Story of the Cover

The very abstract nature of the cover opens it to interesting interpretations. It is a composition made up entirely of straight lines—the whole long and the short of it. The outer lines enclose a stage, with a mike to the left and artistically elegant spotlights to the right. On the higher level, it could be taken as a stage of life, with the figure on the left about to take steps into the journey of life. The future is depicted as being progressively brighter, with the spotlights getting bigger and more highly-arched. The frames enclosing the title and the year at the bottom stand for milestones of progress.

FACIT PORTABLE the new family typewriter

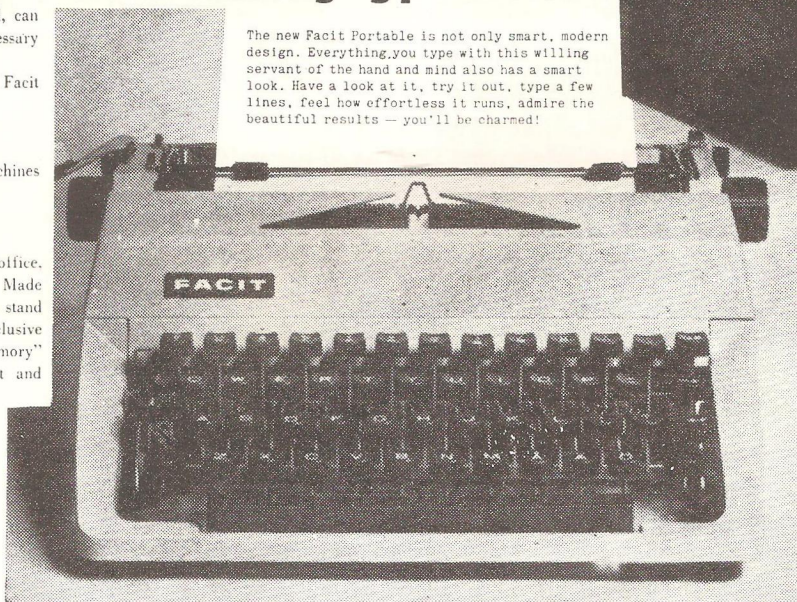

The handsome new black case, lined in red, can also be used as a week-end bag to hold accessory shirts, pyjamas, toiletries, etc.

Additional advantages offered by the new Facit Portable:

- Light alloy housing, cast in one piece
- New easy-grip knobs
- Same keyboard as on full-size office machines
- Full-width bottom plate
- Ball-bearing mounted type-basket
- Touch control

As a family typewriter or a standby in the office, this new portable really comes into its own. Made of Swedish steel, its robust construction will stand up to any kind of pounding, while the exclusive tabulator system with a "mechanical memory" ensures that your letters are always neat and attractive.

The new Facit Portable is not only smart, modern design. Everything you type with this willing servant of the hand and mind also has a smart look. Have a look at it, try it out, type a few lines, feel how effortless it runs, admire the beautiful results — you'll be charmed!

Introducing...

Our new Resident Fellow

Miss Chin Chen-Oi

Miss Chin graduated in 1963 from the National University at Taiwan and obtained her M.A. in 1965. In the same year she went on a Fullbright grant to read Chinese literature at Yale and was simultaneously holding a Yale Fellowship there too.

A keen enthusiast of Chinese drama, she is here studying the local street storytelling scenes. Her other interests include piano-playing and antique-collecting. She enjoys working with College girls and is making a comparative study of life at Eusoff with that at Taiwan University and the U.S.

A very warm welcome to you, Miss Chin!

The president sums it up . . .

I think it would not be wrong to say that this year Eusoff College has welcomed into its precincts a lot of enthusiastic and initiative girls who have taken an interest in the College right from the beginning of year as seen in the interesting and exciting elections of the J.C.R.C. and the winning of the first prize in the Rag and Flag Day floats—the first time in the last ten years.

Initiation and spirit of the girls saw the beginnings of a cheer group which certainly provided our teams to Kuala Lumpur with the vigour and psychological backing that they needed. A film society has also been formed and similarly the Raffles-Eusoff Voluntary Corps which has been doing good work. For the first time too, Eusoff College will be having their own Christmas Cards.

This year has certainly been a full one with high table dinners which were accorded the formality due to them. Eusoff Ball, and the year was highlighted by the Tenth Anniversary Celebrations which was certainly one of grandeur as it included the honourable Prime Minister of Singapore, Mr. Lee Kuan Yew and Mrs. Lee.

