Eusoff Crest

Orchid

The Eusoffian loyalty, dignity, integrity, honour within harmony, beauty, and grace.

Eagle

The indomitable spirit of all Eusoffians, the ceaseless pursuit of excellence of harmony.

Open Book

An unquenchable thirst for knowledge and academic achievement.

Colours

The heart of every Eusoffian, painted maroon with courage, gold with magnificence, and white sincerity.

Motto

(The "E" and the "H" in Eusoff Hall, reflects our motto: Excellence and Harmony)

The desire to live by excellence in every endeavour, complete only in harmony with the people around us and the world we live in.

Eusoff Anthem

*Eusoff our great hall thee we praise
Swelling forth our mighty chorus
We will strive through all our days
Fight to keep the torch ablaze
Lit by those who went before us
Now we know thou art deserving
As our seniors know of yore
Of our loyalty unswerving
Eusoff to the fore*

*Eusoff in years to come our best
Still we'll keep thee onward fighting
True to thee through every test
Winning 'neath thy badge and crest
Thus our love for thee expressing
Time will show thou art deserving
As the years roll by still more
Of our loyalty unswerving
Eusoff to the fore!*

Message from Master

Another year has passed. We started off the academic year with a series of activities lined up by the Orientation Committee to welcome the freshmen and returning seniors in July 2006. In order to facilitate easy reference and guidance to the freshmen, for the third time a Freshmen Guide has been published, an outstanding effort taken by the Eusoff Hall Orientation Committee (Program Team).

After four consecutive years of stellar performances at the NUS Rag and Flag, Eusoff Hall came home almost empty-handed. The Flag Team was awarded the NUSSU Gold Award for Flag Collection for the Hall's outstanding effort to raise $54,800 for NUS Flag. Despite the lack of awards, Eusoffians were very proud of their float and the experience they have gone through making the float as well as the friendship and Eusoff spirit that residents forged during the orientation.

Eusoff Hall continues to excel in the cultural scene. Our Dance Production has once again staged an outstanding and spectacular dance performance to an almost sold out crowd and received rave reviews from invited guests including the Guests of Honour, Mr Abdullah Tarmugi, Speaker of Parliament of Singapore and Mrs Tarmugi, Professor Shih Choon Fong, NUS President and Mrs Shih, Professor Alan Chan, Associate Provost and Mrs Chan and A/Prof Tan Teck Koon, Dean of Students.

Not to be outdone is our Eusoff Band, Peroxide that won the F.L.Y Battle of the Bands and walked away with $1000 in cash prize. The Peroxide was also voted the Most Popular Band in the JAM ALOUD! 2007 Competition. Special mention should also be accorded to other cultural groups; Eusoff Band Second Nature for their performance at the Rockfest 2007, Eusoff Choir in their participation at the NUS Open House and Amplitude 2007 and the revival of Eusoff Drama Club and their participation in the Dramafeste 07.

We have always been a major force in the Inter-Hall Games and this year is no exception. Our Men's Team has once again done us proud to bring home the Men's Championship Trophy whilst our Women's Team took the 3rd placing.

In the area of community service, our Eusoff Voluntary Corps and Eusoff Expeditions continue their heartwarming and dedicated service on the home ground and beyond. I am deeply touched by their selfless devotion and compassion to serve the less fortunate. I am glad that the commitment and hard work put in by the Eusoff Expeditions Team have not gone unnoticed. The Eusoff Expeditions' Team 2005/06 made us proud when they were awarded the NUS Student Achievement Award 2006. The Eusoff Expeditions was also featured in the Campus Newsletter "Knowledge Enterprise" in November 2006 issue in recognition of their outstanding effort, dedication and commitment in making a difference in the lives of the Cambodian children.

Besides these, the work and achievements of other committees should not be forgotten. I am indeed particularly proud of this year's yearbook which lay set a new standard for all yearbooks to value. I am very pleased that we have been able to excel in all areas this year. This feat can only be achieved with the support and contribution of each and every Eusoffian. In this regard, I wish to record my gratitude to the SCRC, JCRC and all Eusoffians who have worked together in harmony and with excellence to achieve yet another successful year for Eusoff Hall.

Message from Chief Editor

The theme of the yearbook: Eusoff, The Experience depicts the life of each and every Eusoffian in 06/07 through sections such as Leadership, Volunteerism, Committees, Events, Hall Life, etc.

Coming up with a theme was not an easy process as we aimed to capture the moments of a spectacular 06/07. The theme had to speak to each and every Eusoffian and yet not underplay their achievements and contributions. 06/07 was a year dotted with many highs and some lows. The Eusoff Experience, which may sound generic is actually encompassing a passion which is only specific to us, an experience like no other.

We hope Eusoff, The Experience will be able to connect to your heart, trigger fond memories of 06/07. In years to come, when you flip through these pages, trigger the pride in you of being a Eusoffian.

My sincere thanks to Maria for agreeing to take charge of the culture section; to Jie Ming for helping me chase for articles and agreeing to last minute requests; to Joe for help in editing; to Hui Loh for helping to design; to Hong Wei for his designing also and for sacrificing all his time for this yearbook; to Dr Kew and Master for their advice through the year and for their kind understanding; and to all those who helped brainstorm, write articles, and who contributed in some way or another.

On a final note, we recognized that not every Eusoffian would be featured in this yearbook despite efforts to minimize that from happening. So we would like to thank those residents who have contributed to Eusoff's success silently.

Enjoy Eusoff, The Experience.

Message from Jcrc President

Dear Eusoffians,

A leader's legacy is never his to bear and all that he can ever dream to accomplish, is the confluence of endeavor, industry and struggle; not of his own, but that of many. In the same light, my legacy is the legacy of all Eusoffians because I could not have achieved anything extraordinary alone. Thus, I would like to express my gratitude to the people who made it all possible and to whom I will be indebted forever.

First and foremost, I would like to thank a group of wonderfully spirited individuals, without whom, my ideas and ideals would have been nothing – the 19th JCRC. To Sze-Phing, thank you for always seeing to the nitty-gritty administrative details, for always being meticulous in your approach to work and for bringing to the team, a wealth of JCRC experience without which, we would have been so lost. To Hui Ying, I still do not know what made you change your mind about JCRC but I am just thankful that you decided to take up the position. I do not think any one could have done a better job than you did. Thank you also for sticking by me through the ups and downs of Rag – I can't believe we have been ragged twice. To Benjamin, thank you for always lightening up the mood during our meetings with your antics, for always goofing around with Jit-Vern, for being the confident and levelheaded Sports Secretary that you are, and simply for being a great friend. To Jit-Vern, thank you for sharing my vision about our Hall's cultural scene, for always doing your best to change the way our performing arts groups are viewed, for organizing the best Talentime I have ever seen (i.e. G.R.A.S.S), for always goofing around with Ben but most of all, thank you for taking up the role of the next JCRC President. You'll definitely be a better President than I was! To C Pearl, thank you for always seeing to our culinary needs, for putting up the most wonderful and unforgettable posters during Hall Awareness Week and for being humorous in your own little way. To Hongwei, thank you for taking time off your takraw sessions to revamp the Hall website and compute CCA points, for putting together one of the most fantastic and superb year book Eusoff has seen in years and for having great patience with my unpunctual message. To Allan, thank you for being the most enthusiastic JCRC member amongst us all, for being passionate about your beliefs, for being a creative lad and charming the socks off the girls (and sometimes, guys) and of course, for being a spendthrift! To my 19th JCRC, thank you for the support you have shown me and for all the sacrifices you have made such that a greater good may be achieved.

Secondly, I would also like to thank the members of the 18th JCRC. To Sheau Yann, thank you for always dispensing advice when I needed it the most, for being my confidant, for being my mentor, for being my beloved senior and lastly, for inspiring me to be the JCRC President. To Joe Foo, thank you for always sharing your honest opinions with me and for always engaging me in long, intellectual chats and debates that would last till 4 or 5 am the next morning. I will miss those chats about JCRC work, the hall, politics and life in general. To Derrick and Cher Chin, thank you for being kind and plentiful with your words of encouragement and affirmation. To Edwin, from the 20th JCRC, thank you for stepping up to be the Vice-President and for always smiling. Keep up your wonderful work attitude!

Next, I would like to give thanks to the following group of people who are from the Ad-hoc Committees I was overseeing as Ex-Officio. To Siding, Adrian and Daniel, thank you for remaining steadfast and undaunted in the face of many problems (like the script), for giving me a chance to be actively involved in Dance Production this year and for listening to me even though I was more junior. We made it through a tumultuous year! To Zongyin and Lynn, Dinner and Dance was truly an awesome affair - thanks to the two of you and the ingenuity of your team. It is definitely going to be the benchmark of DnDs to come. To Siang Hwee, Zhiyuan and Bernard, I do not think I have seen three individuals as devoted to a worthy cause as the three of you, and that to me, is exemplary. Thank you for your unfaltering commitment to the Expeditions team and for handling the heaps of pre-trip administration and paperwork competently and efficiently.

To Elfie, I am just glad that you agreed to join the Rag team. Your enthusiasm and presence as the Chief Engineer greatly motivated the team, but more importantly, it kept me going too. To Shufang, thank you for hanging on and for teaching me a thing or two about being unflagging. You are simply an amazing individual who is unfazed by failures or challenges. To Michelle, thank you for being cheery. I will miss how you miscalculate and how you make money fall from the sky. To Handy, thank you for ensuring that the orientation is so successful. Your display of exemplary leadership qualities and great work attitude has made you the most promising junior I have had the pleasure of knowing. To one of the most special groups of people, the Raggars, Adeline, Elaine, Esther, Hong Jin, Han Cheng, Joshua, Kai Lun, Mei Chee, Rui Song, Shariza, Seok Kean, Sophia, Wayne and Wen Lin, thank you for the Best Float Award, for the breakfasts, for the dragonboat session that was never meant to be, for the sleepless nights, for the hard work, for the laughter, for being my source of motivation in very difficult time for me, but most importantly, thank you for the memories. To the choreographers, Yijun, Jaclyn, Julia and Wanyu, you girls are the winners of the Best Presentation in my heart! To the Rag Dancers and Helpers, we could not have won the Rag Shield without you! To the Programmers, Aik, Anitha, Chun Pin, Ee Ling, Esther, Eva, Kim, Maria, Mei Ling, Michelle, Sam, Valerie, Wilvin and Yee Kiat, great job with the orientation programme! Remember: "Infiltrate and Destroy!" To the Flaggers, Aaron, Angie, Chen Yang, Jaclyn, Jerm, Jian En, Sherlene, Si Qian and Vanessa, thank you for cleaning our rooms and the NUSSU Gold Award!

Also, to the SCRC, Prof. Tan, Prof. Ho, Dr. Kew, Dr. Sequeira, Dr. Mark, Prof. Victor, Prof. Leung, I have been touched by the great care and concern all of you have shown for the residents and for the betterment of this Hall. To Ms. Rashidah, thank you for being the 9th JCRC member that I never had. I do not think words can aptly describe my gratitude towards all that you have done for the 19th JCRC. To Auntie Doris, Auntie Vivien, TS, Uncle Lim and Mr. Mok, thank you and I will miss working with all of you.

To all Student Leaders, thank you for making 06/07 an awesome year. To all Graduating Seniors, thank you for all that you have given to Eusoff. I hope us - juniors - will continue to do you and the Hall proud! To the Freshmen of 06/07, keep up the enthusiasm! To the A4 and C4 guys, thank you for always showing genuine concern and for asking how I am doing. To the Publications team, led by Yui Min, thank you for this yearbook, which has been an embodiment of your hard work and dedication to excellence.

To the people who may never get to read this: my Family, Friends, and Loved Ones, I am sorry I have not been spending as much time as I should with all of you. I will make it up to you! To my Mom who's my biggest fan, thank you for showering me with your love. I am what I am today because of you.

Last but not least, to each Eusoffian who has fought hard and tirelessly in the name of bettering the hall, I salute you.

It has been my honour, privilege and pleasure to be your JCRC President.

Take good care and God Bless!

Eusoff to the Fore!

Message from Hall Office

After the successful completion of upgrading works for residential blocks, Hall Office and Resident Fellows' Flats, the Hall is now focusing to renovate the facilities in the Communal Hall under its Phase III upgrading. This is to ensure that Eusoff Hall is up to parity with all the facilities of other Halls. The Hall has submitted the upgrading proposal and is currently awaiting approval from the University Management to go ahead with the renovation. We hope the upgrading works will be completed in time for the Eusoff Anniversary Celebrations (Eusoff College 50th & Eusoff Hall 20th) in 2008. The preparation for the Eusoff Anniversary Celebrations, 2008 has also started with the formation of the Commemorative Editorial Book Committee. Several major programmes are also in the pipeline for the celebrations. To further enhance the hall security system, more closed circuit cameras have been installed in Block A, C and D. The Hall will also be installing the Simon-Voss protected gates and fences at strategic locations. Another enhancement that Eusoffians should look forward to in the near future is for Eusoff Hall to go completely WiFi.

This year, the Hall welcomed two wonderful individuals into the Eusoff family. Dr Mark Emmanuel has been appointed the Resident Fellow of Eusoff Hall from 1 January 2007. Dr Emmanuel is an Assistant Professor with the History Department specialising in Southeast Asian history, specifically Malaysian history. Mr Lim Teeng Sheeh aka TS is the latest addition of Eusoff Hall staff members. As the Management Support Officer, he is assisting the Hall Office to serve the Eusoff Community in various administrative duties. In December 2006, the Hall bid farewell to Dr John Sequeira who had stepped down as Resident Fellow of Block C after 6 years of fruitful and dedicated service to Eusoff Hall. During his tenure in Eusoff Hall, Dr Sequeira has championed several initiatives including the formation of Eusoff Expeditions in 2004 and the establishment of Eusoff Bursary in July 2006. He is also the RF-Advisor of the International Relations Committee, External Relations Committee, Eusoff Voluntary Corps and Dinner & Dance Committee.

This year recorded a high number of achievements made by our SCRC members. Our Master, A/Prof Tan Tin Wee has been appointed the Deputy Head of Biochemistry Department. The Deputy Master and RF of Block B, Dr Ho Chee Kong has been promoted to Associate Professor and granted tenure at the University. His re-appointment as Resident Fellow of Eusoff Hall has also been extended until 30 June 2009. Our Domestic Bursar, A/Prof Leung Ka Hin has also been appointed the Deputy Director of the Institute of Mathematical Sciences. Our heartfelt congratulations to A/Prof Victor Tan, Resident Fellow of Block D for his outstanding achievement for being awarded the NUS Outstanding Educator Award recently. Their achievements are truly inspiring to all Eusoffians as they have done it despite the enormous time and energy spent in their dedicated service as Master/Resident Fellows of Eusoff Hall.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Master and Resident Fellows for their constant encouragement, advice and support to the Hall Office and contributed significantly towards many hall achievements. We would also like to thank the JCRC, Block Heads, Heads of Committees and residents for their support and cooperation and for making our working life at Eusoff Hall, challenging and interesting throughout the year.

Junior Common Room Committee

The 19th Junior Common Room Committee

Message from Culture Secretary

Sim Jit-Vern

2006/2007 has been a good year for Eusoff Culture. I have watched the cultural groups grow and I agree without a doubt that they are getting better with each performance.

As the Head of Culture Committee, I am proud to say that this year has seen an encouraging change in the cultural events held. The memory of Get Ready for Another Super Star (G.R.A.S.S.) was etched in every Eusoffian. It was held at the grass patch and was a refreshing change for the Eusoff Hall's annual talentime competition. Other than that, Culture Week was also introduced to promote the cultural groups of Eusoff Hall along with competitions to encourage the residents to be involved in Eusoff Culture.

Our Dance Corps, with a membership of 24 in the latest year has been actively involved in high-level performances both in and out of hall. It also provides the core of dancers for Eusoff Hall's annual Dance Production. In 2006, a group of dancers got into the finals of Funkamania, an inter-tertiary dance competition organized by NUSSU. Their performance in Dance Uncensored, garnered praises and gained respect from the NUS community.

Peroxide, our resident hall band has been around for as long as we can remember. This year saw the expansion of Eusoff Hall Band. With the influx of talent over the past year, the whole group consists of 4 bands, namely Peroxide, Second Nature, Twamudaz and DRRMS to the Z. Having the luxury of rotating the 4 bands, we have ensured we are constantly in the mix for performances and competitions.

