Liu, Wan Ling, Lila, Bernard, Yu Xi, Mei mei, Marilyn, Su Leen, Fong Yee, Lay Mun, ...! , D2 power girls - Boon, Princess Sharon & Jane

Thank you all for the fun times in hall/D block & your wonderful friendships! 😊

I wouldn't have made it through without you guys & I will always treasure the memories & time spent with each and everyone of you. Last but not least, I would like to thank Ivan ... for being my biggest support pillar and for loving me. THANK YOU!!

ALL I CAN THINK OF IS, 'GAY! I'M GRADUATING!!' 😊
Thus with incurable cynicism, I'm going to bid everybody fare well.
Well, I'm gonna miss my D3 Sisterhood. Sihui, Eileen, Pri3, Joy, Kat, Andrea, Serene and Xing. I love you all. For those of you who are still staying, God Bless You! And continue to be the precious darlings that you are. For those who are leaving, good for you.
Haha... If they don't appreciate you, then good riddance to them!

I have nothing much else to say except that I'm glad I made my mark in Euroff through the gargoyle/monster/demon creature that was Rag & Flag and the wonderful fun I had designing the costumes & having Ham Ni and Whai Fuang complain '都是 beautiful (inside & outside) people like Crystin & Lynda through the strangest means. >^<

Well, a word of advice to all remaining people. Use talent for talent's sake & for goodness' sake, don't take things personally but be purely professional or you'll never get anything done. And most of all, trust until the person in question gives you a good reason not to trust anymore. i.e. incurable lying.

Well, take care, all. 'Don't let the door hit your ass on the

"How fast time flies..."

Those are the first words that run through my mind as I pen my thoughts down for MY very own senior's page... I remember I had only wanted to stay for one sem in hall... and oh well... I stayed on for all of my years in NUS! Haha.. didn't know what to look forward then... but now... jus @

Feeling abit rushed for time now... ive got SO many things I want to say but no time to really organize them and think or plan properly what and how I am going to go about writing... feel like decorating too... but sigh, the woes of procrastination... guess it was something I didn't really want to get started on... as that would mean my 'time (to leave) has come'...

Being involved in committees, cultural activities and jus in Eusoff's events (dnd, talentime, award ceremonies, blk suppers, IBG, IHG etc) have been such a wonderful and rewarding experience! The memories of the joking around, late night suppers, bumming in frens' rooms, Celebrating of birthdays n stuff and yabberings with different friends etc will always bring a bright smile to my face... I may not have participated in every arena of activities but, I did feel them all... @ One definitely can't miss this strong sense of 'spirit' in Eusoff...

Here's to all of you! Cheers! I really love you and hope we'd be able to keep in touch!

It's unfortunate that I've got to leave just as I'm getting to know more people better... Many feelings and sentiments are stirring up as I look back on the times I've spent in Eusoff... but a phase of my life has ended... and it's time to move on...

As the saying goes, "You can take a Eusoffian out of Eusoff, but you can never take Eusoff out of her"

I will miss you, Eusoff Hall... for giving me one of the best memories in my life... ☺

The people whom i've met throughout this journey in Eusoff have had an impact in my life, in small and big ways... Never imagined I would write my farewell... almost thought I'd be lazy... Some have left but there are still people around I would like to express my warmest feelings for... and since I can't give a personal autograph to all, this would then be the best way...

There are so many of you I want to hug! I really do hope each and; everyone of you gals and guys know who you are... how much you mean to me and how much all of you have touched me in every little part... thank, you for being in my life... wanted to jot down names but figured I'd take forever and ever to say my piece... heh.

It seems it wasn't long ago that the plane bearing me and some friends landed at Changi, leaving me to what would be the most memorable time I would ever dream of having.

The last 4 years have been like a fun fair ride, beginning with me joining rag dance as presenter, and although I didn't get to be one of the rollerbladers, it allowed me to discover that I could dance.