The year had its disappointments and disillusionments but on the whole it can be said that it was quite a successful one. On behalf of the J.C.R.C. I'd like to express our thanks and appreciation to the S.C.R.C., all residents of the hall whose co-operation without which we could never have made anything a success and I hope that the next J.C.R.C. will find an even more interested group of Eusoffians and make next year an even greater success.

Editorial

'Literate but not educated'—this glib is getting a little too well-known and becoming a little too widespread.

But need it be? Need we have none else but an impressive paper qualification to boast of? Need we be so wrapped up in the development of our minds that we lose sight of all other values?

It need not be and this more so in a hall of residence. Here we are not merely one in 3,000; We are one in 200 who together form the 'Hub' of the female population within the campus—EUSOFF COLLEGE.

We live under one roof with a localised few—literally live. We eat, we play, we study together. We rub shoulders all of the time, morning noon and night. And we begin to build up a common identity.

In striving to put up a prize-winning float, weren't we inspired by one aim—to uphold the image of our hall? In cheering wildly as a cheer team, weren't we saying we are on the same side?

Yes, in struggling side by side as one unit, we acquire a sense of belonging. And it's this sense of belonging that gives us a sense of loyalty, a sense of allegiance.

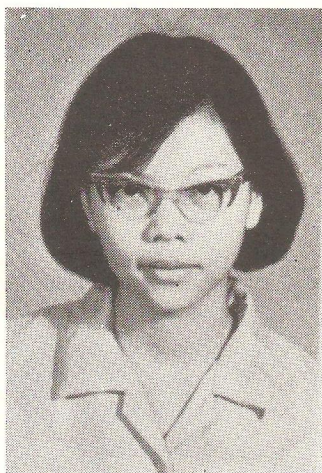

But also of importance, corporate living instills in us an attitude of giving and taking. We receive of its amenities, its conveniences and each other's comradeship. We give in return tolerance to the rights of others, thoughtfulness to others' comforts and above all we learn to subject ourselves to some necessary rules and regulations without which the machinery of corporate living cannot function.

These provide a wealth of education in themselves. And we, hostelites, above all others, have the means to be LITERATE AND EDUCATED.

Excerpts from Eusoff diary — 1968/69

- 7TH JUNE: RAG AND FLAG DAY and what a memorable day it was! memorable because our Float captured the first prize. "He watched the ads. and not the road." Well-done girls!
- 9TH JUNE: Celebration Supper to commemorate our success.
- 20TH JUNE: Dunearn Campfire. We collected one more laurel. This time, for winning the 2nd prize with our folk singing.
- 21ST JUNE: Orientation Ball. And who should win the "freshie-queen" contest but one of our number—Miss Jeanny Ng. Even runners-up was awarded to Miss Laura Tan, another Eusoffian.
- 22ND JUNE: Muslim Nite—the 1st of the "3 nites". Ever so many girls, adorned in sarong-kebaya, filled the dining room and tasted of luscious satay. The Eusoff-K.E. hop followed and the girls danced through the nite, to the strains of the K.E. Band.
- 25TH JUNE: Pleased to entertain Dr. & Mrs. Toh Chin Chye, guests of honour at this our 1st High Table Dinner.
- 1ST JULY: K.E.—Eusoff Games. Watch the Cheer Team in action! No small wonder that we should have won the netball and various other games.
- 5TH JULY: Hen-Party—one of our favourite traditions. We laughed. We giggled. How we truly enjoyed this "all-girls" affair.
- 19TH JULY: 3rd R.C. Games with K.L. How we were trounced! But next year, let's get the cup!
- 22ND JULY: 2nd High Table Dinner, this time with Mr. & Mrs. Barker as guests of honour.
- 24TH JULY: Eusoff College Campfire—exclusively for eusoffians. It was a "blazing success". 120 girls turned up, joined hands and sang lustily in the stillness of the night whilst munching roasted marshmallows.
- 14TH SEPT: Highlight of the year—EU-SOFF BALL. "Misty-eyed" girls dressed in splendour and glory lived up the theme "Misty". The ballroom and Eusoff surroundings were also cleverly decorated to convey "mistiness".
- 21ST SEPT: Birth of the Eusoff Film Society.
- 29TH SEPT: Line up, girls. We want to take a "family photograph" And what a large family it was!
- 4TH OCT—
6TH OCT: DAYS TO REMEMBER. 3 wonderful days in which we had our 10th Anniversary Celebrations.

There was a hen-party followed by supper. Then the grand, grand dinner made so special by the presence of our Distinguished Prime Minister, the Honourable Mr. Lee Kuan Yew and Mrs. Lee.

There was also a forum "Women and tertiary Education" and a series of games played between past and present residents. All in all they were days which we shall always hold dear.