Eusoff Hall Choir is in the rebuilding process, seeing most of its senior members leaving the group. However, things are looking bright as we have a young group which will only get better with each practice they have as a group. Performances in Amplitude, NUS Open House and MAB Awards have shown that they have the quality to go far. They are also in the midst of coming up with an A Cappella group for the coming academic year.

The English Drama group has been revived after a year of absence. Apart from credible performances in hall, they have also been involved in video-making and supplied the 'monsters' for this year's Halloween Night. Their newest venture was the combined hall Drama Fest which marked the end of the Exxon Mobil Campus Concerts at the end of March. This event is in its infant stages and Eusoff Hall spearheaded the project this year.

The Chinese Performing Group has been providing hall residents with quality entertainment year by year. The Chinese Drama group is already independently writing original scripts while the Xinyao group is starting to follow suit with original songs. They can only get better from here.

I would like to thank everyone for their support over the past year. Congratulations to all the performers. May you continue to shine on whatever stage you step on.

Message from Sports Secretary

Benjamin Ng

Thanks to my 'good' friends Derrick Phong and Vijay Liew, I found myself in the very very unforeseen and unfamiliar position of sports sec. After last year's stupendous treble, the onus was definitely on me/us to live up to the challenge laid before us by our seniors by maintaining the IHG crown. It was always going to be a difficult task, given the number of superb sportsmen and sportswomen we lost with last year's batch of graduating seniors. This was made worse by venue and fixture problems caused by IVP, DP and SRC's decision to renovate facilities during IHG season. Teams found themselves playing in very unfamiliar territory, for example, the swim teams and handball teams had to go to the Singapore Sports School and Temasek Polytechnic respectively. Then again, what's a challenge without obstacles?

The hockey guys got IHG to the perfect start by reclaiming their hockey crown that they lost so heart-breakingly last year. The touch girls then followed it up by romping to yet another convincing victory. Our bandana-ed takraw boys then retained their recently acquired title in emphatic fashion. On the day of the official opening, our track guys sprinted their way to another gold, making it our fourth out of the seven available. We had certainly got off to an incredible start, question was whether we would be able to sustain it.

Unfortunately, we were unable to sustain our blistering start and results started to see-saw. Hard-earned victories were offset by demoralizing losses in finals like tennis, badminton, basketball and volleyball. By the time three quarters of the campaign had passed, our guys had pretty much sewn up the men's title, while the girls were battling it out with KR for second, leaving the overall title very much in the balance.

A brilliant victory by the netball girls set up a nail-biting grandstand finish on the final day, leaving it to our road relay teams to secure the title. The guys team absolutely blitzed the competition to finish way ahead of their nearest rivals, leaving the fate of the overall title in the hands of the girls. The rest, as they say, is history. Losing the overall title on gold medal 'count-back' while being tied on points could not have been a more heart-breaking way to lose.

Simply winning one more of the numerous finals we made it to, or by having any team which got knocked out in the semis make it to the finals would have earned us the overall title; but such is the nature of sports, when one split second, one mistake, one point dropped or one goal conceded can determine the fate of an overall campaign.

Was losing the overall such a disaster? In such circumstances it might initially seem so, but on hindsight perhaps it might be more beneficial in the long run. With the departure of so many seniors last year, it was crucial that those remaining stepped up to lead the hall. Some did with distinction, rising to the occasion, some surpassing all expectations. Credit must go to freshmen like Shanta, Tiffany, Ai Li, and Kailun for taking on the mantle of captaincy and doing exceedingly well. It's always easy to focus the good, but let's not neglect the bad. This IHG definitely did not come without its fair share of bickering, spats and displays of ugliness. There is definitely a need for greater maturity amongst athletes, and unity amongst the hall as a whole.

While many of the sports teams are still very much works-in-progress, the number of gems uncovered was truly heartening, and there definitely is still plenty more to come looking at the amount of potential there is.

It was of great personal satisfaction to see teams like the guys basketball and handball teams excel in their competitions. They truly showed that with great leadership, talented players with commitment to match, and a common purpose to motivate and unite them, the sum of the whole can become much, much more than the parts.

To the JCRC, especially my dear boss VJ, thanks so so much for all the support you've given. You've been absolutely mad.

To graduating seniors, I can only thank you for all your invaluable service, support and advice throughout the campaign. To those remaining in hall, I really hope somewhere, somehow, at some point in this IHG, you found what it is that bonds you to this hall, what it is that makes you so proud to call yourself an Eusoffian, and the desire to make the many potentially great IHG victories ahead yours. If not this year, then hopefully the next.

Here's to another great IHG, and many more to come! Cheers!

"It's something unpredictable but in the end it's right.
I hope you had the time of your life."

Sports Secretary,
Benjamin

Student Leaders

A leader's legacy is never his to bear and all that he can ever dream to accomplish, is the confluence of endeavor, industry and struggle; not of his own, but that of many. In the same light, my legacy is the legacy of all Eusoffians because I could not have achieved anything extraordinary alone. Thus, I would like to express my gratitude to the people who made it all possible and to whom I will be indebted forever.

Eusoff Hall has always been actively involved in all aspect of volunteerism ranging from local volunteering programmes such as the Eusoff Voluntary Corp (Elderly Service), to overseas community volunteerism like the annual overseas Expedition.

06/07 has so far been a highlight for Eusoffians' participation in volunteerism with recognition given to us when we received the Youth Service – Learning Award 2007. '

"Never doubt that a small group of people can change the world". This group of caring and ever-giving Eusoffians have certainly impacted lives of many Singaporeans as well as of people all over the world.

EVC aims to bring the volunteering spirit of Eusoff into the forefront and to encourage others to follow in the footsteps of Eusoffians featured in the pages that follows.

EUSOFF VOLUNTARY CORPS - ELDERLY

■ Hong Choon Chiet, Andrew

■ Head of EVC Elderly

The Eusoff Voluntary Corps (Elderly Service) is a voluntary organization working to promote and support effective community volunteerism and involvement among Eusoff Hall Residents. The EVC-Elderly group came about several years ago through the effort of some senior Eusoffians who felt the urge to perform community service and they chose to help elderly Singaporeans. Today, EVC-Elderly is actively involved in helping the elderly community around the Chin Swee area. Every year, EVC-Elderly delivers 2,000 packets of food to these elderly folks and spends almost 1,300 man-hours volunteering in the Chin Swee area, far exceeding the minimum 60-hour quota that NUS has set as its annual target for student volunteers.

EVC-Elderly's main purpose is to bring hope to shattered lives by offering these individuals their friendship, offering a weekly meal to those in need, and to build understanding and care between the young and old. These elderly persons are supported materially by various other organizations. However, many of them have no next-of-kin or have no one to care for them, and many of these old folks live alone. EVC-Elderly's weekly visits make a real and tangible difference in their lives.

Contributions in the form of food donations from vendors in the NUS canteens are sent weekly to the elderly. Beside this, the volunteers also help to fix faulty in the homes they visit like replacing light bulbs, tightening loose taps and so on. Helping immobile elders spring-clean their homes to make it more comfortable and hygienic, helps to cheer them up. Weekly household chores like sweeping, mopping and grocery shopping are done without fail to ensure their continued comfort and convenience.

EVC-Elderly also lends an ear to hear their grievances, their complaints of pain and even their reminiscences of their past glories. Often our volunteers are the only people that these elderly are able to converse with and these sessions helps give emotional and mental support to the old folks. There is a close rapport between the volunteers and elders which gives them something to look forward to on our visit.

Recently, EVC-Elderly has begun to look into the health and well-being of the elderly folks in our care. Volunteers give advice to the elderly on how to take care of their general health and hygiene. EVC-Elderly have also started to encourage these elderly folks to have regular health checks at the nearest polyclinic. Our volunteers would accompany the old folks to the polyclinics to seek medical attention. We also follow up on the referrals made by the medical authorities to ensure adequate medical attention given to these elders. In case of minor injuries like cuts and bruises, medical aid is provided like proper dressings and wound management.

The EVC-Elderly service has been caring for elderly folks over the last few years. They often go beyond the scope of their responsibilities. Early this year when one of the elderly folks passed away without any next-of-kin, the EVC-Elderly group interviewed people and talked to different social organisations before they tracked down the church this man attended and helped them arrange for a decent and proper funeral as a final dignity for someone who had become their friend.

EVC-Elderly volunteers go about touching the lives of these elderly folk without fanfare and without complaint. What is most remarkable about our team of volunteers, apart from their tremendous generosity and self-sacrifice, almost of them are international students who put their hearts and soul, into helping Singaporeans in great need.

YOUTH SERVICE-LEARNING AWARD 2007

■ Eusoff Alumni, Eusoff Expeditions

■ Article prepared by Hall Office

The Eusoffian spirit of volunteerism is flying high and many are following in the footsteps of Johann Annuar and Stefan Chow E-Fung from Class of 2004 to be caring, daring and to make a difference. Johann is the communications officer for the first Singapore Mt Everest Expedition in 1998 and also a participant of the first Singapore Transcontinental Cycling Expedition 2003/2004 while Stefan is a member of NUS Centennial Everest Expedition Team 2005.

Eusoff Alumni

Johann and Stefan are just two of many Eusoffians that have made significant contributions. Jane Lee and Sim Yihui are members of the Singapore Women's Everest Team to summit Mustagh Ata (7,546m) in China. This is part of their training for their attempt to conquer Mount Everest in 2008. Their expedition in July made them the first all-women team in Singapore to summit a 7,000m mountain.

Eusoff Expeditions

Eusoffians are also given the opportunity to take volunteerism beyond Singapore through the Eusoff Expeditions Committee, which was established in 2004. The Expeditions team is made up of several enthusiasts who start their planning and fund-raising very early in the academic year. In May 2005, Eusoff Expeditions set off to Cambodia for their maiden expedition for 18 days. During which, they built a classroom among other activities as part of their community service. In May 2006, the Expeditions Team raised funds for another mission to help school children in Village Chan of Prey Veng Province in Cambodia. This won them the 2006 Student Achievement Award.

All these activities are amongst the many that are organized by Eusoffians. We will be looking forward to more exciting and meaningful contributions by Eusoffians in this coming year and the years ahead, raising the volunteerism spirit in Eusoff to a new height.

EXPEDITIONS

■ 18th May - 1st June

■ Prey Vang, Cambodia

On May 18th 2007, 31 of us Eusoffians embarked on a journey of self-discovery and community service to Prey Vang, Cambodia. We stayed and carried out our projects in Village Chan. Although what we did there may be deemed insignificant in light of the large-scale sustained aid that is really needed, we are secure in the knowledge that we have at least definitely brought joy to the people, especially the children, in our 2-week stay. Beautiful memories are what we gained, and because we are all Eusoffians, we have decided that what we gain we share. Hahaha...

Well, none of us will ever forget,

Our helpful, ever-willing and passionate driver/translator/guide Dollah, who always goes, 'WOW WOW WOW.'

Everyone smelling the same once night falls...courtesy of 'OFF' insect repellent.

The bloody gecko freaking out everyone during bedtime with its surround-sound cry for the first few nights.

Every day's duty group getting to go to the market in the morning to buy ingredients for lunch and dinner, and in the process stuffing ourselves with cheap delectable local fare.

Sandpapering the classroom walls which covered us in residue and also left us with probably half a year less to live from breathing it in.

Teaching English lessons to the Cambodian schoolchildren. Altogether now, 'Ehhhhhhh BEEEEEEEE CEEEEEEEE DEEEEEE EEEEE EFFFFF GEEEEEE.....'

Digging two wells using semi-primitive but equally efficient equipment under the guidance of the Great Grand Well Master (who has a missing middle finger).

Organizing Sports Day for the schoolchildren on our second last morning. The mayhem, the noise, the crazy, enthusiastic kids zooming around...and the groans following the revelation that a miscommunication with the school meant another round of Sports Day in the afternoon! Don't get us wrong, we love it. But it's draining too. Just imagine rounding up a bunch of hyper-excited kids who do not understand a thing you say and who wouldn't care even if they did.

The oh-so-adorable siblings, naked boy and naked girl. The first demanded carrying and swinging, while the other loved stealing slippers, hitting us and pulling down our shorts. Both have a penchant for nudity.

Chamran. The angsty, attention-seeking little boy who still manages to melt our hearts (especially the girls) with his roguish charm. Confirmation that it pays to look good...

Chamri aka the princess. Always dolled up and pretty. Even picked up some Cantonese phrases from foster moms Charmaine and Theresa.

The unsuccessful attempt orchestrated by Head ONE Zhiyuan to bury Head TWO Siang Hwee in the sand, resulting in Derek somehow being the scapegoat and getting a subsequent scolding from Head THREE Bernard.

The May/June birthday babies, Bernard, Edwin, Simin and Wilson, who were made to devour a duck foetus egg each. Yummy. And ultimate loser Wilson standing up, gathering everyone's attention, and then singing a birthday song to himself.

Viewing the picturesque sunrise and sunsets from the beautiful padi fields behind where we were staying.

The standard of food prepared by the duty group exponentially increasing every day. From the simple fried rice to roti-john, meatballs, bak kut teh, pork cutlets, french fries and a rosti-wannabe.

The heavenly and blissful sensation of gulping down an ice-cold coke/tanta/sprite after playing with the kids or walking back from the school under the scorching sun ...all for 1500 riels. (50cents)

The visit to Phnom Penh, which reflected the alarming disparity in living standards between village and city, allowing food for thought.

Last but not least, the tears that flowed on the morning we were leaving. Tears that best epitomize the bond formed between the villagers and us.

■ AD-HOC EVENTS

The ad-hoc events in Eusoff are amongst the largest scale events organized in Eusoff. Covered in this section are Eusoff Bazaar - EUPhoria, Dance Production - A Feast of Fate, Dinner and Dance - W.A.R., and Rag & Flag 2006.

Ad-hoc events are the key highlights of Eusoff and much time goes behind the planning and preparation for the events. We hope that through featuring these events, these beautiful memories will be etched into the hearts of all who were involved in one way or another.

A FEAST OF FATE - DANCE PRODUCTION

■ 16 February 2007

■ University Cultural Centre, NUS

After months of long rehearsals, Eusoff's very own production, A Feast of Fate, debuted on the 16th of February to a packed UCC auditorium. The night marked the end of months of practice and preparations for dancers, actors and the technical crew alike. It was the culmination of late nights of endless dancing and rehearsing. Our sweat, blood and tears.

This year, a portion of the net proceeds from the production will be donated to the Riding for the Disabled Association of Singapore (RDA). A production of this scale can never be measured in terms of monetary value but rather the time and effort spent to make it a success.

For this production, the dancers were composed of an eclectic mix of experienced seniors and freshmen, some of whom have never danced before. The acting cast also saw an introduction of new actors amidst those with experience in acting in previous productions. But alas, that did not matter. Sacrificing weeks of time and hours of sleep, every dance that night was the product of never ending counts of 5, 6, 7 and 8s. Each step was perfected, re-perfected and finally, polished to a shiny performance gleam. Expressions and projection methods were incessantly drilled into us. Pretty soon, dancing and acting was very much a part of each and every waking hour. Before we knew it, everything was set up for that final night.

The sets for this year's dance production can be described as innovative and fitting to the changing moods of the script of the production. Ranging from the portrayal of HDB flats to the larger than life dragon and phoenix in wayang-kulit fashion to the grand stairway leading to centre stage, the sets team has outdone itself once again!

Eusoff has always taken pride in its very strong dance background. This year's choreographers included freshmen, seniors and even alumni, all with different styles such as jazz, contemporary and hip-hop. That night, the costumes caught the eyes of the audience while the outstanding choreography captured their attention.

The opening dance choreographed by Ali showered the production with colour and liveliness. Crowd favorites Sera & Claudine's 'Revelation' dazzled the audience with dead steps and zombie technicality. June Zhu's vision was encapsulated in a magnificently memorable 'Shadow Puppet'. Xilin's dance which displayed Eusoffians' grace and elegance. Margie's "ge tai" rendition did not fail to seduce the audience with the dancer's sleek and sexy moves. Yijun's dance moved the audience by bringing out the pain and sadness in "death". The audience was also captivated by Freda's hip-hop choreography and was amused by "A Little Respect" - Eusoff Hall's own interpretation of mambo moves. It was definitely a night to remember; unforgettable for some, emotional for the others. To see the result of months of hard work was definitely pure elation

For the cast, it was a long journey of hard work, dedication and commitment. No doubt there have been sacrifices. But each sacrifice committed makes the end even more worth the while. When everyone puts up with it together, the hours pass by faster.