Although I did ask myself why I'd chosen EH over TH when the van stopped at TH after driving past EH to drop some of my friends there, I have never regretted staying here, joining all the committees so that I could stay year after year. Every year coming back for rag and dance production.

Four years seem like such a long time, yet it is not enough. All this time, EH has been my home, my neighbours and friends, my family and having to leave is my only regret.

I could say a whole lot about my experience in EH but I would only say it has changed me. A word to all juniors, don't be scared to try activities here. You'll have only one chance of being an undergrad so just do whatever you want or you'll regret. To all my neighbours, it's been fun waking up to all your alarm clocks and becoming the alarm clock that you need. To the dancers, I hope you can bring the house down (or up ?...) again next year. To all those who know me, sorry couldn't go for more suppers with you guys.

Graduating senior - ME

3 full years have past and I'm still alive! Hehe... hall life aint that bad. Yeah, there were times when I wish the buggers upstairs would stop playing mahjong or turn down their volume (Harlow, past midnight liao!), but at the same time, I kinda miss those "irritants" during the holidays when not many people are around. ☺ Anyway, just want to take this time to thank a no. of ppl who have made my hall life so enjoyable that leaving EH will mean leaving a part of my heart behind.

Still youthful (less tainted by all those late nights and pratas): Sarah, Simone, Aaron, Justin, Huaizhi, Xinning. Thanks for making me realize how much fun it was being a freshie in my 1st year. Cherish those coming years in EH.

A couple more years to grad: Steph, Wan, Mich and Yinghong, for your bright greetings everytime you walk pass to classes; Iot, my E4 soccer informer; Fong, Kaijun and Rayvin; Jeanette, my yr 2 neighbour and JD... 2 years of hall, many years of friendship.

Retirement home compatriots: Jolene (another yr of choir girl?), Nard, Jacques, Huileng, Ray, Aerial, Merlyn, Lee San, Wai Fuang, Ooi Yoke, Meng Hong, Edwin, Morgan, Carol Fu, Shaffique, Tze Kern, Lynda, Bomber, Catherine, Elsa, Marina, Peppie, Tage Teck, Shahril, Mei Mei, Wei Lee, Choiying, Cindee, Wendy, Jan, Wormy, Shups, Peijun, Janus, Heather, Andy, Tzechin, Ravin, Ming, Way... argh! So many of you! Anyway, if you know you're in yr3, you belong to this category of thanks ☺ Not forgetting yr4s and alumni: Aaron Mak, Linwei, Anna, Xiangcen, Vic Lim, Ah Kong @ Euyen, Jac (Chong) dear, Unc. Paul, Del & Adrian (finally after 3 yrs!), Weijie, Julia, Aiks, Unc. Wong, Unc. Teo, Huiyi, Ah Seng.. this list is also quite endless. You've all been in one way or another wonderful and inspirational to me.

Lastly, the people who have given me more love, care and concern than I could ever deserve. Carol and Sharon darlings, for all those milo and horficks peng sessions - what would I do without the 2 of you?; Chris dear, for touching my heart so deeply; Suryanto, you're really a sun in my sky; Jarrod for teaching me some of life's more important lessons; Sihui my chiobu no.1 friend, who never fails to remind me life is good; Neighbour @ Ciar who constantly nags me to study (hehe... thanks dear); Chun Ling, for aiding me in and out of choir; Vik, my SIR twin bro who has been here for me for the 3 years, and Sof, for 3 yrs of unconditional friendship.

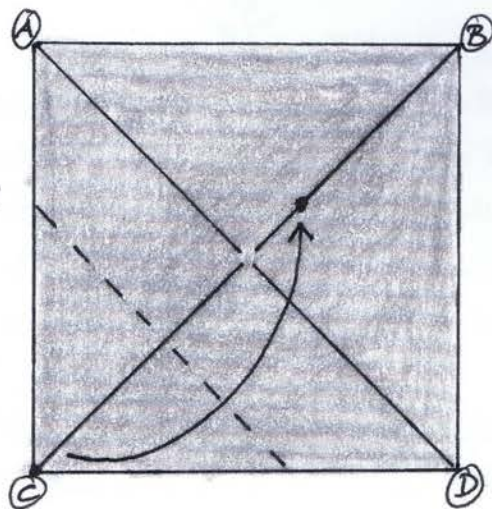

From the bottom of my heart, Thank You!