10TH OCT: Chinese Nite. In proper Chinese tradition, we had a 9 course dinner. And of course, every single dish was "swiped" clean.

27TH NOV: Indian Nite. Sari-clad girls looking never so graceful as before were given a taste of the famous "Gomez" chicken curry.

21ST DEC: X'mas Party—the presence of lecturers and their wives made the evening thoroughly enjoyable.

26TH JAN '69: Term Closes & so ends another academic year.

Girl of the Year

Miss Heliliah Yusof receiving her prize from the principal.

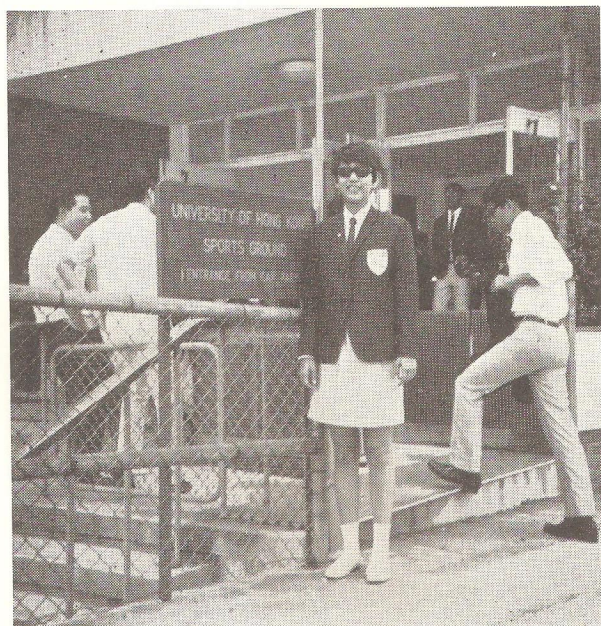

Almost everyone of us knows who Heliliah is. She is a 3rd Year Law student and hails from Kuala Lumpur, although her birth place is Ipoh. She has stayed in Eusoff for many years and her pleasant smile and sweet nature is familiar to most of us.

Her services to Eusoff were not of mean significance; she was library chairman during the year 1966-67 and this year she is again on the JCRC as assistant general secretary. Besides that, she also participates in the activities of the Law Society. The games she plays include badminton and netball.

She has enjoyed her stay in Eusoff and hopes she will still be around.

Congratulations Heliliah! and all the best to you.

Sports Girl of the Year

A very popular figure in Eusoff is our Sports Secretary, Chan Mo Lin. She has been voted in as Sports Girl of the Year. She is a second year Law student who has successfully blended sports with studies. In her first year in Eusoff she was the Badminton Captain in Sports. Extending her activities outside Eusoff, she took part in the Badminton Varsity Open Championships 1968. Mo Lin and Lau Aie Teck were the double champions, with Mo Lin distinguishing herself again as the singles runner-up. In August, 1968, she represented the Singapore University in inter-varsity games in Hong Kong, competing with students from Malaya University and Hong Kong University. To this light-hearted, fun-loving girl, we wish her all the best for the future!

OUR FRIENDS FROM ABROAD

MEET

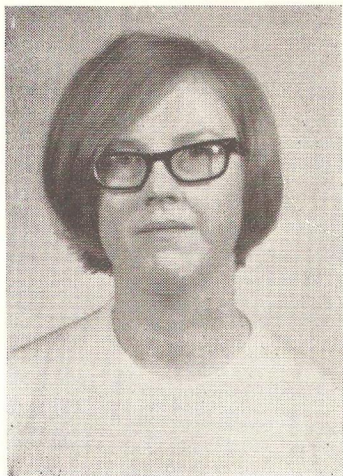

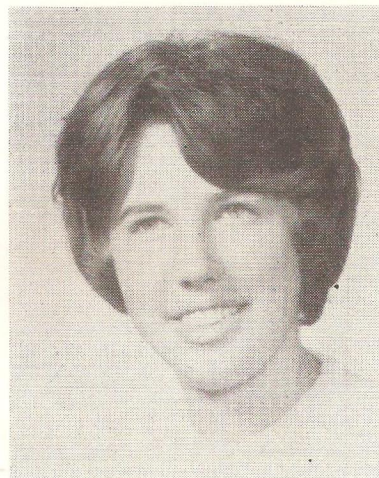

Suzuki Itoko (on right)

A very sweet, charming little Japanese girl, Suzuki came to Singapore University to do her post-graduate work in political science. Gracing our functions in her traditional kimonos she has added colour to the local scene. A graduate of the International Christian University she also takes part in our activities. When approached with the question as to what she liked best about Singapore, she replied with alacrity—"Chillies!"