In time to come, we will forget all our steps or our lines, but to us, these are not all that mattered. If there is one thing that separates this performance from the others, it is that you are rehearsing sing with your neighbors, people you see at the dining hall, at the gym or just around your block. These are the people you live with, talk with, and go for supper with. Of course it will be enjoyable. Surely, stress and frustrations were rife, but it was all understandable and we were all prepared for it. Sure, it can be exhausting but in the end, it was all good fun.

Here's to the endless hours of marketing, to PnP for the excellent publicity done, the memorable hours of designing and sewing by our wardrobe people, the silent yet contingent support by the tech crew and backstage people, the splendour that the sets team created, the coordination by the admin team, the blood sweat and tears of the cast (actors and dancers), and definitely to the script-writers, directors and producers whose very presence ensured the success of Eusoff Hall Dance Production. Also many thanks to all who supported DP in any other way imaginable. Special thanks to Master and Dr Ho, SCRC, JCRC and and hall administrative staff for your support and guidance throughout.

Congratulations to Eusoff Hall for a job so splendidly done!

W.A.R. - DINNER AND DANCE

■ 30th March 2007

■ Marriot Hotel

A brilliant end to the Eusoff year, this year's DND was held at the Marriot Hotel. After months of preparations by the DND Committee, that night marked the unofficial end of a Eusoffian year.

The theme for this year's DND was W.A.R. Wear Anything Related. This entailed Eusoffians dressing up to whatever the acronym meant to them. Some of these included We Are Rebels, Wet And Refreshed, We Are Ragdolls and We Are Rockers.

The night kicked off with a very stirring and memorable speech by Vijay and it set the night in the right direction. Soon, games were played, lucky draws were won and pageant contestants started to strut down the catwalk. Things were indeed starting to heat up and Eusoffians were starting to enjoy themselves.

Amidst incessant photo-taking sessions, dinner was served in a very grand way. The food was, at best, forgettable as many were too involved in the festivities of the night to care. However, kudos must be said to the DND team for taking the time to plan and lay the groundwork for such a large scale event.

This year, the best dressed table went to the D4 guys and their rendition of Wrestlers Are Restless. In the famous words of one half of the Legion Of Doom, "What A Rush! After weeks of preparation, the day is finally here. We're going to take DND by storm."

Arriving a good one hour late, they royal-rumbled their way onto stage and stole the entire show. Expectedly, the entire DND was peppered with their endless antics of taunting and non-stop bouts of fighting. It was indeed a well-deserved win and they celebrated by taking a walk around town, costume in tow.

The night saw the Mr. & Miss Eusoff titles going to Manbeer and Rong Zhu of D Block respectively. Favourites from the start, they captivated us with their warm smiles and even warmer hearts. Deservingly, Adrian won Sportsman of the Year while Lorraine and Najiah were combined winners of the Sportswoman of the Year. Eusoffian of the Year went to Xiaoyan, a fitting swansong for the Ex-President.

For some, it was their first DND while for others; it marked the last time they could participate in such an event. It was a surreal event for the seniors and emotions were rife. It was only fitting that a toast was proposed to honour their contributions.

The hall cheer was chosen over the traditional yamseng and it was reverberated throughout the entire hotel. It was a fitting finale for the dinner, and also an even more apt closing to the Eusoffian year.

EUPHORIA - BAZAAR

■ 26th - 28th October 2007

Central Forum, NUS

The first memory that strikes many residents every time they think about Eusoff Bazaar – EUPHORIA, is that of an alarm ringing and waking them up to commence their duty to manage their respective booths at the forum. Those few days were challenging to many as they struggled to be on time for their duties.

Preparation for the bazaar had not been easy either. Every step of the organization, from calling up random vendors and talking to them for minutes only to hear a "We're not interested" to finding companies which could help sponsor the goodie bag products that involved a lot of effort and commitment.

The night of packing of goodie bags approached when Eusoffians packed contact lens cases, beauty products, lip gloss, free vouchers and coke bottles into goodie bags and took them to the Forum, where the Bazaar was going to be held. It is unforgettable how we whiled away time during sentry duty: chatting, studying for tests or just drifting in and out of sleep to scrape through our assigned duration of duty. I remember seeing a sea of people coming to the bazaar and happy faces (especially girls!), leaving with plenty of merchandise ranging from spectacles, clothes and handbags to food, free gifts and goodie bags. Most of all, it is a fun experience that many will cherish in times to come. For the organizers and for those who came to the bazaar, it would have been a fulfilling experience.

There could not have been a better way to kick off the Bazaar than a phenomenal performance by Eusoff's very own band, Peroxide. Added to this, a variety of stalls tempted many a visitor to buy the myriad of products that were being sold at nominal prices. Altogether, the Bazaar was a big success.

Lastly, it is events such as these that are instrumental in bringing out the qualities of co-operation and entrepreneurship in the residents while making their hall experience a more wholesome one at the same time.

RAG AND FLAG

■ Early August, 2007

■ SRC Field, NUS (Rag Day)

NUS Flag and Rag Day saw teams from various faculties and halls of residence pooling their talent in a burst of creativity for the Rag Day at the NUS sports arena. The NUS Students' Union which put this event together, also earlier organised the NUS Flag Day where 6,000 freshmen went round Singapore to collect donations for charity – managing to raise about $380,000.

Eusoff Hall played an instrumental part in Flag Day, which was held on the 8th of August, where the residents were dispatched around the island to raise funds for various organizations. Eusoffians were rudely awakened at 4am in the morning to gather in the function hall but by 7am, all of us were at our designated flag area and ready to begin. The day ahead was excitedly anticipated as we tried to raise the most amount of money for our hall, in our bid to once again capture the "Best Total Collection for a Hall of Residence" and Chancellor's Shield for Eusoff Hall.

Rag Day was held on the 12th of August. After months of hardwork and perseverance round the clock, Eusoffians were all set to capture the hearts of the judges with their perfectly choreographed dance moves and the majestic float. The dancers were fully synchronized and the float itself was a joy and wonder to look at. Everyone was full of passion and determination.

Unfortunately, many will remember the day that the Eusoff flag died in the wind. It was a trying day for all of us. Anguish, heartbreak, grief and sorrow. Words can barely describe the emotions of that day. Many of us expected triumph but were instead greeted with the blackness of defeat. It was a bleak day for many, etched into our memories forever.

Let us remember it as the day we conquered our loss, and emerged stronger. Remember it as the day Sheau Yann stood on her little block, Captain's hat and all, and gave us that inspirational speech. Let us remember the bitter taste of defeat so we never ever taste it again. Last of all, let us remember everyone who had poured in so much effort into flag and rag, and treat them like brave warriors who stood up to the challenges and obstacles that stood in their paths.

"Winning is not everything, but the effort to win is." – Zig Ziglar

But most importantly, we will remember the journey we took, the friendships that were forged and the ties that brought everyone closer. Know that we will not be judged by that one day, but be remembered for the many days. It is in these few days that we are truly triumphant.

The day will come when the Eusoff flag will fly high once more. And we will be below it, yelling our hearts out.

ORIENTATION

■ Early August, 2007

■ NUS Campus

Eusoff Orientation started on the 31st of July and finished (us) off magnificently with the Eusoff Challenge on the 4th of August. This year's Orientation theme was Impero. Yes, that word on your black shirt, under the fur ball, means "empire".

This year, the groups were Ezzenti, Ulyxar, Spazola, Oranar, Fansiria & Fyonic. EUSOFF for short. Unfortunately, they also meant Slippers, Cockroach, Toothbrush, Toilet Paper, Garlic & Banana. SCITGB for short, which did not make sense to me. Fortunately, I like pointless things and it was a good start – I saw the shape of things to come.

The first day of orientation began with the usual ice breakers and banner paintings and ended with a campus tour in the evening. Not that it mattered, because I still get lost on a daily basis. The highlight for the next few days was the preparation for the Big Show, and basically doing things that you thought you'd never ever do, or do again.

The Big Show itself was a fanfare of nonsensical ideas put together in 3 days. Though there was no nudity, foul language or violence, the performances were still stellar and were thoroughly enjoyed. The mood was definitely lifted as everyone cheered enthusiastically for each other. The Eusoff Spirit was in full swing.

Orientation, like my mathematics lectures, was a blur to me. I remember running around a lot, and acting pretty much like fools everywhere we went. Whether it was running away from girls during the SVFP game or from giant super soakers during the war games, there was plenty of running around. So that's one thing about Eusoff, we like to run.

Eusoff War Games. Intimidating and frightening. That is exactly how you describe eating tomato ketchup from a watermelon. Not exactly pleasant, but after you try it, some say it helps you get accustomed to hall food faster. The actual war game itself lasted an eternity, and all were soaked to the bone. Looking back, I'm not sure what it accomplished.

Orientation culminated with the Eusoff Challenge, a run-climb-jog throughout the entire campus. So for those who ate dinner just before the event, it was a real challenge. Who'd think that the innocuous sounding Eusoff Challenge involved a campus run? But then again, like I said, we like to run. So run we did. Like brave warriors, or so they say. I was behind trying to digest my dinner. We started the run as a hall and finished together as a hall. Throughout the run, the Eusoff spirit was intense. No one was left behind and there were always shouts of encouragement echoing from the seniors and freshmen alike. The gap had been bridged.

I remember my first day at Eusoff. Which involved being forced to buy Eusoff FBTs because "everyone" wears them, and then regretting spending $12 on something shorter than my boxers. But the fact of the matter is, it has the words Eusoff printed on it. So what I'm trying to say here is, guys, we should wear our FBTs with pride.

Well, so am I glad I went for EHOC instead of my faculty orientation? Of course. After all, you only see your faculty people for a few hours a day, but you see your hall friends the rest of the time. Many of us weren't prepared for the long hours; however, it is only at these times that we truly bond. Laughing, dancing and playing, these memories may fade, but our friendships never will. Ultimately, orientation was a blast, if you went for it. To everyone who contributed to make orientation a success, our hearts go out to you. Thank you.

■ CULTURE

06/07 has seen a continuous chain of culture events organized and performed by Eusoffians. Our involvement in cultural activities range from administrative aspects to the actual performance.

The cultural events in Eusoff encompassed our annual small and large scale affairs, as well as events that are contained within the boundaries of the hall to events that reach out to prospective Eusoffians.

Culture in Eusoff Hall this year has reached its peak, and this zest in culture is unlikely to die down any soon. This section is indeed an understatement of the cultural involvement of Eusoffians this year.

BANDS

■ Mahawudge Nipuna

Head of Bands

Twamudas

Twamudas, the new resident band from Eusoff Hall is made up of six youngsters. The name Twamudas is a concatenation of 2 Indonesian words meaning old-young. This band brings songs from up to a generation ago back to life with renewed vigour and energy.

They have been catching attention around on campus and off with their unique take on rock and roll classics, always putting on a good show. The band truly defines music in a global sense with members from Malaysia, Indonesia, Sri Lanka, Vietnam and of course, Singapore, each contributing cultural influences and elements into their music.

Twamudas consists of Andrew on lead vocals, Ian and Kayan on percussion, Sham on lead guitar, Tan on rhythm guitar, Kim on bass and Handy on keyboards.

The group's musical repertoire includes classic rock, funk, blues, jazz, and alternative, but they are always ready to expand their musical horizon and go beyond the rules, incorporating electronic textures and world music to create a sound that is inimitable and memorable at the same time.

Second Nature

Amidst a slew of alternative emo bands comes Second Nature from Eusoff Hall. Paired with excellent instrumentation is 2 amazing vocalists, delivering powerful haunting melodies with a hard edge. Making up the sonic soundscape is Kim and Harsonal on vocals, Sham on lead guitar, Yee Kiat on rhythm guitar, Vinod and Joshua on percussion, Nipuna on bass and Alina on keyboards.

The band's repertoire includes hard rock, alternative and punk but they aren't scared to incorporate different styles into their songs to get a unique multifaceted sound. Indeed the band is famous for mashing/merging/blending songs together and has turned a few heads with songs like "Chasing Yellow Cars" and "Bring Zombie Back to Life", transcending their own respective styles and showcasing musical synergy at its finest.

DRRMS to the Z

It means: Darren, Royston, Ruisheng, Marcus, Shawn to the Zhiyuan. This band mainly consists of Royston and Ruisheng playing keyboard with Darren, Royston and Freda (not in the title) on vocals. They play a majority of slow songs in English and Chinese and staged their performances in Eusoff talentime and GRASS.

CHOIR

■ Andrew Putra Sophian

■ Head of Choir

The academic year of 2006/2007 was an exciting year for Eusoff Choir, a choral group made up of talented individuals wishing to share their vocal abilities with Eusoff Hall and the rest of NUS. Led by the heads of the choir, Andrew Putra and Handy Anwar, the choir has made a great and renewed impact on the cultural scene of the hall this year. During semester 1, the choir was involved in Social Awareness Week and performed to a delighted audience of fellow Eusoffians in the dining hall. They sang a medley of songs both in English and Chinese, as well as songs requested by members of the audience and dedicated to their friends in the audience. Members of the choir also performed at G.R.A.S.S., this year's in-hall talent competition, which saw the involvement of many talented Eusoffians.

In semester 2, the choir found itself extremely busy as they first performed at this year's NUS open house to a large group of incoming freshmen for the academic year of 2007/2008. Following that, the choir had its major performance as a part of the NUS inter-hall choral production known as "Amplitude". At this event, the Eusoff Choir performed 2 songs, "Il est bel et bon" a French song from the Renaissance of the 15th Century as well as "In My Life," a song by the ever popular The Beatles, with soloist Valerie Vincent, alongside choral performances by the other five halls. Andrew Putra also performed in the Indonesia singing group known as "Regu A", performing the Indonesian song "Rayuan Pulau Kelapa" and a retro medley of disco favourites.

The choir also performed for this year's Culture Night, which was presented in conjunction with the Eusoff Hall Merit Award Board Dinner and they performed the same 2 songs that were presented during "Amplitude". In addition to that performance, the choir aided the hall's Chinese Performance Group by singing the song "Winter Wonderland" for the group's drama performance at the dinner.

All in all, the Eusoff Choir has found itself extremely busy this past year, as the whole hall in general focuses more of their attention not just on sports but on cultural activities as well. Next year the choir hopes to broaden their range by adding an acapella group to their repertoire and expanding their existing strength within the choir itself.

CHINESE PERFORMING GROUP

■ Zhang Yu

■ Head of CPG

As the only stand-alone Chinese Culture Group in Eusoff, the Chinese Performance Group (CPG) aims to promote Chinese Culture in hall as well as in NUS. CPG has 2 main wings : CPG Drama and CPG Xinyao: a group for performing and composing Chinese Songs, on occasion also collaborating with other culture groups in hall.

CPG meets up quite often, and the members are quite passionate about what they do, be it writing or editing scripts, acting out plays, making props, renting costumes, singing or playing instruments. Members say that practices and meetings are more fun than their average CCA activity, and they foster a sense of family.

The Chinese Drama Group has had many successful plays throughout the year; including "Meteor Garden" <流星花園> for the Mid Autumn Festival Night, "The Legend of the Kitchen God" <灶神> for the Chinese New Year Reunion Dinner and "The Cop and the Anthem" <警察和讚美詩> in collaboration with Eusoff Choir and CPG Xinyao.

CPG Xinyao also had its share of successes, taking part in events such as Social Awareness Week (in collaboration with EVC), the Eusoff Bazaar "Euphoria", International Student's Supper (in collaboration with IRC), the K.E. Xinyao External Concert and Eusoff Talent Night (G.R.A.S.S.). Most recently one of the CPG members made it into the semifinals of Star Dust, the annual talent competition.

CPG looks forward to a fresh year - one of fresh new talents and of wonderful performances!

DANCE CORPS

■ Yeo Xilin

■ Head of Committee

Eusoff Dance Corps consists of a team of dance enthusiasts who are more than willing to put up entertaining performances for any hall events. Dance Corps seeks improvement in terms of dance technicality and showmanship as an individual and as a team. In addition, members in Dance Corps will interact with each other during practices to gain trust and understanding in order to display better chemistry on stage.

Not all 25 members in Dance Corps have dance background. Therefore, it is also an ideal place for beginners to pick up dancing and for experienced dancers to hone their teaching and choreography skills.