Hi!

that's me!
cyan

i'm writing this in a moment of extreme sentimentality, so contents might be a tad too mushy for your liking, but I mean what I say 😊

3 years in Eusoff had changed me tremendously, the most obvious being the many kilograms I put on! (20) Other than that, I changed from a hermit Freshie to a loud, PASSIONATE and MAD EVSOFFIAN! 3 years is simply too short for me ... *praying hard and crossing my fingers that I make it for honors *OK, Enough of that crap, I shall move on... (only got 3 pages!!!)

The best thing that happened to me had to be EHOC 01/02. It changed me totally and made me love this hall so much that at times, I had to sit back and question my sanity. More importantly, I got to know a great group of people. Jiaming, Angie, Brenda, Sharon - knowing all of you was really the luckiest thing that happened to me. You guys are truly the best. I'll always appreciate and treasure your friendships! I'll never forget the time that bloody lorry broke down on the expressway and how we had to get down to push it ... how we cried together, feeling sad and miserable being in FLAG, how at the last minute, we had half a box of Flay cans not loaded to NUSSU!! (ahhh!) These wonderful memories will stay by me forever. (damn! I feel like crying now!) To Deborah, Delphine and Navin, that period we really bonded. Though we never got super close, I did treasure what we had. Debs, despite the misunderstandings, I've always respected you for what you contributed to Eusoff and I'll never forget the times you stood by me when I cried (which was pretty often). I remember how you rushed to SCRC room to scold Wee How and Aaron Mak for me, and I'm eternally grateful for that loyalty of yours. Damn! Do I really have to stop at 3 pages??? All those memories are flooding me! Stealing out in the dead of the night, going around stealing cartons for rag ... picking yucky, dirty cans at Sembawang ... learning weird sounding Hokkien vulgarities from OKM ... those crazy night clubbing ... vomiting ... Sigh. how wonderful those times were!

alright, I better move on again. next, I would like to talk about my beloved neighbors. You people were simply wonderful. my only regret is moving over to B3 too late and only being able to stay with you guys for 1 year. Staying here, despite the many "crises" that we got ourselves into, has been the happiest times in my stay in Eusoff. Those steamboat dinners, mahjong sessions, trash-talking sessions and study together times I'll never forget. You guys made me feel so much more for IHG! Just simply because you guys were playing! I cried at ⑤ finals when meijie's leg got busted. I cried when you guys were trailing, I cried when you won. I cried at soccer seeing how hard you all tried to win. I cried at hallball seeing Xiaohan hyperventilating... (Shit! I'm making myself seem to be a crybaby! I'm NOT!!) basically, my pt is IHG meant so much more to me with you guys around. It was so nice just watching you guys. I remember how you all tried to persuade me not to go for my exams, worried that I would flunk it... the B(itch)3 girls - WE ARE THE BEST! hehe... I love you all!

Next -- to my FLAG Team 02/03. Best friend and partner, Jiaming, thanks for doing it again with me. To Saudi, Desmond, Weijie - you were the pillars of the team. You guys provided the support I needed so often. THANKS! To the 2 law BIMBOS, you two provided the comic relief I needed desperately! haha! ok lah, I shall not be mean, you two performed beyond my expectations! I'm proud of you both! To Yanyun, Zahra and Ranting, you were the quiet noneers, steady as can be. I'm proud of all of you (hehe! suffered under me and my obsessive compulsive money-making disease for 3 whole months! a brilliant feat! :)) We did it - we broke all records for pre-flag, we brought back the FLAG SHIELD for... ermm let me think the 4th (5th??) year and together with RAG and PROGRAM, we brought back the OVERALL SHIELD!! (what else can I say?? WE ARE FUCKING GOOD!!!) opps... sorry, the fing just slipped out.