Nancy Miller

Nancy hails from Detroit, Michigan and has been attached to the University of Knox, Illinois for 3 years, reading the liberal arts besides also reading the natural sciences. She is here in Singapore University to do part of her B.A. and is reading history.

Nan Mcferren

Nan, an American citizen, born in North Carolina obtained her B.A. in international relationship from the American University, Washington, D.C. She proceeded to the University of Minnesota for her M.A. and was sent to Singapore University on a Minnesota-Students'-Association scholarship. She hopes to obtain her M.A. in American studies and is at present, reading political science in our varsity.

STATELESS

*You come from a land of river and jungle,
From a Chinese family of Chinese leaders
—No wonder you feel for the children schooled
In a channel your government cares not to unclog.
Listening to you arguing with Dayak friend
Over Chinese schools compelled to close,
How glad I am this Country's streams
All lead to open sea.
Though I dream of a home in a greenland,
And of children all playing in trees,
I will be content with a Housing Board flat,
And the Community Centre swing.
"The Hills Are For the People" the Exhibition declares,
"So let us preserve what we may",
Let us dig more gardens, and use the dustbin,
Let us watch our step and live.
—These are the streets my heart is in,
Though I have no papers to claim
A loyal affection, a duty of love,
—Only a life and a dream.*

YEOH JEOK ENG

* This was a slogan on preservation of hills in Singapore. The exhibition referred to was on Singapore: Past, Present & Future—sometime in late July.

LIBRARY

*Am I here
Drowsing my spectacles
Drooping slipping down my nose by ages;
A little hazy, hey crazy—
Listless as a sick elephant—
Ever heard of an elephant sick?*

*People . . .
Browsing straining
Eating words alive!
In vain hope that these
May timely leap out again (lively devils)—on Exam. day.*

*Silence brooding
Machines mechanically brewing
Cold, cold air
Muffled rumbling humming. . .
All my senses are reduced to
One numbness.*

*Am I really here
Undergraduate, University of Singapore, Doozing in the Library?*

THP

I AM LIKE A BIRD CAGED

*I am like a bird caged;
Within something is struggling to be free:
But I am helpless for myself*

*I am like a bumble-bee;
Where I go I buzz and fuss
But it is all a farce
Of frustrated emptiness
For the Honey I crave,
(Oh seeking slave!)—
Is nameless.*

FOR MY SENSITIVE FRIEND

*You You You, Yes You
You with your insidious eyes
Cat-like when you want; that shy away Desiring.*

*You Being of mixed-up feelings
Of small boy cruelty and generosity
Of spirit of conquest.
You said I was selfish and Had no feelings, because I would not let you kiss me.
Notch.*

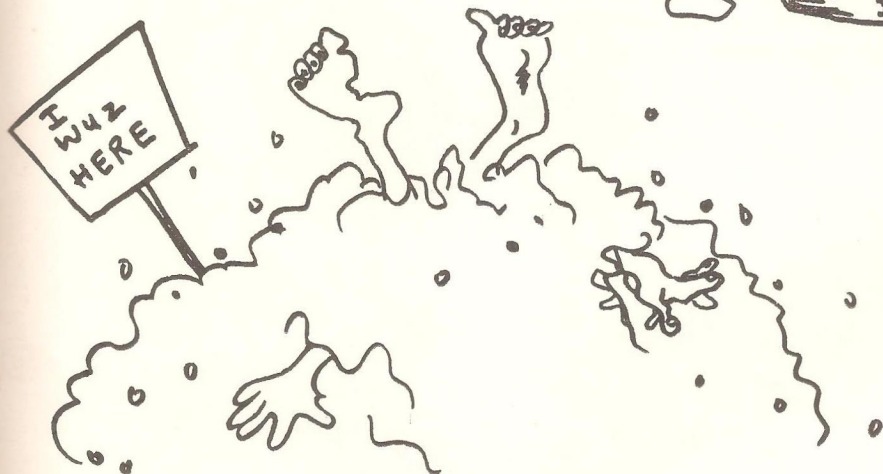

*Because you mustn't.
Because I say so. Notch.
How I marvel at your fine sensitivity
Capacity to feel.
Capacity to hurt.*

*You lark, you songbird you darling of the Lights
On your off-duty hours you have a little time for Other Things?
(To live the full rounded life it is necessary to taste of such)
So singlemindedly seek them
And carelessly trample and mangle
That of which you are so ignorant
Yet would have.*

EUSOFF PRIMERS...