In the academic year 06/07, Dance Corps participated in three major events. They performed in the Eusoff Culture Night, G.R.A.S.S last year, and also in the annual combined hall dance production, Dance Uncensored and an annual dance competition, Funkamania XIII. Funkamania is known to have one of the highest standards in hip hop dance competition with teams from all tertiary institutions taking part. Last year, the standards were raised to another level but Eusoff managed to be the only hall from NUS to clinch a place in the finals amidst the many other teams from NUS, NTU, Ngee Ann polytechnic etc. Hopefully this year Dance Corps would be able to produce same, if not better results.

For Dance Uncensored, Dance Corps performed three dances. Melissa choreographed a contemporary dance piece. With the use of props such as chairs, the dance beautifully portrays the journey of self-discovery. Xilin, the Dance Corps president, together with Margaret, Siding and Freda, choreographed another exuberant hip hop dance – full of energy and dynamism! June's dance was a fusion of contemporary, Balinese and jazz choreography – a must-watch.

In conclusion, Dance Corps hopes to improve all members in their dance abilities and bond closely together as a team.

DRAMA COMMITTEE

■ Chung Zhi Hao, Joe

■ Head of Committee

The Drama Committee of Eusoff Hall was resurrected after a yearlong hiatus. The committee was closed when dwindling membership in past years became an issue.

This year, the Drama Committee has returned bigger (with 22 members), better and looper than ever!

Officially called The Yellow Subs and fondly known as Joe and Co. (after the much loved president), the drama committee kick started the semester with a haunted house and a film at Halloween. The house of horrors showcased a haunted mahjong table, the phantom-mugger-load, the ghost of IHG, the spirits of the DnD pageant contestants –ironically, current pageant winner, Manbeer Mangat played the “dead Mr. Eusoff”- and the grotesque dining hall chef.

Besides performing, The Yellow Subs looked into providing its members with specific skills. Eusoff Drama alumni, Kim Liang and Kok Siew came down during the holidays to conduct a workshop on acting in theatre. These former Eusoffians offered advice on acting and the necessary preparations for one to act. They mainly covered acting in theatre productions and tackling children's theatre.

A film production talk was held during the December holidays to train Subs who were interested in filming. Alicia and Andy, students of NTU, gamely came down to Eusoff to give the talk and answer film related questions put forth by the Subs.

SCRC member, famous novelist and renowned playwright, Ovidia Yu conducted a writing workshop in Eusoff. The aim of the workshop was to tap on script writing skills and Ms Yu was at hand to inspire the Subs and give them pointers.

The Drama Committee ended its academic calendar with a major event, SIX – an inter-hall drama fest. The Yellow Subs initiated and spearheaded this project with the blessings of the hall administration and culture committees. SIX was a mélange of [six] short plays, written, directed and performed by the various residents of the NUS Halls. Subs wrote and directed two of the six plays, and our thespians were in four of the six plays. SIX was a friendly collaboration between Eusoff Hall, Kent Ridge Hall and King Edward VII Hall and is likely to be an annual event. The Subs were involved at almost every level from administrative to creative.

■ SPORTS

Like any other year, sports in 06/07 occupies a prominent position all year round.

The Sports section in this year book will cover the IHG seasons in Eusoff, where each worked their magic to bond the residents of the hall as they trained and fought together for the glory of Eusoff.

This section would like to acknowledge every Eusoffian who has given up much of his time to attend the trainings for their respective sports and to point out that each Eusoffian sportsman / sportswoman is a champion because triumph is not everything. Champions are made of passion for the hall and for the sports, a dream that they work towards, and a vision to claim back the trophy next year.

Training for IHG started out slow for the badminton team, many of our players were involved in other IHG sports, IVP and dance etc. It was sad to see a team full of potential to win IHG hands down, with everything except commitment. I guess it was because the team consisted mainly of freshmen who did not see how important IHG is to us Eusoffians, but as time passed, the team started to form with people coming down for trainings and winning IHG became possible. It was encouraging to see how we started to provide each other with encouragement, how to improve our games and building our confidence. This year, the badminton team was fortunate to still have our very important seniors around to guide us young players along. Also, our graduate senior, Zhiye, who used to be part of the team came back to help us train and are very thankful for his presence.

This year, both the male and female teams made it into the finals, the guys faced Sheares Hall in the finals and the girls faced Temasek Hall. As for the guy's team, I guess it was a disappointment that we didn't win the finals especially after defeating our opponents in the preliminaries. Luck was just not on our side, the line up for us were to our advantage throughout the whole IHG season up till the semi-finals. As for the girl's team, Temasek Hall was just the better Hall. As much as losing during the finals was a big disappointment, not just to the badminton team but also the whole of Eusoff, this is where we will grow stronger only if we learn from our mistakes.

We needed to have more trainings definitely, we needed to be less complacent, and most importantly we have to want it more. Everyone in the team needs to visualize winning the gold together and together, fight to achieve it. We are Eusoff, and because we are Eusoff, the other halls won't just give us the gold, we have to fight for it and being fighters, we will take the GOLD back next year! It's us against everyone else.

Goh Siang Hwee

Senior Player

In all my years of playing badminton, I enjoyed playing for Eusoff the most.

With the exception of this year, I have won 3 golds in my 4 years here. The first two years were easy wins because we had strong teams and experienced players. The third year was tricky. We spent countless hours trying to come up with a win-win line-up. On paper, we seemed to be the stronger team, but somehow we knew we could not afford to be complacent and take our opponents too lightly. In the end, the line-up which we decided upon was the one which I was the most comfortable with. And so, it turned out that I was to play the crucial doubles match.

It was to be the match that I would never forget. This game was really tight, and I was surprised that I didn't crack (too much) from the pressure and intensity of the situation. The most amazing part of the match was the support from all the fellow Eusoffians, of whom I need to specially mention Jane Hia. I think she probably lost her lungs after that match. Thank you. Of course, I won the match and the feeling was freaking exhilarating. Each time that I recall the moment, I feel like I'm on top of the world. Thank you Eusoff, for giving me these priceless memories. And I would also like to thank the reporter who wrote my match report, which I still keep.

Teng Geok

Ker Liang

This year, even though we lost, I thought we lost to a better team. Not that I am trying to find excuses for ourselves, but it is a fact that the other team had shown a better team spirit than we had. Sometimes when I did look back, I do blame myself for not having been a good role model as a senior. For the past three years that I had been a junior, I always had a senior to look up to. I would always leave all the decisions to the seniors. I should have done more this year. Should have.

I would like to quote what Dr Mark Emmanuel (C Block Resident Fellow) said to me before, "In retrospect, we all have 20/20 vision." The important thing to learn from the defeat this year is that you have to work HARD to achieve your goal. We need to humble ourselves and learn from others. In badminton, we should never focus only on the key players. Learn from the Sheares badminton guys' team, they are an excellent example. They are truly worthy of this year's title because you can tell that they trained hard. More importantly, they trained hard as a team (and they only have one ex-IVP player). Besides training hard, you've got to give your best. Giving your best does not just refer to crucial points only. You need to give your best right from the start, during every training. You don't necessarily have to be serious throughout the training, but you have to make sure that at the end of the training, you are a level up from the last training. With something like less than two months to train, one simply cannot afford to start from zero every training. If somehow you cannot train hard, and somehow cannot give your best, the last thing you need to do: love Eusoff! Play with your heart and also be there for your fellow Eusoffians. Your presence really will/does make a difference.

Eusoff always,

Having trained hard for the past 3 months before IHG, it was bitterly disappointing not to come back with the gold medal for Eusoff Hall. Since Eusoff has not won the basketball guys gold for quite some time, we were determined to bring glory back to Eusoff this year. But it was not to be. With a culmination of injuries and hard luck, the team fell at the last hurdle.

However, there were some valuable experiences to be taken away from our journey. Team bonding was strong, players were committed, and the camaraderie within the team is something any IHG team would have been proud of. Such was the commitment of the team that attendance for training never fell below 80%, which was very commendable. Supporters who have been to our matches would have seen our indomitable fighting spirit, which was most evident during the final against our neighbour Temasek Hall. This led to the basketball team being named IHG Team of the Year.

It is safe to say that every single member in the basketball came down for every single training session, played for every single match with a common goal in mind and that was to win the IHG. With this elusive goal yet to be achieved, the Eusoff Basketball team will bounce back ever so strongly next year and we will surely make it known to everyone out there our desire to bring the title back home again.

Being a fresh team without many experienced players, I wanted the players to learn basketball through playing, most important of all; I wanted them to enjoy this process of playing basketball. So, every training was like a mini game for me and the players. I had fun, seriously, and I hope they had fun too.

Firstly, I would like to say that i was very disappointed that the Male HANDBALL team didn't manage to sway the judges to pick them as TEAM OF THE YEAR!!!! It is the first time that Eusoff's handball team (M) has made it into the semi-finals. Not only did we do that, we manage to score almost triple the number of goals we usually score. Unofficially, we are 3rd place as we manage to score more than KR against the defending champions RH.

Secondly, for those who were there at the court (sadly, almost no Eusoffians were there expect Ben and 1 other guy from SP), could tell how hard every member fought for one another. The never-say-die attitude, the intensity from first to the last min, the number of times we had to pick ourselves up and of course, the number of goals scored by a EH team was absolutely unbelievable.

Go on, pick up the yearbooks for the last 10 to 15 years, see for your own eyes, when was the last time our guys' team won a single match, let alone entered the semis.

As a captain, I feel very lucky to have the opportunity to have such a team to train with, play and fight with. None of us were handballers to start with, yet with discipline on and off court, good attendance at training, patience at heart, we manage to show other halls with years of experience and handball as their culture sport that Eusoffians can NEVER EVER be underestimated.

Too bad for those who didn't get to watch any of the games, this will be something which you will never see again on court. As a sportsman, I believe that when you "take care of the process, the results will take care of itself". This team has proven to me and everyone else that we can have fun at training and yet achieve results beyond even our own expectations.

As a graduating senior, I hope next year's players can build up on what we achieved this season. Thanks again to everyone who played a role in making this IHG a memory that I will NEVER forget.

Cheers,

The Eusoff Handball girls' team for this season is a fairly new one. Having many veteran players graduating after last year's campaign, the team was left with only a few slightly more experienced players. With this, we were faced with an immense pressure to retain the champion's title that the seniors fought hard for. Forging new bonds and finding new chemistry within the team was an uphill task. However, the new players did not see this in a bad light. They trained very hard throughout the whole period, and with the help of the alumni, they grasped the basics to this game within a short span of time. Despite the fact that this is a whole new game to many of the new players, many showed tremendous potential. Although as compared to the other teams, who have players that are one class above us, with more experience and skills, the team did not give up. We strove hard to learn whatever we could and in this journey, new friendships were found.

We started off the season with a glitch, losing unexpectedly to the team from Raffles Hall and eventually being knocked out at the semi finals stage. Although this result is far from desirable, this team definitely learnt a lot from this whole campaign. It is consoling to hear that some new players have stepped up to train regularly for the campaign next year, and also gaining exposure by participating in this year's Singapore Handball League. I commend the efforts of these players and certainly would hope for more of this from other players. We will definitely be a more prepared team, a stronger opponent and a force to be reckoned with, by next year's IHG campaign. Eusoff to the fore IHG 05/06 had ended with disappointment for hockey guys. 4 wins, 0 losses with 0 goals conceded and yet we had ended up losing our chance to keep the Hockey Championship for the 10th year running, coming in second to our arch rivals, Temasek! Memories of the "defeat" spurred us on in the 06/07 season.

Though a number of seniors from the previous competition had graduated, the eagerness of the freshmen more than made up for their loss. The rainy season made preparation tough as many trainings had to be cancelled. We made the best of the trainings that went on and the team progressed impressively as we approached the day of the tournament. As fate would have it, we were set up for sweet, sweet revenge against Temasek by the time we played them in the last game. Feelings of deja vu prevailed as we went into the game with 4 wins and 0 losses. Even though we failed to keep a clean sheet this time round, all we needed to reclaim our title as Hockey Champs was a draw. And draw we did. 0-0 at full time meant that Eusoff had their first gold of many. This memory is one most of the guys will remember. Graduating seniors had made most of their "Last Year, Last Chance" and without doubt will remember IHG 06/07 for some time to come.

As captain of the winning side, I'd like to thank all the players for their dedication and effort. Thanks Nikhil, Ranjan and, especially, Noel for conducting the trainings with your experience. And last but not least, Thanks Ben for all the admin you did for the Hockey team as sports secretary. I hope next year's team can replicate our victory and restart a Eusoff Hockey Legacy.

Each hockey ball has its own journey. But the hockey balls we owned, shared one destination. No team in the world is perfect; neither were we. There were problems to iron out but we managed to put aside all our differences and work together. We had the spirit, lots of it. We endured the sun and rain, grumbled during our tough workouts, but still pushed ourselves to sweep and whack the balls.

The most memorable moment of the whole tournament was when the last whistle of the last match was blown. Those who were there felt the Eusoff spirit. Many tears were shared upon the final whistle. It was not so much the pain of not attaining the first place, but the fact that that would be the last match that some of us would be playing together as a team.

To my darlingments, always remember how special IHG was. How much you worked for it. All the sweat, blood and tears you shed for it. Always remember that because of this, you are, and will always be, true champions in our hearts.

In the end, victory was but only a complementary item. It was the knowledge that we grew as a team, shared the same journey; a team that had brought hockey in Eusoff to a whole new level that will forever hold a permanent place in our hearts.

Truly it is a wonderful and lifetime experience to be part of this ever so loving family.

To the freshies, always remember "winning is not everything, but wanting to win is".

To the seniors, "never had a dream come true, till the day that I found you".

Gold, and nothing but. Given the strong netball tradition in Eusoff, most have come to expect a great deal from our golden girls, and year after year, they have never failed to deliver.

This year was no exception, as they clinched the title in emphatic fashion, oozing class from the first centre pass to the last goal. KEVII, 48-3. KR, 28-1. SH, 45-13. TH, 36-28. While these score lines are clear for all to see, the hours of hard work and effort put in by the netballers were nowhere as visible. Skill and talent alone is no guarantee of victory, which is why regular training sessions were held to foster teamwork and cooperation among the seasoned seniors and green freshmen. Given the strength of the core team of comprising inter-varsity players like Huifen, Hezhen, Sook Teng and Andrea, one may wonder what the future would hold for the Eusoff netballers once these gems of seniors graduate. However, looking at the younger players like Ai Li, Rachel, Alina and Vanessa during their run outs, one can rest assured that with some time, experience and grooming, we will soon be looking at the next generation of Eusoff netballers.

All in all, it has been a good IHG season for the netballers, having secured yet another netball gold with a victory against rivals Temasek, amidst the emergence of promising new players.

The year started off with a search for the best runners in Eusoff to compete against the best in other halls. After a meticulous and prolonged search, a dream team was formed. The Eusoff road relay team comprised Peter Marini, Phua Junjie, Benjamin Ng, Derrick Phong, Allan Alex Sim and was captained by Sikhander Singh (Sunny). The main focus of the team was to capture the IHG Road Relay title. Having won the title the previous year, we were definitely the team to watch out for. Intensive amount of hours and effort was channeled by the guys and the title was eventually retained for another year.

Special mention must be made to Derrick Phong who has put in extra effort and dedication to train up the guys. Special mention must be made to our Sports Secretary and his team for carrying out their tasks efficiently without which the team success would not be realized.

Here's a quote to end things off, "Always set the bar for your goals higher than you think you can jump. If you reach for it and fall, as long as you get up and give it another shot, then you will have accomplished more than you ever thought was possible. And the day that you do achieve that goal, it will be the best feeling in the world."

Initially, it was quite tough trying to get the runners to come down and train together as most of them were involved in other trainings. The attendance for training sessions was regularly ranged from two to three people and I must say that I was feeling quite disheartened and worried. But thankfully, also because of the other on-going training sessions, most of the runners had already built up sufficient stamina for the arduous run! Nearing the date of the race, we had a time trial and everyone fared rather badly and that was where the seniors stepped in. Derrick, Ben and Kenneth decided to call for a confidence run, where the route was divided into three parts and we just ran for our lives!!! It was one crazy run but I'm sure it gave us a lot more confidence. I really need to thank the seniors for their help because we were all feeling so helpless!