My EMC. Boon Awee and Philip as heads - Julia as ex-officio - hehe... this committee got me started on marketing. I made close friends like Shahril, Crystin, Julia, Minyun and Cem. haha... it was EMC that got me started on bringing "weird stuff" to Eusoff. Givvera products, Pink Dolphin, Milo, maggi mee, GAGA Noodles, Brands pills, Rose Rush, Coppertone... even Sanitary pads!! EMC gave me the confidence to do marketing and molded me into what I am today and for that, I'm grateful.

oh fuck! it's the last page already! next, I would like to thank the Badminton team of 01/02 and 02/03 - To Sai, Shuxin, Rongting and TKI, training was always a pleasure with you guys. I miss the cmy fish head at Jorong East!! To me, winning last year's gold medal was damn shiok! hehe... after all our torturous training, the feeling of euphoria was worth it right? (of course, the treat from the Captain at Crystal Jade after that was not bad too... hehe) to Shuiyan, Rongting, Lihijuan, Rachel Weiding, must CONTINUE TO WIN!  (oops! a bit ugly!)

pwr

I wanna say thanks to my JCRC as well. Andy, Janus, Lihui, Saudi, Kathy, Wee How & Camille, it was good to work with you guys. Frankly, I can't remember much of JCRC meetings except the suppress behind!!! (I remember always feeling faint from hunger from the long meetings though!) Oh, hehe... those days of studying in the JCRC room during exam period with hamodes, mattresses & what nots was fun too.

to my IHG convening members, you folks did a good job as well. Special thanks to Shumin, Dacial, Sharon, Juliana, Yankun, Andrew and Kristian for being at my beck and call almost always. I would not have been able to manage the comm so well without your support.  oh yah, I owe all of you a treat.

NOW! I specially saved this space for the following important people for their contribution towards maintaining my sanity.

Jiaming and Shahvil: for being my best friends in hall and being the shoulders to cry on. Jiaming, thanks for always scolding me to my senses and making me guilty enough to go to class. mat, thanks for always being there for me, for always listening to my problems.

B(itch) 3 girls: thanks for a wonderful time together; I'll never forget how you guys all turned out in full force to help me for Track convening. It touched me tremendously.

Xiao Gie Gie, - for being true friends who really cared for me. I'll treasure all of your friendships -

Graduating Senior? Rushing my HYP now, not even sure if I will be able to graduate! Haha!

Honestly I am not sure at all what to write....

I am a new senior, and hence unlike most graduating seniors, I have stayed here for barely a year..... and I am still getting to know people around here so..... This is quite a strange situation to be in ... let's see where this little essay goes haha

A New Hope

I guess I am not a sociable person by nature; when I started doing music, I got to meet alot of people and it opened up the world for me; working on the Snake production was a great experience; I really got to meet and work with a lot of wonderful and talented people ☺

So when it became apparently possible to get a place in Eusoff, I really thought about it, and told myself "hey why not? Maybe it's time for a change of environment?"

I also looked forward to doing more music for Eusoff ... ☺

End of Days

Many of my friends thought I was crazy to want to go stay in a hall in my final year; but I did anyway, cos I thought, if not now, when? It was a last chance to try out hall life so what if there's HYP to worry about ? c'mon, there's more to life than that In fact living in a tiny room with just your computer n you may do your HYP more good than harm.... I thought (.... not true.. haha)

That Thing You Do

Joining hall band certainly provided some of the most memorable moments of hall life

I will always treasure all those good times spent jammin' with the band guys, ignore-the-green-man-n-play-on-after-12mn practices, all those running around for gigs

Thanks Ongky, Jiaying, Chris, Jarrod, Najib for all the wonderful (n wacky!) moments on stage and all that beautiful music ☺