Laundry—Hobbyist

is it Santa Claus?
is it an Everest climber?
what's this figure doubled over under a stuffed-up pillowcase?
it's only the laundry-hobbyist.
some people collect 'pao'-papers—others collect lamp-posts—
but SHE collects laundry.
collect, collect, collect for week on lengthy week till laundry ages into vintage prime . . .
then comes a fine day
wash, wash, wash
the sudsy-mountains pile and pile, the bubbles fly around the wash-clothes also pile and pile . . .
now WHERE is our hobbyist to be found?

The Coke Addict

See the Coke Machine, it sits there, Silent, square and red.
see this girl,
she is a coke addict.
see the 20 cent fortune in her hand shining like the hope in her eyes.
the girl sees the machine
she clutches the coin convulsively
she trembles
she drops the coin
she picks it up
she quivers expectantly with concentration she drops the coin in the slot
with radiant look she turns the handle
But alas! alack!
the NOTHING, she happen.
her smile shrinks—she waits
but the nothing, she continues to happen.
her eyes glaze over the smile freezes
she peels the hatch open
she yanks, she kicks, she gnashes, she grinds,
she growls,
her eyeballs wheel around the air is thick with the sounds of violence.
at last, defeated
she shuffles away,
kicking aside the debris of broken teeth.

The Pigeon—hole watcher

look at this girl
she is a queer bird.
twice a day she vulturizes,
vultch, vultch, vultch
waiting for the postman.
wait, wait, wait
an intense look shoots from each eye they focus on the pigeon-holes they meet — they cross at last the welcome footsteps sound
the letters fall in place
she swoops
with fevered eyes and clammy hands
she grasps the prize and takes off on cloud nine.

"If I had to be born a girl in Asia"

(Reproduced from a speech made by Mr. Lee Kuan Yew at the Eusoff 10th. Anniversary Dinner on 5th Oct. 1968.)

WOMEN have pushed themselves well into the campus of the University of Singapore—nearly 50% of the undergrads are of the fairer sex. Although this augurs well for the next generation, there will be problems like the conflict between home and work. The creche and kindergarten are inadequate substitutes for the home."

"Perhaps we shall have to learn like the advanced societies, that the investment a country puts into its women does not give the same kinds of returns one expects to get from its male citizens. For five to seven years after marriage there may be a hiatus in the economic returns as the woman devotes most of her time to raising the family."

Mr. Lee then went on to give two reasons why, if he had to be born a girl in Asia, he would choose to be born in Singapore.

"First, in nearly all the other countries in Asia there are patriarchal societies where the male ascendancy is so complete that the female is almost an atrophied social version of the male. Next, they are mostly polygamous societies."

"Singapore is a society where the weight of tradition is least stifling and the debris of history can be more easily sloughed off. When the traditional social fabric of old societies do not offer the woman an equal place, it is extremely difficult to change this quickly. This was true not only of non-industrialised Asian nations. It was also true of the Japanese. They are a highly industrialised nation. But the process of modernisation has not altered the social relationships between their males and females."

Back to Singapore:

"Second, as a centre of communications exposed to almost all contemporary thinking via the newspaper, the cinema, the television screen, contacts with visiting men and women and new ideas, our society is stimulated by what has been and is happening in all the main centres of human civilisation. So, we are better prepared to meet the challenge of the modern world."

"Thirdly, there are very few countries where women have equal educational opportunities and equal pay."

"Singapore women pay separate income tax on their earned income. Recently, when government servants had their salaries and salary scales revised, the government decided that it would convert all women officers, like the man, to the new salary scales as if they were married, with children.

Now women in government service have an advance over the men—the men cannot have maternity leave!"

This however, leads to the question whether these benefits might not tend in the long run to leave most women graduates in government service as the private sector shies off the equal pay plus maternity benefits given to women.

The Prime Minister asked: "What will happen to the next generation? What quality of men or women will they be?"

"First, it depends on what genetic qualities we have in our present generation. I found that when visiting the schools, most of the children in the not-so-good schools have brothers and sisters by the dozens but in the better schools children of educated parents have only 1 or 2 or 3 in the family."

"So, unless the better equipped stake out a bigger part of the future for their progeny, then the future will be that much poorer for all."

Educational experts, psychologists and physiologists agreed that education began almost from the day the mother communicated with the child, not from the day the child goes to kindergarten or school. There are no substitutes for the nurturing and

Freshie Queen 1968

The title of Freshie Queen was contested by nine contestants at a ball held at the 'El Amigo' Niteclub which marked the end of 'Orientation Period'.