In the end, even though we didn't manage to beat the Temasek team, I'm really proud of the girls. Despite facing immense pressure to win the race (we were the last IHG sport that was the deciding factor as to whether we could win the IHG overall championship) the girls handled the pressure well and put up a really good fight. Not many people could have persevered on or done as well as the runners did given the pressure that we were facing. Hence, I want to say a big thank you to Vanessa, Jesselyn, Huifen, Najiah, Huixin, and Rebecca. You all deserve the most credit and I'm really proud of you all. Last but not least, I want to thank Caroline, Jessica, Shanta, Joo Fee, Valerie, Christine, Xinlian, and the six others mentioned above for making their way down for trainings and for staying together as a team.

It's been a fantastic year for me as captain of this particular Takraw squad. Thank you guys for making my job so much easier by being so passionate and self-motivated about the sport. I also want to apologize for my lack of administrative ability and organization. It's something I'm still struggling with even in school.

I have to say I had my doubts initially... could we live up to the name of reigning IHG Takraw champions? Were we as good as our seniors? Expectations were obviously high after last year's dramatic victory. At the end of it all we've all grown as players and as a team and once again, emerged champions, our victory less dramatic and more emphatic than the previous year. I dare say we deserve it after all the noise we've subjected the A Block residents to hearing with our daily Takraw sessions.

My final words to conclude my time as captain- do not live in the shadows of your seniors. Become legends in your own right, your own time. This being said, do not be over-confident and always treat your opponents with respect. I hope that you guys will also always play with class, winning and losing graciously. Once again, It's been an honour to be THE captain of Eusoff Sepak Takraw 06/07.

Eusoff Hall has always been blessed with the finest soccer players that any other halls could only grow green with envy and this year was no exception. On paper, Eusoff boasted THE strongest team in the tournament even though the results speak otherwise. Preparations were severely hindered but honestly I think we played the best football in the tournament. I think there aren't enough words for me to express my thanks and gratitude to all the players that have made it possible one way or another.

To my fellow graduating seniors Adrian, Noel, Ranjo, Collin, Kenneth, I'm so so sorry that I couldn't bring home the gold; it would have been the perfect sending off gift for all of us. Please accept my sincerest apologies if I haven't lived up to your expectations.

My dearest B blockers Daming and Jingpei, my apologies again for not giving you guys enough playing time or any playing time for that matter. I honestly had planned things to be very different. Encik, my court soccer buddy and ever willing-to-listen advisor, it's all up to you to restore the Eusoff court soccer tradition.

Daniel and Bowen, my 2 other 3rd year seniors, it was a real pity I couldn't utilize you guys more often. Do continue to stick around and continue to play a part for Eusoff soccer.

The year 2 jokers, Royston, Terence, Nam-Gor, Martin, Junior, Joseph and Ah-Nuar, you guys will be the backbone of the team next year. Hopefully you lads will be writing a different story the same time next year.

And finally the year one freshies, Darren, Ian, Chris, Jiarui, Gim, Isaac, Ashok, Wilson, Timberlake, Pei'an, Derek and Weimin. This hasn't been the perfect start but nonetheless I hope it was an eventful one for all you soccer enthusiasts. Work hard and strive harder to become the next champions.

My special thanks goes out to Gerald. Thank you for taking the time to play for us. It has been my pleasure working with you.

Once again, a big thanks to all the players who had accompanied me throughout these months. It has really been an honour for me to have played along side each and every one of you. I wish you fellas all the best in your future endeavors.

Eusoff – you either love it or hate it. For one, I love it to bits. That's why I wanted to captain the female soccer team since my first IHG, to contribute to the all-rounder hall. In my first year, the team, made up of many experienced graduating seniors and overwhelmingly enthusiastic juniors, proved to be the best team I had ever been in. Not only because we were really skilful and power-packed, but also because we were one unified yellow bunch of people, fighting together till the end. As we played on the field, all could witness and sense the strong belonging to the hall we represented. My second IHG came and went by as quickly as a flash, with less sweet memories to keep. This time, other halls stood out as the united. However, even though we did not win this time, we had no reason not to stay united and positive. Sportsmen or not, all of us can help make Eusoff a better place than our seniors have left us with and we are accustomed to. I hope that for years down the road, we will still be proud to say "We are EUSOFF" and can even brag to our kids, stories of hall life here. I hope that in my graduating year, I would see all of us replicate the euphoria of the best years we had. And, for once in my years here, to have the yellow female soccer team lift the trophy. I believe we can do it by playing with heart.

Stay united, happy and as usual, enjoy the game.

The softball team this year can be easily summed up in one word, "Surprise!" Indeed, this year's team consisted of largely inexperienced players, several having never played the game before. Yet, with a good sporting attitude, and an earnest spirit to learn, this team has gone from strength to strength, and definitely with loads of fun squeezed in between.

When the team was first pulled together to train for the coming IHG, it was difficult to imagine the team being able to play a decent game of softball. With the monsoon season disrupting several trainings throughout the entire December holiday, I was left wondering what could be done to solve the problem at hand. Several times I found myself worrying, thinking late into nights about how I could prevent embarrassment of a first-round exit. Yet, in true Eusoffian spirit, it was clear that my fears and worries were unfounded.

Despite the huge inexperience of the team, every one of the players came down for the little trainings we had, making sure to learn the game, as well as to make improvements to game. Slowly but surely, the team was taking shape as freshmen stood up to be counted.

Going into IHG, it can only be described as a magical experience that will be deeply entrenched in my memories for a long time to come as we dug deep, battled hard and made sure eyes would be turned on us. Surprise of the year some may say, but no fluke, that I am sure. Throughout IHG, we embodied the Eusoffian spirit as we never let our heads down, always believing that we could win it. The desire and the competitiveness shone brightly, casting aside our inexperienced shadow, making the other halls turn their attention to us instead.

Although we were finally defeated by a stronger TH side, there was no embarrassment in defeat, only joy, which was clearly seen in the manner that we played the finals. It was in the true spirit of softball and gamesmanship that we finished our last game, thoroughly enjoying every single moment of the entire IHG, celebrating all the small wins we had achieved.

As captain of this year's team, I cannot be more proud. Seeing the team enjoy softball so much, learning and improving tremendously, digging deep into our reserves when the odds were heavily stacked against us and savoring every victory like we had won gold, that is IHG for you and that is Eusoff hall for you.

To my team of the year, I salute each and every one of you for making this a memorable experience. To the rest, what are you waiting for? The softball team awaits you next year.

The squash team was pretty interesting this year because it was no longer a 'sure win' sport for us. So many experienced players either left hall or graduated and so suddenly we turned from tournament hot favorites to the dark horse of the dark horses. But never mind that, it was indeed heartening to see so many people stepping up and wanting to try a new sport, putting in their best efforts during training, and playing their hearts out during the competition. I didn't get to send out an emo mail after IHG and I feel a bit bad about that so I thought I'll do it here.

Thanks Yinshuo and Gerald for the all the guidance to everyone. Pipi, Noel, for re-taking up the sport and giving your all even though it's your last year last chance. (But no thanks for breaking rackets). Chin Sin and Kin Den, (also last yr last chance) for being so enthusiastic and constantly trying to improve their game. Aik, Albert and Jingwei, for picking up this new sport and giving me some hope for continuation. Joel, for being the last minute super sub, and all those who've come and gone because of other commitments, I still appreciate it.

It was a pity we didn't make it all the way this year. But hell, we'll just try again next year and go for the gold.

Kudos to the girls who just picked up a new sport and competed for the first time! Dearest squash babes, you girls did fantastic. Really, I couldn't be more proud of each of you, for making such tremendous improvements, for having the guts and the determination to play and to win the matches and for managing to become a team that the hall can trust to carry on the squash tradition! It pleases me more than anything, to see that you all have developed a genuine interest in the sport and that the team really did take shape. Now when people think of this sport, they have a group of people to think about rather as opposed to scattered individuals around hall. It was and is really heart-warming to see the drive you girls trained with, and fought with in the games, and to know that you all are determined to work harder for the years to come. Stick as a team, motivate each other and believe in your abilities; you girls are awesome! You've all picked up the game both in terms of technique and tactics in the span of a couple of months; I know your game will only improve! Thanks all for your commitment and for contributing in a big way to the memories of my last year in hall. To the seniors like Naj, Cheng Li, Su Ting, Kai Ling and Yee Leng, thanks for your commitment and support. All right y'all, the future of Eusoff's squash lies with you!

To the rest of the hall, they need all the support they can get from you! Yes this sport isn't one of the supposed favourites but please don't forget the squash girls okay? (Imagine training so hard when the hall doesn't even remember you exist. Painful thought. [;]) These girls deserve all the credit they can get. Your faith and support can only make things so much easier and more pleasant for them!

With a few extremely skilled and toughly trained IVP swimmers and some well-trained non-IVP swimmers, Eusoff swimming team was among one of the forces to be reckoned with in IHG swimming 06/07.

During trainings, the seniors were always more than willing to share their experiences and offer their advices for the juniors. This was especially helpful for the freshman captain as the advice assisted him greatly in his management of the team. The enthusiasm in the freshmen and their willingness to train hard also gives bright hopes for next year's team as they will then play an important role in the team.

For IHG swimming 06/07, the team performed very well. Strength wise, a few other halls with strong swimmers are generally at the same level as Eusoff swimming team. However the Eusoff swimming team is lucky to have a few very experienced seniors suggesting some strategic relay line-ups which have helped the team to stay competitive and confident during the race itself. Generally, Eusoff swimming team this year is marvelous. The seniors are helpful and the juniors are enthusiastic. Hopefully next year it can be even better and will eventually bring back the golden glory to Eusoff.

IHG swimming this year was simply inconvenient. The pool had to be shut down because the filtering system was old and rusty. Hence swimming practice wasn't as easy as taking a shuttle bus down to the SRC pool. We had to source for other pools. One rainy day, we tried our luck at BTC, only to be told that the pool's only open to students on that campus and to the public only in the evenings, so we tried our luck again by pretending to be law students only to be chased away by a very angry uncle.

We finally settled at Clementi pool, where we had most of our trainings in the murky waters, under the rain and with the mouldy walls. Finally the competition was here after many delays. It was held inconveniently at the sports school in Woodlands. After a long and cold ride, we made our way down to the pool. After much strenuous paddling, kicking and cheering, Eusoff girls did within expectations and clinched a fourth. wheel! The experience was made worthwhile as we made mistakes (but learnt not to go to the BTC pool too early), made friends, and made ourselves and the hall proud IHG 06/07 has been a turning point for Eusoff Table tennis team. With only 1 IVP player in hand (as compared to the past years of 3 or 4), it can be said that the results achieved were based on a true team effort. It was everyone's hard work during trainings that made it possible to reach the semis. Though attendance started moderately, as the team warmed up, players became more enthusiastic. Towards the semi finals, players were willing to come for training every single day, even for an hour, just to polish up on the skills learnt, and perhaps to take a break from a day's work. As talented Eusoffians, many of the table tennis players were involved in multiple sports; yet I'm proud to say that the level of commitment shown has simply been outstanding. Many requested for extra training sessions at the Function Hall, late at night, after they were done training in their various other sports.

But of course, the results this year tells us that there is much more room for improvement. With players of such fine caliber, I'm sure we will forge greater ties and achieve better results in the years to come. Huat-Lah

To my TT team! The IHG experience this year has been great. Saw how you girls put up an impressive performance in all the matches, saw team bonding, saw the gold medal. Hope Eusoff will continue to dominate in table tennis. At the very least, I'm sure we've managed to instill some fear in all the other halls already? Haha. Haven't had a chance to thank all of you for everything. I have to say I'm very lucky to have every one of you in the team. You girls made all the reckless line-ups work.

A note for all of ya.

Thank you:

Suhui for being the inspiration of the team! Made winning look super easy.

Lorraine for your fighting spirit is amazing, so proud of you. Sigh, too bad it is your last IHG. Come back next year to entertain us?

Chengli, Suching, Yeeying for being ever so cheerful and supportive! You may not even realize how important you are to the team. Has been great knowing you girls.

Hannah, Jiaxi for being that dependable doubles. Well done! Thanks for taking time off your busy IHG schedule for pingpong.

Grace for helping me out so so much as the vice captain. Training the girls, motivating them.

Loh hu for always being there. Shine the next IHG, and all subsequent ones. You still have a long way.

Would like to thank all the Eusoffians who came down to support our matches! IHG just feels different to have you people around. Live up the Eusoff spirit.

This year's tennis IHG campaign had been a roller coaster ride for us all. Coming back strong from a shocking first round defeat to unheralded KE 7, we went on to beat hot favorites, KR in the semis, only to lose to KE 7 again in the finals. Losing again to KE 7 was really hard for many of us, as we had trained really hard for it, sometimes till the wee hours of the night. But looking back on the times that we had spent together training as a team, we figured it was well worth it despite the results.

This year's team consists of a good mix of graduating seniors as well as some younger players. I would like to take this chance to commend the seniors, without whom Eusoff tennis team would not be the way it is. I really appreciate your commitment and dedication towards the team. You guys are really a great source of inspiration for the younger players.

To the younger players, I really admire your mental strength, your enthusiasm on the court and the love for the sports. I really hope you guys will continue to be interested in the game and bring Eusoff's tennis to the next level in the years to come.

"The strength of the team is each individual member...the strength of each member is the team."

I've paid my dues
Time after time
I've done my sentence
But committed no crime
And bad mistakes
I've made a few
I've had my share of sand kicked in my face
But I've come through

We are the champions my friends
And we'll keep on fighting till the end
We are the champions
We are the champions
No time for losers'
Cause we are the champions of the world

I've taken my bows
And my curtain calls
You brought me fame and fortune and everything that goes with it
I thank you all

But it's been no bed of roses
No pleasure cruise
I consider it a challenge before the whole human race
And I ain't gonna lose

We are the champions my friend
And we'll keep on fighting till the end
We are the champions
We are the champions
No time for losers
'cause we are the champions of the world

It was undeniably inevitable that the transition was upon us after years of undisputed title-ship, and all the more so with the element of professional assistance amongst the other halls. But taking the unfavourable odds as a source of determination, this year's team rallied together and took to the fields with greater grit, motivation and desire to prove their worth. And outplayed themselves, disparity, handicap and disadvantage to finish second overall in the one-day tournament, dropping only one game in the process. As a team, a collective, as one.

I was filled with joy and relief all at once when we managed to bring back the IHG Touch Rugby Gold Medal once again this year. There were high expectations given the fact that we have never lost the title before. However, I am very proud of the fact that our girls have lived up to all their potential. Their diligence and positive attitudes were nothing short of impressive. I take this chance to thank all the graduating seniors who have given so much to the team all these years.

With the departure of Alvin Ang, Weijian, Ming-guan & Kok Seng from our Championship winning team of IHG 05/06, the prospect of a repeat in IHG 06/07 looked bleak. However, we were blessed that our incoming freshies, especially Pei'an (former tracker) & Gim Chuan (soccer player talent-spotted from IBG) were competent enough to fill the large shoes left behind.

The team comprising of Pei'an, Gim Chuan, Joel & myself coasted to an easy victory in the 4x100m relay. Our 4x400m team comprises Gim Chuan, Joel, Peter & Kenneth were narrowly edged into 2nd place by a strong Kent Ridge team consisting of 2 IVP trackers while our medley team comprising Jessica, Pei'an, myself, Yuan Ting, Rebecca & Sikhander Singh also finished 2nd. Overall, we managed to retain our title, albeit not as convincingly as last year's victory.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every member of the team who had contributed their time & energy into training & competing or helping out

Looking ahead, the exodus of Kenneth Yong, Joel Lim & I will mean that responsibility of retaining the IHG Track title in IHG 07/08 rests on the shoulders of our remaining athletes, and our future freshmen.

Having stopped running competitively after graduating from JC, it seemed unlikely that I would ever feel the same adrenaline rush and heart-thumping excitement (and fear) that competition usually brings. But IHG track made me feel all that...and more. For one, I've never felt so raw and out of form coming into a race, hence, the incredible amount of pre-race jitters. Also, it felt weird having teammates whom I just got to know. But still, I think they ran a phenomenal race and it's only appropriate to address them personally.

Lorraine, I was so devastated when you injured a back a week before race day but miraculously, you healed in time or rather, withstood the pain and ran anyway. I cannot imagine how we would have fared without you. As the previous year's captain, thanks for giving me tips on how to choose my lineup. It helped A LOT.

Yuan and Naj, I've seen you both run in the past for your respective secondary schools and I've tremendous respect for you. I must have caused a lot of trauma for you, asking you both to run certain races that you're not comfortable with. But you girls stepped up to the plate and ran your hardest. Naj, sad to see you graduate after this sem but Yuan, you better still be here next IHG!