To the very talented Ah Teck, though we haven't had many chances to work together, hope we can work together sometime in the future ☺

To Chris, think you should form a jazz band yourself; you can play almost every instrument out there .. ☺ cool

To Ongky, Jiaying, Kai, you all have been great buddies and supper buddies ... the suppers we had so often (now) will be something I will miss dearly

Many thanks to Ongky especially, you have been a great pal ☺

To Jarrod, thanks for all the late soccer nights and wacky sense of humour...haha

It's been really great hanging out with you guys ☺

Sleepless in Seattle

One thing I expected but was not quite prepared for was how noisy it could get "late" at "night" took quite a while getting used to loud talking, laughter, music at 3 or 4 am in the morning and I was told my room, on floor C2 ...was supposedly more quiet and peaceful than elsewhere..... scary.... haha

Crouching Tigers, Hidden Dragons ... and Princesses

Xinyao was an international affair, with friends from Malaysia, China and Indonesia; when we all started working on the arrangements for everyone's compositions, the variety of music that everyone came up with was quite amazing ☺ good work !

Just want to take the opportunity to say that, it was really great fun working with you guys and gals and many thanks to Guanxiong and Zhixin, for being so supportive, and having so much faith in what I do.

Thanks for all the enthusiasm, passion and support you all have shown, esp Jiang Bin, Li Bin, Lei Yu, Gan Lian, Zhao Xin, Guan Xiong, Ivana, Song Wei, Gui Yu, Si Hao☺

Will miss our basketball and soccer sessions >:

Bats!

Taking part in IHG Table-Tennis and getting the gold was very memorable; and it was certainly an honour to have a chance to represent Eusoff and take out Temasek ☺ Shiokhaha

Thanks guys, Weijie, EnZhong, Lin Gen, Thorsden, Vincent, Rayvin, "Pai Gyah" MingFong. It was great fun training n competing with u all !!!

The Sound of Music

To Huiyi, a close friend and musical buddy, it's really good to have a chance to know someone who shares a common passion for music, thanks for all the musical insights, ideas and FOOD shared ☺ Yah and like what Janus mentioned in the previous yr book, you are a great cook ☺

To Ling Lu, a close friend and my favourite violinist, it's always a great pleasure working with you ☺ ; thanks for always taking time out of your very busy schedules to work on stuff together !

The Smell of Soup

Hey Kevin, think you really make great soup haha.

To Kevin and Sharon, you two have been great pals and neighbours, thanks for everything!

The End

To all the friends made in Eusoff, Hong Rui, Raymond Toh, Zhiwei, Raymond, Cai Hui , Lin Wei, Xin Hui, Janus, Ravin, Huangxin, Hui-nuan, Li Lu, Nuo-nuan, Yuan yuan, Lynda, Junling, Lila (hope I didn't miss anyone out ☺) thanks for everything ! ☺

Don't really have much more to write, and not sure what to write, other than thanking a whole lot of people..... haha ; I guess I haven't been here long enough to truly experience what most of the graduating seniors did so

Last but not least, thanks to Eusoff, for all the wonderful memories, and for being my home for two short but intriguing semesters ☺ !!

Quick! What is Fong Seng popular for?
Nasi Lemak? Maybe...

But Niqqi's Cheese Prata is certainly giving the lemak a good run for its money.

Located along the famous Clementi Road supper stretch next to Eusoff Hall, Niqqi Cheese Prata shop's trademark offerings laden with that dollop of cheese has enticed many a hall resident from all over NUS making their midnight trek for their nightly pilgrimage.

Open 24 hours, this enclave whips up a mean Teh-tarik and Milo Dinosaur.

And new items such as PINEAPPLE CHEESE and NIQQI SPECIAL also pack a pleasant punch.

Just the perfect joint for a midnight supper, a gathering of old friends or that caffeine fix for that all-nighter exam crams...