Eusoff College was honoured when Jeanny Ng (business-manager of this annual) carried the title away with Laura Tan, another Eusoffian, second. Miss Linda Neo was third.

nourishing a child received from his or her parents, principally the mother. And there is a very big difference between an educated and an uneducated mother. Let us for the purposes of argument, accept that educational and social performances, more or less are equal to intelligence and other qualities which make for better performance. If you look at the population I.Q. pyramid of Singapore, then as a community we want that pyramid to get steeper and higher.

"At the moment that pyramid is getting broader and lower. And this is happening in several parts of the world."

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

We had our successes and disappointments this year.

Our first 'hop' with King Edward Hall, following 'Malay Nite' was a tremendous success (but a similar one held at a later date was a failure). This filled the air with unpleasantness for the Eusoffians and the Raffle-sians.

Our Committee also organised the traditional 'Hen Party' which proved very interesting for the residents and guests. We had a bar-becue well attended by the residents (though the marshmallows were melted by the heat before we could roast them.)

The annual Eusoff Ball was a tremendous success, the 'Dophin Combo' providing the music for the night.

The College 10th. Anniversary celebrations was greatly anticipated. Although it was organised under the auspices of the SCRC led by the principal, many residents helped to organise it and made it a success. The three day celebrations included a fancy dress netball match, games, Hen's party and forums. The highlights of the celebrations was the formal dinner graced by the Prime Minister Mr. Lee Kuan Yew and Mrs. Lee, guests of honour, other dignitaries from the University, former Eusoffians and Eusoffians.

The Finale for the year was the Christmas Dinner enjoyed by one and all.

CHEER TEAM REPORT:

Remember those 12 cheerful-looking girls in their red and white uniforms, with their red and white tassels waving in the air amidst the din they created?—well then you do remember the Eusoff cheer team! Our cheer team was formed during the first term of this year, with the sole object of accompanying our sports team to the 3rd R.C.—Eusoff games in K. L.

Our purpose is to encourage and cheer our sports teams in their various matches and to keep the Eusoff spirit ever glowing even in moments of defeat. To achieve this we have coined numerous cheers and a Eusoff song which we hope will bring back happy memories . . . memories of our victory over K.E. and memories of our stay at 3rd R.C.

We sincerely hope our idea will be carried on next year with the same or even more zeal and enthusiasm.

Inter-Floor Games (First Term)

Inter-floor games have always been used as a means to detect the various sports talents in Eusoff. Simultaneously, it serves as a "getting-to-know you" for the residents in the first term. The winners of the various games were:

Table-Tennis	-	Front block 1st floor
Badminton	-	Back block top floor
Carroms	-	Left block
Hockey	-	Front block top floor
Netball	-	Back block 1st floor

Front block 1st floor and Back block top floor tied as the overall winners and "shared" the challenge cup donated by Dr. Nalla Tan.

K. E.—Eusoff Games

This keenly contested series was won again by Eusoff. We won 3 out of the 5 games:

Hockey	-	-	-	K.E.
Carroms	-	-	-	K.E.
Netball	-	-	-	E.C.
Badminton	-	-	-	E.C.
Table-Tennis	-	-	-	E.C.

Congratulations, Eusoffians!

Eusoff—3rd R.C. Games (July 19th - 21st)

To all those who went up to Kuala Lumpur for the games, it has been a most pleasant and wonderful week-end. The 3rd R.C. proved too strong for us. They won four of the five games played and retained yet another year of the Challenge cup donated by our Principal.

Table-Tennis	-	-	-	3rd. R.C.
Hockey	-	-	-	3rd. R.C.
Carroms	-	-	-	3rd. R.C.
Netball	-	-	-	3rd. R.C.
Badminton	-	-	-	3rd. E.C.

Back Row (From Left): Sauk Keow (carroms captain), Virginia (netball captain). Front Row (From Left): Hamidah (hockey captain), Mew Hoong (table-tennis captain), Mo Lin (sports Sec.), Indra (athletics captain).

The hospitality they have extended to us is still fresh in our minds. We are looking forward to hosting them next year.