Ching Har and Jess Lai, to my surprise, it didn't take much for me to persuade you both to run and I really appreciate your enthusiasm towards training. Seeing both of you turn up for all trainings was really comforting and I could not ask more from you. Well, only that you'll be around to run next year of course. Ha!

Lion, you ran with a fever and you still ran so fast. You are a monster! The team really seemed down on luck with injuries and what not and then you getting sick was just plain demoralizing. But as usual, you always deliver (contrary to what you might think). I owe you a teh peng.

Becks, while I owe Jess a drink, I think I owe you my soul! Who could have ran 800m like you did? People don't know how much effort you put in, conducting your own trainings and time trials. Thank you for your dedication. For the amount of lactic acid you accumulated, let me tell you it was worth it.

Vanessa Quay

Lorraine Kong

Audrey, Christine and Zhu, you all may not have ran on the day itself but don't be disheartened. There's always next year! Nonetheless, thanks for being in the team because it's good to know I've reliable reserves to fall back on, especially when our runners seem to be injury magnets.

Before I forget, thanks to the helpers and supporters! Your cheers made us run faster, at least for me it did. Until then, see you in IHG 2008!

The guy's volleyball team of 2006/2007 kicked off our training with introductions of team members to the newest recruits. Training was tiring but fun, with most of the members sharing a love for this sport. This year, we were privileged to be coached by Royston's father, who was a former national coach of the women's volleyball team. Passing on his valuable experience and expertise to us, he certainly assisted us in improving at the sport. After training for several months, our IHG volleyball adventure kicked off with matches against KE7 and RH. The two matches were significant as we needed to win big to garner confidence for further challenges ahead. This was achieved with efficiency, when we dispatched both halls in straight sets.

The adventure continued in the form of KR, who stood as formidable obstacles to our goal of reaching the Finals. This was an epic match if anyone ever saw one. The match swung back and forth, with both halls winning two sets each. It all culminated in the last set, where we were quickly down by 5 crucial points. It was at this point that the great comeback began. Veteran Yap Kian Yaw played a crucial role as his experience allowed him to hit the opponents when they were down. In the mess that ensued as serve after serve of his dropped inside the line, KR crumbled and we managed to tie up the scores. However, at the crucial match points, we were pegged back each time. However, when we finally prevailed 17-16, chaos ensued. Even the reserves who had been warming the bench rushed up and started dancing on court with the players.

The finals was a much more anti climatic affair. Despite considerable home support, the greater experience and skill of the Sheares Hall opponents proved too much for us. Despite the departure of Kian Yaw and Swee Wei, we have humongous potential next year in the form of Nicholas and other upcoming volleyball players. Here's to a better year ahead! We would also like to say thanks to the seniors who are departing and thank them for their service to Eusoff Volleyball Team. CHAMPIONS NEXT YEAR!

This year, for a team made up of mostly freshies, the Eusoff volleyball girls have done an excellent job. On court and off court, these delightful girls with their idiosyncrasies managed to learn and work together. There were not so sweet moments (especially when their captain transformed into something with two horns), but ultimately, the good times we shared more than compensates for it.

I certainly hope that we will all get together again to prepare for next year's IHG. I haven't had enough of all of you yet! And as I am writing this in the cleverest and sanest way I can manage, I cannot help but say this - I LOVE YOU GIRLS!

And how can I forget the people who have been supporting us and helping us! The guys team have been awesome coaches to us, despite having their own matches to worry about. Ben, our beloved Sports Secretary, has taken great pains to make sure that everything went well for us. And Eusoff, we still haven't forgotten your screaming and cheers of encouragement. Thanks to all of you from the bottom of my most sincere heart.

Eusoff girls have always been the best, and they know it. Never mind if others have more strength, never mind if others have more experience, never mind if others have nicer buildings (ahem) - we know that we are the best. And we will make them see that!

Behind every successful event is a committee silently and passionately striving towards the goal of not only upholding the standards of previous years, but making it better and more impressive.

We often do not see or appreciate the work of these silent-workers who slog through the wee-hours in and out of hall; the fatigue that had to endure after countless prolonged meetings (on top of school-work) to ensure the operational success of every activity or event; as well as the literal blood, sweat and tears.

This section shows every committee in Eusoff and we hope to use this space to thank everyone for their dedication and hard work to make every event in Eusoff a success!

AQUARIUM COMMITTEE

■ Kevin Pye Phyo Nay Young

■ Head of Committee

The Eusoff Aquarium Committee has been responsible for maintaining an aesthetic façade to the entrance of our hall. It brings bright hues of greens and blues to an otherwise dull but sleek background. It has been two years since it was constructed and now the aquarium committee has been care-takers for this object of beauty in our hall.

Starting out in this committee was fraught with difficulties due to the fact that most of us did not have any experience and also because it is the first time such a committee was formed. Nevertheless, we progressed smoothly with the help of the founder of the aquarium, Christophe.

We started with some education about issues related to the aquarium of which Christophe was willing to share all his vast experience and knowledge in the field. With that, the task of the practical aspects of the aquarium became easier.

Halfway into the working year, we decided to undergo a revolutionary move of rescaping the tank, which was removing almost all the plants and replacing them. It was tedious work that took 6 people 10 hours to accomplish. It was so sweet looking at the product of our labour after the process. It was a successful result of our teamwork and passion to present the hall with an even more beautiful façade.

Soon, into the second semester, we had major problems. The tank was attacked by a bout of a serious case of algae. It appeared green throughout most of the first few months of the year and even after weekly cleaning, it refused to subside. It was a trying and demoralizing time for the members.

However, we soon figured out corrective measures and the restoration process has been swift since then. The aquarium will always remain a landmark in the façade of the hall entrance and it is certainly up to us to present it in the best possible way.

AUDIOWORKS

■ Chin Chun Kiat, Hadrian

■ Head of Committee

Audioworks has always been one of the core and busiest committees in Eusoff Hall as sound is always the core for all performances and events. Our job scope includes being involved in huge events like MAB dinner, talent night and smaller ones like suppers, screenings. The committee has to deal with large amounts of stress and pressure, but this does not deter us from learning and going through all the difficulties, as well as to give our best to achieve and provide the best service for every event. To be able to reach this goal, the members in the committee are all dedicated and committed to their tasks at hand.

Managing a big committee is never an easy task especially when our jobs are event-based. Hence, team bonding is one of the greatest challenges for Audioworks. However, with the great effort that all the heads put in, I can proudly say that we are doing this better. The other thing that we have always been trying to improve is the members' technical skills. We attempted to achieve this by giving everyone opportunities for as much hands-on experience as possible.

This year has been a little different than the previous years. JCRC was creative enough to come up with things which are different from the previous batches of JCRCs. This is a good thing as it can give us more exposure to different setups and gain new experiences out of it. Throughout the year, we have been learning and I believe we did well in applying what we know in order to conquer the new challenges. Let's hope that in years to come, Audioworks can strive and become one of the most outstanding and symbolic committees in Eusoff Hall.

AUDITORS

The aliens have landed on Eusoff Hall and are living amongst us, disguised as normal earthlings. 3 agents have been appointed by the hall to investigate. Their mission is to blow the cover of the aliens. The agents too assumed a secret identity, pretending to be hall auditors and went after the Heads for the opening and closing audit of their committee inventory, hoping that the excuse for investigation of their committee inventory would lead them to the aliens...

10/9/06 (Agent Elfie reporting)

The weights in the Gym have mysteriously gone missing. Initial investigation reveals that the aliens have abducted them to conduct experiments.

18/9/06 (Agent Virginia reporting)

Using the latest scanning technology, we discover that the mirror of Dance Corp has microscopic cracks that are not detectable by the naked eye. This is clearly the work of the aliens, using their psychic power to murder our mirror.

25/9/06 (Agent Mei Yi reporting)

The decibels of the drum set in Band have been molecularly altered so that the sound waves may penetrate the frontal cerebrum cortex of the audience listening to the Band's performance. This is an extra-terrestrial method of mind reading.

Note: Members of Second Nature placed on High Suspicion list.

20/3/07 (Agent Virginia reporting)

No paranormal activities detected. The aliens are aware of investigation on them and are lying low.

25/3/07 (Agent Elfie reporting)

All the items in the entire inventory list of DP have been abducted by the aliens. Of course, they would now be filed as 'Missing' in accordance with Hall regulations to deflect suspicion.

30/3/07 (Agent Mei Yi reporting)

Some members of Drama Club astonishingly aged 5 decades overnight. A biopsy reveals high level of cellular mutation.

Note: Members of Drama Club eliminated from suspicion list.

After one year of work, our labour has yielded some results. As a smokescreen, we have managed to audit the opening and closing inventory lists of hall committees. More importantly, we have discovered the secret identity of the aliens, those living among us, pretending to be one of our own. And the aliens are...

THE TRUTH IS OUT THERE. 🟢

COMPUTER COMMITTEE

The Eusoff Hall Computer Committee consists of a 5-man team. Our job scope includes regular maintenance of the hall server and all other computers in the hall, including the computers in every block lounge.

One of the major revamp we have this term is the upgrading of the hall server's operating system to Microsoft Windows Server 2003 Release 2. With the introduction of Microsoft Windows Server 2003, we are able to support many useful applications, such as php, mysql, video streaming server, public fileserver etc., which will allow us to better serve the hall community. Currently, all major ad-hoc committee websites (eg expedition, dinner and dance etc) are hosted on the hall server, and we hope to continue to improve the server capabilities to better serve their needs.

In addition, the hall website @www.eusoff.nus.edu.sg has been totally revamped, thanks to Hongwei, our IT secretary in JCRC committee. The brand new design does not only take on a more vibrant outlook, but it also shows the visitors, especially potential Eusoffians, the kind of exhilarating experiences to be expected in Eusoff Hall. To add on to this, our website also boasts a new flash-based photo gallery which enhances the visitors' experience when viewing pictures.

In all it has been a fruitful year for the Computer Committee, and we look forward in further enhancing hall server next term, especially in the area of online application/software support. Eventually, our ultimate aim is to develop the Eusoff Hall website into a one-stop online portal to better serve all Eusoffians.

Culture Committee Portfolio

G.R.A.S.S

Short for Get Ready for Another Super Star, G.R.A.S.S was the creative brainchild of Culture Committee 06/07. While Eusoff Talentime has always been under the portfolio of the Culture committee, we have been bold to experiment with new ideas and collaborations in sculpting a new image for an old concept.

It was a demanding task to bring the stage outdoors to the grass patch between Block D and E. Much thought and effort was put in for decorations to make the environment as comfortable and aesthetically pleasing as possible for the residents. We had wanted to give the residents the pleasure of viewing performances "under the stars". Our intensive publicity efforts also paid off with the good turnout for the event.

Our collaboration with the International Relations Committee (IRC) and Audioworks was a successful one, and an important one at that. The IRC cooked up a storm that resulted in an array of palatable international cuisine, in addition to providing a wonderful supper for residents to digest while enjoying the show. Audioworks also had to rack their brains in providing the technical support for an outdoor show.

The audience vote was the deciding factor in determining the most entertaining performances for both the Individual and Group categories. The panel of judges included Vijay, our JCRC president, Dr. Ho and Joe, our previous Culture Secretary, decided on the winner for the Block category. Some memorable performances included the parody of the Titanic theme song, the sexy hip hop girls' item by the Eusoff Dance Corps and the Stomp-imitation by the C4 guys.

If you missed the show, too bad (though you can still view the videos of the performances, thanks to Youtube)!

Enrichment

Members of the Culture committee have the benefit of enriching themselves in the performing arts, as this year, we budgeted for a committee outing to an Arts event, in addition to having our members work more closely with the various performing groups in Eusoff. Indeed, it's not all work and no play in Culture Committee!

Culture Week

A week of exciting performances in the dining hall by some of the performing groups and a cool 'Culture Gallery' for viewing! This was held in a bid to raise the awareness of the residents to the culture scene in Eusoff (it's not all about sports, you know!). The winners of the Eusoff Photography Competition "Splash of Life @ Eusoff" and the Culture Logo design competition "Logo de Culture" (both the creative brainchildren of this year's Culture committee) were also announced and their winning entries displayed!

Culture Website

The Culture Committee has come up with a funky new website featuring the Eusoff culture scene. This should be available for public viewing pretty soon!

Culture Night

This is done on a smaller scale this year and held in conjunction with the Merit Award Boards Dinner. This is indeed something new and exciting, in an effort to spice up the (otherwise boring?) MAB function.

Quotes from some of our members:

Liu Dan (Year 2, Mechanical Engineering): I like Culture Comm very much! The members and activities are both interesting. If possible, I'd like to join Culture Comm next semester too!

Mei Ling (Year 1, Life Science major): Well, I learnt to organize events and to manage my time. The heads were definitely great in guiding us while making sure we don't neglect our studies.

Umer (Year 2, Electrical Engineering): Working with Culture Comm was a fun learning experience. I will definitely want to join the committee again next year!

Shariza (Year 1, FASS): Being in Culture Comm exposed me to the different kinds of performing arts in Eusoff Hall. I used to focus only on theatre previously, but now I can learn about the other performing groups and support my friends who are in the groups at the same time. It's like killing two birds with one stone!

Michelle (Year 2, History major): I have enjoyed planning G.R.A.S.S and had fun working with the members. I'm glad that I'm being encouraged to go for cultural performances and it's nice to see how the cultural groups in Eusoff Hall work.

EUSOFF MARKETING COMMITTEE

■ Tay Yee Meng Justin

■ Head of Committee

The Eusoff Hall Marketing Committee, which currently stands at 10-members strong, has had an eventful year.

EMC has several events in its portfolio. Firstly, in the first semester of 2006/07, EMC took part in the Eusoff Hall Bazaar held in the Central Forum. This was a joint effort together with the other hall ad-hoc committees. For the bazaar, EMC successfully managed to source for and invite vendors to participate in the hall bazaar.

EMC also undertook the task of selling Eusoff Hall jackets to the hall residents. This year, the committee actively promoted and encouraged hall residents to purchase the jackets. With the effort of EMC, a considerable number of jackets have been sold.

Another event that EMC was involved in was the bringing in of vending machines into Eusoff Hall. EMC has brought in snacks and drinks vending machines to Eusoff in a bid to improve the welfare of the residents. The added convenience of the vending machines has helped bring much ease to hall residents. EMC has also tied up marketing deals which saw the residents receiving free tickets to clubs.

In another bid to better the welfare of residents, EMC has also provided every resident with an exam welfare package. The pack consists of goodies which would go a long way in making studying for the exams a little more bearable for the residents.

EXTERNAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

■ Chia Xi Wen

■ Head of Committee

External Relations Committee (ERC) aims to raise the awareness and profile of Eusoff Hall among students who are about to enter NUS, to display to them the vibrancy and liveliness of hall life. In order to do so, we had a booth at the NUS Open House 2007 since it was the best time to promote Eusoff Hall to the incoming students. Over the 2 days that the Open House was held, our members talked to the public to let them better understand hall life, recounting personal experiences as well as introducing them to the various activities we do in hall. In addition, there were also tours conducted in Eusoff Hall itself for those who were more interested and wanted to take a look at hall itself.

I would like to thank all my members in ERC for making this committee a success, especially those who worked beyond what was required of them. You guys know who you are, so here's a big THANK YOU to you all. In particular, I would like to thank my vice-head – Royston, for all the support he has given me and for stepping up to take over at times when I was unable to. Also, I appreciate the help that the JCRC has given me over the past year and I thank them for it. Although Dr. Sequira was our RF in-charge for only one semester, he was still very supportive and I would still like to thank him for that as well.

Let's hope ERC will continue to spread the name of Eusoff Hall to all!

Eusoff Hall Freshmen Guide

Everything You Need To Know As A Freshman

EUSOFFWORKS

■ Ng Huan Jin

■ Head of Committee

Early in the academic year, Eusoffworks managed to recruit a team of 23 Eusoffians into the committee. Almost all of the members recruited are freshmen and had no prior experience in either photography or video production. This academic year marks the first year that Eusoffworks had decided to take up the responsibility of photography coverage for hall activities. Eusoffworks also made huge purchases and manage to restore a large part of our function with the help of the new and much needed extra equipment.