11th Biennial Games in Hongkong

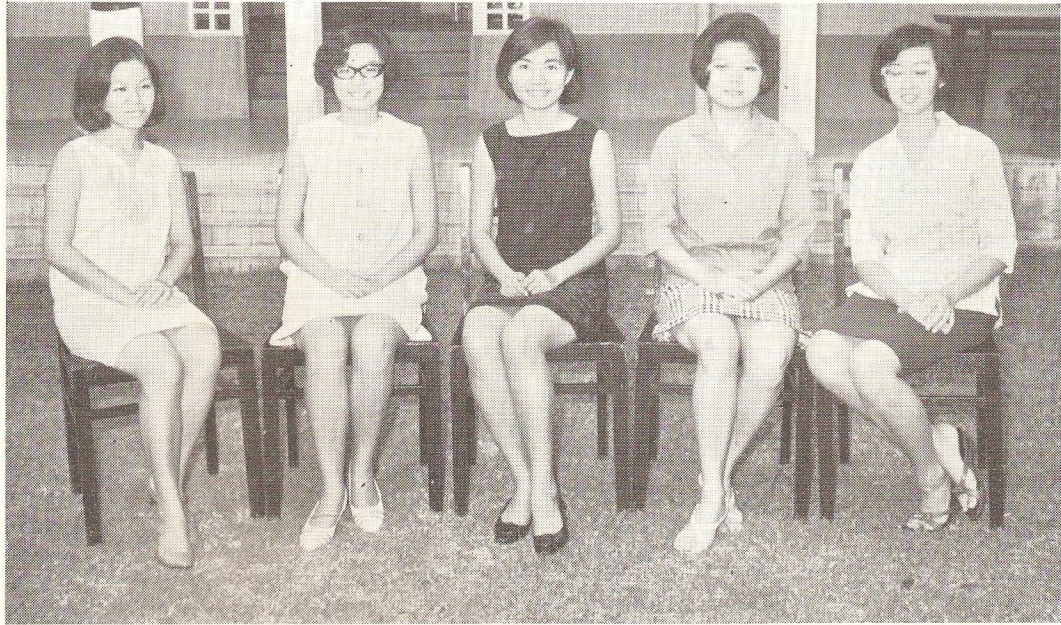

Three residents from Eusoff were selected for the table-tennis and badminton teams. Pui Saw Kian and Elizabeth Tai for the table-tennis team and Chan Mo Lin for the badminton team.

Athletics

The response for athletics was poor as compared to last year. Eusoff emerged 2nd. in the 4 x 100 metre track event.

THE CO-OP STORE 1968

The Co-op opened in late June this year with a capital of $412, raised by issuing shares at $1. The purpose of the store is to meet the needs of our residents rather than to make a huge profit.

Learning from last year's experience with regard to the extension of credit, we tried to do away with this (abused) privilege. However, when it was evident that this resulted in some inconvenience, we reverted to the old practice of allowing credit. Thus far, we managed well. But we had some damage done to our goods by ants; also, one lot of syrup, kept for too long, turned bad. Nevertheless, the Co-op is making a profit —the actual amount will be known only when we have closed our accounts at the end of the year.

The Co-op was closed during the first vacation, but in view of the greater number of residents here during the second vacation, the store was opened on alternate days.

Since the Co-op exists to serve you, we welcome any suggestions as to how we can do this more efficiently and satisfactorily.

Han Ah Yew,
Charlotte Wong,
Eileen Lim.

EUSOFF FILM 'SOCIETY'

Protem-Committee

Chairman:	Jane Wong
Secretary:	Han Ah Yew
Treasurer:	Cheng Siew Lian
Business Managers:	Khoo Kim Choo, Liak Teng Lin
Committee Members:	Penny Wee, Liau Geok Fah, Tan Hiang Ping, Cheong Siew Teck.

The Film 'Society' is something new and something different for all undergraduates, including non-Eusoffians as well. As movie-going is almost everybody's favourite past-time this society was formed so that some films may be economically and conveniently viewed in the comfort of the Eusoff Lounge.

Although it was formed only in mid-September the Committee members worked zealously towards the goal of showing four films, once fortnightly in two months. One of them "The Story of Esther Costello" was screened in conjunction with the College's Tenth Anniversary Celebrations.

Attendance by non-members was particularly conspicuous at the filming of "The Collector" and "The Manchurian Candidate". Could the preference for mystery and intrigue explain this? Or was the main attraction the documentary "Years of Lightning" on the former President of the United States, J. F. Kennedy in the case of the latter?

For reasons of economy one of the Committee members, Miss Khoo Kim Choo, took over the job of operating the Projector after some tuition from a Rafflesian.

In a short space of time, much had been done: thanks to the enthusiastic Committee members, (who for the most part contributed to the successful functioning of the Film 'Society'); to the Rafflesians esp. Mr. Lim Seng Kit for their kind assistance and to all those who had at one time or other lent a hand.

We wish success to the future of the Film 'Society'.