Providing training for our committee members is one of the most important priorities for Eusoffworks. In-house training was conducted within a few weeks when the committee was formed in order to ensure that our members are armed with the most basic of photography and video production skills, so as to ensure that the core function of Eusoffworks (event coverage) is in operation. Other than formal training, many informal trainings and exchanges were also held between more experienced members and those who are less experienced. These took place during off-duty hours and sometimes in the wee hours in the morning, to give a more personalized touch to training which proved to be very effective in sharpening the skills of our members.

In the December holidays, an intensive 3-day advance photography and short-film production course was conducted in Hall for our committee members in order to bring up the production standards of our committee prior to the Inter-Hall Games. It was a tough course and the standard demanded was higher than most members would have expected. But the members who "graduated" realized that there was untapped potential within them and had a new-found interest in photography and video production.

A proper administration and management system was also put into place by the main committee members to ensure that members are not overworked and that the equipment are used efficiently. Much care was also placed on the maintenance of the equipment to maximize the investment put into them.

Suppers and gatherings were organized to boost the morale of our members and to encourage them to spur on in their work and responsibilities. And many non hall-related video production and photography sessions were also conducted to instill interest and passion in our members, and to help take their mind off their work.

It had been a really tough year for Eusoffworks and the Hall is expecting a lot from the committee. Eusoffworks is still in the process of building up its capabilities and raising its production standards. With almost every major hall event covered, a good standard of production, a proper system of management in place, new equipment coming in as well as more skilled and passionate members, Eusoffworks managed to clear a lot of problems the committee used to have and made a good improvement in terms of production standards and management system.

The main-committee would also like to take this opportunity to thank our invaluable members for all the 24-hour long video editing sessions, 2-day deadlines, last minute (literally) deployment and many more unreasonable demands. And of course the JCRC members and the Hall Management for their kind understanding and support though out this tough year Eusoffworks have experienced.

EUSOFF VOLUNTARY CORPS

■ Teh Yi Tian, Ian

■ Head of Committee

EVC also known as Eusoff Voluntary Corps is one of the committees in hall which deals with social and community work. EVC opens up opportunities for all Eusoffians to have a taste of what community service is and not to mention providing exposure.

This year, we have four voluntary groups in the care of EVC namely, the Salvation Army, MINDS, NUH and the Elderly service.

The Salvation Army service basically involves our volunteers giving tuition to the children at the Salvation Army centre. Many of these children are neglected and thus, our volunteers play a major role in caring and nurturing these children.

The MINDS service deals with the mentally challenged and our volunteers are sent out also on a weekly basis to interact and to befriend them. Our volunteers play an essential role to guide them in learning basic living skills. Some of these clients are relatively slow in learning. Therefore it is crucial for our volunteers to practice patience to teach and to guide them.

Another service under the care of EVC is the NUH service. We are currently allocated to Ward 55 at NUH. Most of these patients suffer from kidney failure and are under going renal dialysis. This treatment would indeed cause them to be very weak. Our volunteers would then attend to their necessary needs such as serving food and water to them. Befriending them through a little chatting would also be a large part of what these volunteers do as these patients spend most of their time in the ward with nothing much to do.

Last but not least, we have our Elderly Service. This service would be rather unique as we are independent of any external organization. Many of the old folks at York Hill live in poor conditions and many stay alone without having anyone to look after them. Our volunteers have been helping out some of these folks in various ways from cleaning their house to bringing them to hospitals for their regular check up. This service has existed for many years now and certainly many more to come.

EVC truly have touched the lives of many and with the guidance of our new Resident Fellow, Dr. Mark Emmanuel, I believe that EVC would certainly reach greater heights in the near future.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

■ Yap Hui Ying

■ Head of Committee

Finance Committee serves as the liaison between various student committees and the hall administration on financial matters. This includes the preparation of budget at the beginning of the Academic Year, reimbursement of expenditure, accounting for the expenditure of the committees and ensuring that every committee adhere to the proper financial procedures.

In addition, we provide assistance and support in financial related matters. Besides, the finance committee also assists in organizing the annual bazaar, which was held on 25th – 27th Oct 2006, at the Central Forum this year. In short, we are the people to look for if you need money!

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

■ Berenice Chin

■ Head of Committee

Eusoff International Relations Committee, the small and cozy "global" network of Eusoff Hall. We stand for the welcoming hand that shakes the hands of foreign newcomers coming into the hall. We also stand for the many smiles we made when our efforts paid off. We love people and we care for all. A note to the stereotyped view that we only care for non-Singaporeans: That is not true at all!! Eusoffians, do throw away that silly idea as we strove on to appreciate every Eusoffian resident here.

Well now, let's have a review for this year, shall we? This time around, we kick started the year with a trip to Geylang Serai in conjunction with Hari Raya Puasa. Friends made and cultures exchanged with a little bit of shopping included, everyone had a great time. Following that was the international supper held in collaboration with G.R.A.S.S. by the Culture Committee. There we are, together with the residents of EH, in the nice grassy patch between block D and E, with everyone anticipating the emergence of the next EH Superstar while having a picnic of yummy refreshments. That night was a night of pure entertainment and fun. We hope that through this collaboration we managed to play a part in creating a vibrant hall life that is worth looking back years later.

Moving on to the second semester, we started with a small intimate supper involving only the IRC members, the JCRC and the new incoming exchange students who hail from countries ranging from the USA, Canada, Australia, Germany to France. We also extended our arms in welcoming the new seniors in our hall. In case you are wondering, they are new residents in hall but are not freshmen anymore. Unfortunately, none of them responded. That is rather sad but we will definitely try harder in future to engage everyone.

INTER-BLOCK GAMES COMMITTEE

■ Low Kim Fong, Edwin

■ Head of Committee

Being the first few committees to be formed in the academic year, many freshman were eager to join their first committee of their hall life. That explains the turn out for the interview session which was held at the Function Hall, over 60 applicants turn up for the interview which had only 10 vacancies available. At the interview, applicants were told (in the words of the IBG head) that IBG convening was a "fast and furious" committee. Indeed, in the short span of 2 months, the team did everything from planning the schedule to ensuring that the games went on as planned.

The Inter-Block Games 2006/2007 was kicked off with a friendly game of volleyball between the Block-Heads and the SCRC and JCRC members, symbolizing the spirit of IBG, friendship and unity. It was a busy 2 months where everyday was game day for the IBG convening committee. Despite some hiccups here and there, the committee was able to overcome the challenges and adapt to the situation. Be it the erratic weather, or the lack of playing grounds, the committee rose up to the occasion to ensure that the games went on. Although it was a short 2 months, but the members felt the fatigue that set in towards the end of the Inter-Block Games, however, the members shown the determination in typical Eusoffian style and pressed on till the end of the games.

Inter-Block Games 2006/2007 ended with mini closing ceremony at the MPC, where the blocks competed in good-spirit in a final mini tele-match. After which residents were treated to good music performed by our very own Eusoff Band and of course, good food. Eusoff events are just incomplete without a spectacular video produced by Eusoffworks. Finally, prizes were given out to the champion of each sport, the Sportsman and Sportswoman of the year and the overall Champion which was won by D block.

That very much concluded this year's IBG which was a great success. Not only did everyone enjoy themselves, but more importantly, friendships were forged. Not just friendships, but friendship which would last a very long time. Till next year then!

PUBLICATIONS

■ Wong Yulmin

■ Head of Committee

Publications committee is very fortunate this year to have thirteen very dedicated and talented members who strived to meet the deadlines - many of whom are undertaking their tasks without prior experience. Being in the committee was an enriching experience and provided great learning opportunities for everyone.

Publications Committee this year managed to produce an electronic newsletter - a first for Euossof Hall. This newsletter is readily accessible to both residents and non-residents online, giving more coverage and acknowledgement to publications committee as well as for the newsletter. The electronic newsletter endeavour was truly a successful one given the newness of the committee and also because it was a newly championed idea. It is also a breakthrough that the committee is very proud about.

The yearbook is a tedious but rewarding experience for the committee. We attempted to achieve a higher level for our yearbook through design and also through the articles by brainstorming about the theme (over pizza) and discussing about possible designs and styles that we wanted for the yearbook. Everybody had a part to play - idea formulation, the actual designing, writing the articles, attending events to write the articles, compilation, editing, finding quotations etc etc.

Thanks firstly to my predecessor for your words of advice when the committee was newly formed and to the committee who worked so hard to accomplish your tasks to meet the deadline. Special thanks to Master for providing guidance along the way; Rashidah for helping to coordinate and come up with hall articles for the newsletter and the yearbook; Dr Kew for your words of advice and providing direction through the year and for your understanding; Hongwei, for your help, your effort in collation and designing of the yearbook. Finally, to all who gave us suggestions, supported us and encouraged us through the year.. many many thanks!

SECRETARIAT

■ Poh Sze-Phing

■ Honorary General Secretary

Secretariat committee is a committee led by the Honorary General Secretary of Eusoff Hall Junior Common Room Committee. It generally consists of 6 – 7 members which includes a vice head who will be assisting the Honorary General Secretary in leading the committee. The basic work scope of secretariat committee includes the following:

- Archiving. Eusoff hall has an archive room which contains photos and documents from past years. We are in charge of providing maintenance to the archive and add in new documents at the end of each academic year.
- Collecting minutes. It is important for the hall to keep track of the progress and activities run by each committee every semester, and that's where the minutes come in. We help to collect meeting minutes or any other activities records from each committee at the end of each semester.
- Supplying stationery and printing materials. Secretariat committee is in charge of the stationeries which is available for lending to each committee. We will also help purchase special stationery if they are specifically requested.
- Maintenance of block notice board. Secretariat committee members will assist each block's representative to maintain the block notice boards. This includes taking down the old notices to allow new notices to be put up.

Secretariat committee is a small committee with a light work scope; however we are the ones who are responsible to cover the finer details behind the whole functioning system of Eusoff Hall. Here, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our members for their dedication to this committee. We would also like to thank our head, the honorary general secretary, Sze-Phing, for her hard work in running this committee, directing the members and coordinating the tasks.

SPORTS FACILITIES MANAGEMENT

The Sport Facilities Management's job scope is to maintain the functionality of the equipment and to ensure the cleanliness of the gym. The most active member in my committee is Donald, who is a gym fanatic and heads down to the gym often to work out.

Initially, I thought that this SFM's appointment would not be that stressful or difficult and all that would be required of me is to drop by the gym often and check if it is clean and neat. A day after I was selected to be the head of SFM, I decided to drop by the gym and was horrified to see all the equipments lying around on the floor and dried sweat stains of the previous users of the gym on the benches. So for the whole semester, Donald and I were cleaning up and putting back all the weights. It is always comforting and nice to see the gym so neat when we are doing our routine checks, leaving us wondering who actually helped us to put back the weights. Besides just doing the cleaner job, the SFM has tried to re-arrange and add some new items to the gym, such as the new Olympic bar and the kick-ass sandbag for any Eusoffian to vent his anger on.

Many thanks to Donald, who despite his busy schedule, would make time to go down to the gym, and to Kenneth, who was constantly bringing up new ideas to upgrade the gym. Also I would like to thank all the kind souls who actually listened to us and put back the weights after use, and for bringing their towels to the gym and keeping it clean. That's all for SFM. See you all in the gym.

The Eusoff Sports Management Committee is responsible for ensuring that during the vital IHG period, our athletes get the best support possible in every way possible. Preceding the work of the other departments, the PnP team begins the committee's work in earnest by enlivening the Hall with a palpable sense of anticipation and atmosphere. Decorations, videos, the IHG website and pamphlets are just some of the methods they employ to stir dormant Eusoffian passions and fan it to a bright flame. As the games begin and the competition heats up the logistics department makes sure that Eusoffians in the heat of battle need not worry about minor details like refreshments and equipment. Every little edge counts and good logistics definitely provides an edge. The people from Special Projects work on just that. Planning and executing ideas of value to Eusoff's IHG effort is no small task and spans across all manner of disciplines. Finally, recording every victory, celebrating every success, mourning every failure, living and dying with the athletes are the members of the reporting team. The chronicles of the journey that is IHG should never be forgotten and the reporters help to guarantee that they never are.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

■ Sim Yew Yan, Allan Alex

■ Head of Committee

Eusoff Social Committee 2006-2007 saw the coming together of fresh minds and energy. The committee, predominantly comprised freshmen, showed keen spirit in organizing events that helped Eusoffians know each other better and hence enhance the camaraderie between hall residents. The committee focused on joint co-operation between committees and celebrating the main events on the hall calendar.

The committee organized the 19th JCRC commendation in collaboration with Eusoff Hall's Welfare Committee. Following that, keeping to tradition, Halloween Night 2006 saw the combined effort of the Social Committee with the Drama Club and the Voluntary Corp. The event culminated into a fun filled evening of scary endeavours, fantastic grubbies and snacks coupled with movie screenings. To salute the Eusoffians in dance production, the committee put together a dance production Chinese New Year lunch, celebrating the festive season with great food and appreciation of past year productions. The closing of the inter-hall games and dance production saw the synergy of the social committee with the Eusoff Sports Management committee. Once again, catering a delectable reception, the closing celebration paid tribute to the outstanding contributions and brilliant vibrancy of Eusoffians with video screenings and many awards.

Throughout the year, the committee displayed resolute dynamism in planning and organizing intra-hall events and the work year ending saw the establishment of an endearing team of patient, fun-loving and like-minded Eusoffians. At the same time, year of 06/07 had been commemorated with numerous amusing and entertaining events that the committee had organized.

WELFARE COMMITTEE

■ Loh C Pearl

■ Welfare Secretary

The Welfare Committee 2006-2007 has had a meaningful year! The committee is led by Welfare Secretary, Loh C Pearl and comprises 24 members. Though we often work from behind-the-scenes, our efforts have undoubtedly ensured that Eusoffians are well taken care of.

The 19th JCRC investiture in October 2006 was one of the highlights of the Eusoff calendar, for it represented the dedication of our hall leaders for a year of faithful service. The Welfare Committee helped out in this event by serving the residents. The MAB dinner in March 2007 was another significant event in our hall; it was on this night that active and deserving Eusoffians were honoured for their contributions. The Welfare Committee had the privilege of organizing this event – from the decorations, to the serving of food. Being able to serve in these formal events has made them all the more memorable for us!

We have also helped out in the packing of food for IHG and DP. Seeing how diligent our athletes and dancers were in training for their events and doing our hall proud, the least we could do was to ensure that they were well-fed as they went for their matches and bunk-in respectively. We're glad that we were able to make a difference in that aspect!

The preparations for the final examinations of each semester are stressful times for uni students. In our bid to nourish and encourage our fellow Eusoffians to valiantly face this "impending doom", the Welfare Committee provided them with food in each of the kitchenettes nightly. We'd like to express our thanks to EMC for their partnership in this project during the second semester.

Lastly, the Welfare Committee has also taken joy in sorting out the mails for Eusoffians! It's our simple gesture of easing the process for Eusoffians, rather than leaving them having to sift through an entire stack to find their mail.

The Welfare Committee would like to thank Eusoffians for giving us a chance to serve you. We hope you've benefited from our services in the past year!

■ HALL LIFE

Acceptance into Eusoff Hall is coveted by many freshies who have decided to reside on campus. Rumours of endless bouts of fun, strong bonds of friendship and numerous activities in Eusoff added to this desire to become a Eusoffian. And it is true - there is never a boring moment during the stay of a typical Eusoffian.

Sharing of joys, burdens and helping each other out of the bad times, Eusoffians will definitely remember their stay and treasure the friendships forged in these few years, not wanting these beautiful moments to ever end.

Let the following pages of photos and memories speak for themselves!

A BLOCK

■ Mak Wei Mun, Jeremy

■ Block Head

Hi fellow A Block Ayams... it's been another great year 06/07. Despite some cases of stolen sandals, clothes and the ultimate shit bombardment of A1's toilet, nightlife is definitely kept alive by the Eusoff Takraw boys.

A Block comprises of almost all kinds of people you can think of... starting from the quiet and shy Naveen to the most angsty and skinniest person Shawn. Block Suppers haven been held regularly for the residents to get together and of course not forgetting birthday celebrations!!

A1 is well-known for its prostitute corridor and toilet. It seems so unpleasant but these guys live with a smile and still enjoy each other's company. These boys are not only active in their sports but also culturally inclined. Bring in the music and the floor supper that they organized themselves, what a night it must have been for them...

A2 radiates the most homely feeling in our block. They are definitely the less rowdy and often have quiet talks amongst themselves. Groovy, funky and extremely approachable, they love fooling with the stoves and chatting over suppers in the kitchen.