RAFFLES-EUSOFF WELFARE CORPS

The Corps came into being early this academic year with only a handful of interested residents from Raffles Hall and Eusoff College. Drawn together by mutual concern for the sick, the handicapped and the underprivileged this small body of students were determined to bring comfort and cheer to these people and also to help them in whatever way possible to overcome their obstacles, problems and other inconveniences. The membership grew in number as news of the Corps spread around until at present, we have 50 members. In the initial stages, the Corps started work in Woodbridge, Tan Tock Seng Hospital and the Spastic Association. Valuable advice and help has been given by the two advisers, Mrs. Hon and Miss Koh Tai Ann.

In Woodbridge, a mobile library was started. For two hours on every Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, some of the students would wheel magazines and books to the men's and women's wards. In the process of loaning out magazines students made efforts to make friends with the patients. This service was also extended to patients in the Chronic Sick Hospital. Most of these patients here are usually alone or deserted by families. The hope of being discharged is very slim, thus most of their lives will be spent in loneliness and boredom in the hospital. Therefore it does them good to have magazines to read and visitors to talk to.

Twice a week in Tan Tock Seng some of the students would push trolleys of soaps, toothbrushes, toothpastes and other little things the patients might need to the wards. This saves the patients from a lot of inconvenience of walking long distances. This is one way where students get to know the patients.

In the Spastic Association, 16 students helped in the classrooms, the occupational therapy department and in the playing field. However, since there were already a lot of other voluntary workers we felt that our service there was redundant. Thus our work was terminated at the Spastics and re-channelled to the Toa Payoh Girls Home. Here we gave tuition to the older girls, and organised games, singing and other recreational activities. We would have liked to do more, but because of lack of facilities and funds our activities were very much reduced.

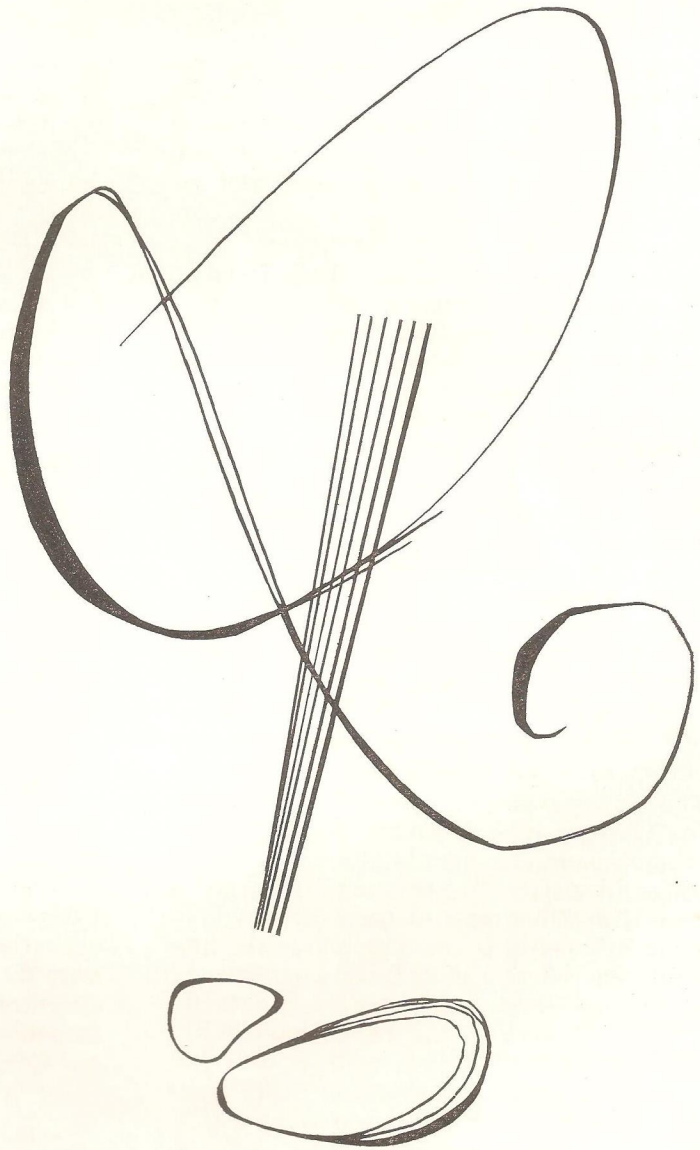

Short term activities of the Corps consists of selling tickets for various charitable organisations, helping organise Christmas Parties for underprivileged children and offering our services for any welfare functions.

At the moment activities have slowed down considerably because of the coming examination. Visits to Toa Payoh Girls Home have been terminated because of the school holidays.

The Corps has been formed and good work done. It has been a good year and now with the experience we have gained, we hope to carry out our activities with more effectiveness next year. We all believe we can do so much if we try our very best. May our Corps grow in spirit as in force.

KHOO KIM CHOO
Secretary