The A3 girls are one energetic bunch with a whole lot of talent in them. On the surface lies their demure and feminine side but do not mess around with them because some of them can really take you down anytime. These girls enjoy chilling along the corridors and this is how they build such strong friendship.

Walking up to A4, you start to hear laughter and familiar voices. They are one special group of mixed individuals. A4 is the breeding ground of sports talent. Be it day or night, these guys are extremely active. People often mistake them as rowdy punks but their true side is just the opposite. Getting together and cooking meals is a common sight as these guys hold on to the strong bond and friendship.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank a Yanyi and Handy for representing our Block in the DnD'06/07. What a performance by you guys... Lastly, on behalf of the block, I would like to thank all the graduating seniors for everything they have done for the friendship and hall. Wish you all the best in your future endeavors.

B BLOCK

■ Lin Jingpei

■ Block Head

The year has all come to an end now as I am penning this down. For the people, especially the B Blockers (06/07) reading this, I would have left hall by now. Many memories was made in this short span of one year where I was privileged enough to be elected Head of Block. It wasn't an easy job having to head a block so young, consisting of a fresh bunch of year 1s and trying to blend them into the hall culture, incorporating them with the soon to be retiring seniors.

The year began with IBG, where first time in B Block history, we won 4 titles, under the guidance of Sportswoman of the Year, Najiah, taking the year 1 girls under her wings. Regaining the "Cleanest Block" title was sweet after having lost it last year when we held it for so long. The sumptuous block suppers and the chit chat sessions after that, celebrating New Year and Mid-Autumn Festival and the few other BBQs that followed were all too memorable, together with the birthday celebrations and the cake war that usually followed after that and a certain victim who got his room turned upside down. Not forgetting the emo sessions and talking cocks which lasted the entire night.

DnD saw the junior girls dressing up as royalties, senior guys dressing up as Taliban Rebels and the senior girls in their raunchy, sexy bathrobes which certainly turned more than just a few heads and of course not forgetting our "Korean" Pageant contestants, Weimin and Simin. Fun and vibrant is the life at B Block.

I'm thankful for each and everyone of you, because each and every single one of you brought life and flavour to the block, from the crazy B1 boys (Jiarui, Weimin, Gim and Co.) to the energizer bunnies of B2 (Xintian, Becks, Rach & gang), the classy and glamorous B3 babes (Margie, Aiwei, Quack Quack, Vivi, Melissa and babes) and the cranky, noisy B4 dudes (Ace Thams, Patrick, Barney, ENTM Hongwei, Ali, Sunny, "Mr. Bean" Dinidu and gang)... Special thanks to especially my 4 beloved floor reps, Weimin, Mai Anh, Xilin, Chenyong for carrying out your duties so well that I have to work extra hard (haha... I am just kidding!). Last but not least, our RF and deputy hall master, Prof Ho for his guidance and trust in me and support in all of our activities.

My apologies to anyone whom I might have offended during my term or not having met the expectations of anyone of you in anyway. It's been an exciting last journey in my last year in Eusoff, and you guys made it so. I thank all of you for your support and cooperation and I hope your

■ Block Head

C1 comprises an eclectic mix of personalities ranging from Singapore idol wannabe to Cleo top 50 most eligible bachelors. Get together sessions such as BBQs are a common sight, not forgetting birthday celebrations. "Dull" does not exist on C1...

C2 is where the kitchen is located. An essential facility, the kitchen is where the Eusoffians cook their instant noodles for a quick fix and also get their daily supply of drinking water. During the holidays, you can even smell the delicious scent of the dishes whipped up by the international students!

The C3 corridor is usually quiet and peaceful in the day. As evening approaches, doors open and it is common to see girls having light-hearted conversations along the corridor. More often, the lounge is occupied by people who just want to relax after a long day of school.

On C4, there lies an energetic bunch of guys who engage in a good mix of the sports as well as cultural activities. Often the target of unjust complains, this bunch just want to have their fun but are also sensitive enough to observe the silent hours. Diversity in nationality and cultures combined together with a mix of exciting personalities, this is the place where great friendships are forged.

Of worthy mention is that C block is an epitome of how local students and international students live together. The high level of interaction that exist ensures that both parties gain from the invaluable cultural collage.

Some activities that took place during the year was notably the night cycling trip at the start of the year which introduced the freshmen to the seniors of the block. Although attendance was not overwhelming, it set the tone for more similar bonding activities to take place. Numerous block and floor suppers followed with C block clocking up the most number of organised suppers among all the blocks.

"Courage. Bravery. Happiness. D Block. "

Looking back at 06/07 I would have to say that there have been many truly unforgettable memories. Let's have a brief recap...

We've had some fun with a concoction of dubious origins. And some chairs. There was the D Block Oath, led by none other than Adrian "your MOM" Pillay. And then, there's the small matter of winning IBG (weewiittt!!) We've had numerous suppers, with different impromptu agendas every time (IBG, All black, DP preview, etc). There were also the many New Year mini-celebrations. And how can we forget...D Talent? A group of six talented individuals who made us proud during Talentime. (Although one was an extra. Yes Man-beer "why are you all ignoring me?" Singh. That's you.) We've had major cockroach problems. And plenty of highly elaborate birthday celebrations. Some involving candles and ropes. (and occasionally, a certain tree). We've also had BBQs. And swimming lessons. And DND? Suffice to say, it was simply indescribable :)

A gazillion thanks to ALL my D blockers. To my 4 floor reps, Putra, Ai Li, Joo Fee & Ningkhil. You guys have helped me a lot. So thanks. Thanks too to Manbeer and Rongzhu for being such a fabulous pageant couple. To all the year one guys and gals, you all are the most enthusiastic bunch of freshies yet. It definitely makes my job so much easier and more fun with you guys around. Really. To the D2 and D3 senior gals, you peeps may be quiet but when called upon for help, you all didn't disappoint. To the D4 guys, thanks for picking up the slack and helping me with block head stuff. Wouldn't have been able to do it without you guys. Especially to Derrick "Block 2IC" Phong, "Bungis" Teo Aik Ming, Ben "we must study this sem" Ng, Joe "I can help with block tee" Chung, and the D Talent guys. And last but not least, to our RF, Prof Victor Tan, for supporting all of our activities to the max.

My apologies if I have treaded on some toes or if I have not met your expectations in any way. It has been one helluva rollercoaster ride, but one with definitely more ups than downs. What else can I say? This is truly "D" Block. :)

It has been a long but exciting year.. we have had a great start this year, to have bagged two golds in the IBG event, a record in our recent block history. Thanks to our grateful, spontaneous, sporting and wonderful bunch of year ones and seniors, who performed well as a team to bring us 2 Golds in Volleyball (Girls) and Hockey (Guys).

We've achieved some comfort for ourselves through the introduction of several new items and changes. Our nicely decorated and highly informative notice board by Siew Ling first took place to better inform you guys of the important dates, events and news. The little launderette has seen new dryer after the frequent ill-performance by the veteran dryer. A new, fashionable and cool long-awaited member with mouth-ful of water has finally been welcomed into our E4 in the hottest months, thanks to the co-operation from our JCRC.

Of course, our hunger and thirst for extra food have well been served for during the multiple suppers for the past 9 months. We had the first and most meaningful welcome supper in early September, where the lucky few had enjoyed greatly pushing the floor (or themselves), massaging their feet with ice-cold water, brushing their faces (or others') with Colgates, while others enjoying the shows.

I'm grateful that everyone of us have contributed in some ways or the other to our little community. Special thanks go to Isaac, Siew Ling, Hui Shan and Ivan who have volunteered (or being volunteered) their service as floor representatives. Thanks to the Year 1s for taking up the lead in IBG sport teams. Many thanks go to Kelvin, Ee Leng, Hong Jin, and Hui Loh (the few artists) who have attempted and submitted creative designs for our block T-shirt, and Kelvin and Jia Mei for the graphic editings. To the few others who have assisted greatly in making the BBQ a happening gathering for all.

■ Former Resident Fellow of Block C

In December 2006, the Hall bid farewell to Dr John Sequeira who had stepped down as Resident Fellow of Block C after 6 years of fruitful and dedicated service to Eusoff Hall. During his tenure in Eusoff Hall, Dr Sequeira has championed several initiatives including the formation of Eusoff Expeditions in 2004 and the establishment of Eusoff Bursary in July 2006. He is also the RF-Advisor of the International Relations Committee, External Relations Committee, Eusoff Voluntary Corps and Dinner & Dance Committee.

The Hall salutes Dr Sequeira for his many contributions and dedication towards Eusoff Hall. He will be greatly missed by all Eusoffians!

■ New Resident Fellow of Block C

Dr Mark Emmanuel joined Eusoff Hall in January 2007 as the Resident Fellow of Block C. He is very much a product of NUS. After graduating from the NUS History Department with an Honours degree, he spent a few years at the Ministry of Defence before returning to NUS. In 2006 he was awarded a PhD in History from the Australian National University, and is currently an Assistant Professor in the History Department specialising in Southeast Asian history, specifically Malaysian history. His hobbies include reading, watching DVDs and rearing aquarium fish. He lives in Eusoff with his wife, Joanna and their two sons, Gerard and Ciaran.

Our heartiest congratulations to the Emmanuels for their latest addition; Ciaran Seth Emmanuel who was born on 31 January 2007.

"Wake Up!" "Wake Up!" "It is time for our very fun orientation program!"

That was 3 years ago and it really just seems like yesterday! Eusoff Hall, my home for 3 years and to think I just wanted to try out hall life and then leave after a semester or so. How ironic that after 3 years, I wish that I had another 3 years left in this place. The friends you make and the many activities that you can participate in will just leave you wanting more!

I came into hall only knowing how to play badminton, but I left with knowledge of so many other sports, especially Sepak Takraw. This ridiculous game of kicking the rattan ball has given so much to the boys in hall. We will play through the night if the lights didn't go off at 11pm! Oh how the A blockers hate the takraw boys! After a night of takraw, it would usually be our "beloved" Fong Seng with their milo pengs and kopi-milo pengs or our protas that will fuel us through our late night activities like "studying and projects" and a typical night will end at 4am.

Dance Production is something that I will miss very very much! From marketing committee in year 1 to acting in year 2 and 3, I truly enjoyed being part of this awesome production and the times that we all spent at UCC and rehearsals will always be treasured by me! Special thanks to my directors, Elizabeth, Adrian and Charmaine. Thanks for being patient with me and tolerating all my nonsense and for bringing out the passion in acting.

I want to thank a lot of people that have made my stay so enjoyable! To the seniors that have left us for the treacherous working world, thanks for guiding me through everything and instilling in me what a Eusoffian should be. To my sport captains, thank you for all the efforts in bonding the teams so well. To my E-block and B-block neighbours, thank you for being with me all the time, just like my family members whom I can share my feelings with. To all the juniors, thank you for joining the big Eusoff family and enjoy your stay!

And lastly, to Eusoff, thank you for all the love and opportunities given to me. I am forever proud to be called a Eusoffian.

Goodbye.

This yearbook message is finally out after many times of 'reminders' from Mr Hongwei. Anyway, yearbook message, I really don't know where to start. I really have no clue how to pen down 4 years of memories and feelings. But I'll try! =)

First of all, I want to thank everyone for tolerating my volume haha, especially seniors who have been tahan-ing for the past many years, juniors, lucky for you, haha!

Eusoff, a home which I am eternally grateful for; a home where I met many family members. To all whom our path crossed in Eusoff & NUS, thank you for adding colours to my life. Thank You!

I've decided not to write down any memories because they belong to us, the people who share those memories. What I want is to say this to the juniors - treasure and enjoy your time in Eusoff and do not hold back, do what you want and do it to your best. Because regardless of the results, you have a big family behind you always. But at the same time, do not forget your primary role as a student yal

I have brought with me lots of things I learnt in Eusoff. One of the most important is: Unity is strength. In our lives, we will always meet with a lot of highs and lows. However, as long as we are united in strength and in heart, we will definitely overcome all odds. So Eusoffians, never never give up or say die at any point of time. Even though the bunch of us have left Eusoff, but we still hope Eusoff will always be the greatest home for everyone to be in. And you will be the creator of this wonderful home.

A lot of times, my good friend (Siang Hwee) and other friends around me tell me, "Polly, we are leaving, so let go". I really want to but sometimes, it's hard. But don't worry good friend, I am now =)

OK! Shall end my message with a few special thank you.

Seniors, thank you for standing by each other during hard times and happy times!

All my A block, E block and B block neighbours, thank you for everything.

Juniors, you guys are wonderful and pardon me for not being a good senior. Don't learn from me ok!! Be the best senior! =)

And lastly, special thanks to Rashidah, Aunty Doris, Aunty Vivien, Mr Mok & Uncle Lim, thank you for taking care of this little gal all the time! Also want to thank the SCRCs for the support you give to hall all these years. On behalf of everyone, thank you again.

And very very lastly, Thank You Eusoff!

And Goodbye..

My heart had skipped a beat. After much time of regimentation in national service, I was apprehensive about going back to school. My anxiousness was allayed when I was met with warm smiles and a friendly handshake at the porch of Eusoff Hall. Orientation 06/07 broke the ice for me, letting me acquaint with friends old and new. Settling in with the university's academic system was made simple and comfortable with the consultation of seniors and the Resident Fellows who, amidst their busy schedules, took time off to spend those precious few minutes with me.

JCRC investiture

Late nights movies, chatting and suppers drew seniors and freshmen closer. We got to know each other better through sharing our thoughts on anything under the sun. Nasi Lemak, Teh and Prata would never taste the same again without such jovial company, the aqua vitae of hall life. The freer university environment was made warm and livelier with friends going for lessons and University activities together. Moreover, having friends and professors to turn to during the stressful times of the academic year was reassuring. Regardless of whatever happened, there was always someone there who could understand and help. The small gestures made me feel home to a much larger family, one that was caring and self-sacrificing.

Staying in hall provided a chance for me to interact with many undergraduates from different cultures. From cultural performances and sports to service groups such as caring for the elderly and mentoring kids, participating in such an array of riveting activities was remarkable for me as a freshman. Inter-hall games strengthened the camaraderie amongst friends new and old as the competitive spirit took steam. The dance production totally bowled me over with laughter and intrigue with its exquisite dances and intricate drama. Furthermore, dinner and dance provided the time for all of us to reminisce and to give a final show of burlesque nuttiness for the year. Having no idea of what the JCRC was, I was persuaded by the president of the 19th JCRC, Vijay, into stepping up for a post in the committee. With much support from friends across all levels, teams and within the committee itself, I came to understand the hall residents and myself better. The journey through the past work year had been filled with many obstacles but having friends to share them with made it much easier to bear and more endearing. I would never have had it any other way. With so much attesting to the strength of what the spirit of Eusoffians can do, I have no second thoughts about having chosen Eusoff Hall. I am sure many other freshmen would share my sentiments and also, be proud to be a Eusoffian now, then and ever after. Rock on Staying in Eusoff certainly added much vibrancy into an otherwise, rather mundane and monotonous university life. From meeting new people to getting involved in various hall activities, the time spent in Eusoff will always be something I will think fondly of.

It's hard not to enjoy hall life especially when you are surrounded by jovial and friendly neighbours and block-mates. My initial worries about not being able to get along with others were completely set aside as I found myself enjoying the company of the D-blockers during block barbecues or random late night bantering sessions. While I still hold a grudge against them for tricking me into joining the hall pageant, at least they redeemed themselves by supporting me throughout the "ordeal" and cheered me on. Haha!

The hall pageant was definitely an event to remember. I did things that were beyond my level of comfort like dancing (!), posing as a rebel/terrorist and basically, doing other stuff that were potentially hazardous towards whatever self-image I had. However, on the night of the DnD itself, the sight of other hall people dressed in somewhat ridiculous and hilarious costumes took my mind off the pageant for a while.

If the pageant managed to stress me out, then IHG could have induced an anxiety attack. When I took on the role as girls' road relay captain, little did I know that the hopes of Eusoff to win IHG would be pinned on the shoulders of my team. Although the outcome was not what we all had wished for, I really do appreciate the efforts of the team and the encouragement from fellow Eusoffians.

For me, I guess what makes Eusoff a great hall is not being IHG champions or winning flag or rag but rather, the fragments of wonderful memories during my stay here that will always be embedded in my mind. With that, I'm definitely proud to say that I was once a Eusoffian.
